Shakespeare's Gardens Shakespeare Birthplace Trust,Jackie Bennett,2021-06-08 Shakespeare s Gardens is a highly illustrated informative book about the gardens that William Shakespeare knew as a boy and tended as a man published to coincide with the 400th anniversary of Shakespeare's death in April 2016. This anniversary will be the focus of literary celebration of the man's life and work throughout the English speaking world and beyond. The book will focus on the gardens that Shakespeare knew including the five gardens in Stratford upon Avon in which he gardened and explored. From his birthplace in Henley Street to his childhood playground at Mary Arden's Farm to his courting days at Anne Hathaway's Cottage and his final home at New Place where he created a garden to reflect his fame and wealth. Cared for by the Shakespeare Birthplace Trust, these gardens are continually evolving to reflect our ongoing knowledge of his life. The book will also explore the plants that Shakespeare knew and wrote about in 17th century England, their use in his work and the meanings that his audiences would have picked up on including mulberries, roses, daffodils, pansies, herbs and a host of other flowers. More than four centuries after the playwright lived, whenever we think of thyme, violets or roses, we more often than not still remember a quote from the 39 plays and 154 sonnets written by him.

Today 700 million Chinese citizens, more than fifty-four percent of the population, live in cities. The mass migration of rural populations to urban centers increased rapidly following economic reforms of the 1990s, and serious problems such as overcrowding, lack of health services, and substandard housing have arisen in these areas since China's urban citizens have taken to the courts for redress and fought battles over failed urban renewal projects, denial of civil rights, corruption, and abuse of power. In Power versus Law in Modern China, Qiang Fang and Xiaobing Li examine four important legal cases that took place from 1995 to 2013 in the major cities of Wuhan, Xuzhou, Shanghai, and Chongqing. In these cases, citizens protested demolition of property as well as corruption among city officials, developers, and landlords but were repeatedly denied protection or compensation from the courts. Fang and Li explore how new interest groups, comprised of entrepreneurs and Chinese graduates of Western universities, have collaborated with the CCP-controlled local governments to create new power bases in cities. Drawing on newly available official sources, private collections, and interviews with Chinese administrators, judges, litigants, petitioners, and legal experts, this interdisciplinary analysis reveals the powerful and privileged will most likely continue to exploit the legal asymmetry that exists between the courts and citizens.
