policies of land reform and industrialization and adopt a new conception of history Ultimately Shokr argues these efforts set the stage for the construction of a postcolonial republic under Gamal Abdel Nasser where national liberation became equated with national development State, Private Enterprise and Economic Change in Egypt, 1918-1952 Robert L. Tignor, 2017-03-14 This study of Egyptian efforts to diversify the country's economy between the end of World War 1 and the Nasser coup d'etat of 1952 focuses on the nascent bourgeoisie and the relationships of its segments to one another Originally published in 1984 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Locked Out of Development Steffen Hertog, 2023-01-19 This Element argues that the low dynamism of low to mid income Arab economies is explained with a set of inter connected factors constituting a segmented market economy These include an over committed and interventionist state with limited fiscal and institutional resources deep insider outsider divides among firms and workers that result from and reinforce wide ranging state intervention and an equilibrium of low skills and low productivity that results from and reinforces insider outsider divides These mutually reinforcing features undermine encompassing cooperation between state business and labor While some of these features are generic to developing countries others are regionally specific including the relative importance and historical ambition of the state in the economy and closely related the relative size and rigidity of the insider coalitions created through government intervention Insiders and outsiders exist everywhere but the divisions are particularly stark immovable and consequential in the Arab world Foreign Publications Accessions List United States.
