Gardens For Small Country Houses:

Gardens for Small Country Houses Gertrude Jekyll, Sir Lawrence Weaver, Lawrence Weaver, 1914 Gardens for Small Country Houses Gertrude Jekyll, Lawrence Weaver, 2021-03-22 Gardens for Small Country Houses is a wonderful guide to English country gardens by Gertrude Jekyll and Lawrence Weaver. It offers useful information and guidance on designing and creating beautiful country gardens with reference to real examples complete with descriptions, photographs, ground plans and diagrams. This volume will appeal to those with an interest in traditional English country gardening and it would make for a fantastic addition to collections of related literature. Contents include: Millmead, Bramley, Surrey; Two Gardens in Forest Clearings; A Garden in Berkshire; Westbrook, Godalming; A Garden in West Surrey; Highmount, Guildford; The Treatment of Small Sites; On Hillside; Garden Steps and Stairways; Balustrades and Walls; Climbing and Other Plants etc. Gertrude Jekyll (1843-1932) was a British garden designer, horticulturist, photographer, craftswoman, artist and writer. She is responsible for designing and creating over 400 gardens in the United Kingdom, Europe and the United States, as well as writing more than 1,000 articles for related magazines. She is credited with having had a significant influence on gardening by both British and American enthusiasts. Many vintage books such as this are increasingly scarce and expensive. We are republishing this volume now in an affordable, modern, high-quality edition complete with a specially commissioned new introduction on the history of gardening.

Gardens for Small Country Houses (Classic Reprint) Gertrude Jekyll, 2015-08-05. Excerpt from Gardens for Small Country Houses. After the publication of the first and second editions of this book, kindly readers indicated many points on which they thought our advice to the makers of gardens could usefully be expanded, and we gladly met their wishes. Perhaps we may without offence be pleased that during the currency of the third edition few such suggestions came to us. So it happens that this fourth edition is little different from the third, but since the latter appeared the times have changed greatly. Without seeking to fill the role of the gloomy prophet, we cannot escape the belief that the changes in social life and habit, which are the mark of our economic troubles, are striking at the maintenance of great gardens as of great houses in this pleasant land. But if those who have built up, kept and loved so well their spacious gardens must needs be content with smaller houses, and if, as seems likely, the wider distribution of wealth will lead to-morrow to the creation of many more small country houses, the art of making gardens for such houses will increase in importance. If this prove true, we hope our work will still achieve some measure of usefulness and help us, in Dr Johnson's phrase, to keep our friendship in repair with many unknown and too appreciative readers.
