And despite hostility to their work both in the postwar era and today Beat works have made it into syllabi conference presentations journal articles and monographs The Beats and the Academy deepens our understanding of this relationship by emphasizing how institutional friction between the Beats and institutions of higher education has shaped our understanding of Beat Generation literature and culture and what this relationship between Beat writers and the academy might suggest about their legacy for future scholars A Sense of the Whole Mark Gonnerman, 2015-06-09 In 1997 Mark Gonnerman organized a yearlong research workshop on Gary Snyder's Mountains and Rivers Without End at the Stanford Humanities Center Members of what came to be known among faculty students and diverse community members as the Mountains Rivers Workshop met regularly to read and discuss Snyder's epic poem Here the poem served as a commons that turned the multiversity into a university once again if only for a moment The Workshop invited writers teachers and scholars from Northern California and Japan to speak on various aspects of Snyder's great accomplishment This book captures the excitement of these gatherings and invites readers to enter the poem through essays and talks by David Abram Wendell Berry Carl Bielefeldt Tim Dean Jim Dodge Robert Hass Stephanie Kaza Julia Martin Michael McClure Nanao Sakaki and Katsunori Yamazato It includes an interview with Gary Snyder appendices and other resources for further study Snyder once introduced a reading of this work with reference to whitewater rapids saying most of his writing is like a Class III run where you will do just fine on your own but that Mountains and Rivers is more like Class V if you're going to make it to take out you need a guide As a collection of commentaries and background readings this companion volume enhances each reader's ability to find their way into and through an adventurous and engaging work of art The Works of Allen Ginsberg, 1941-1994 Bill Morgan, 1995-02-28 Avant garde poet and popular culture icon Allen Ginsberg has been one of the world's most important writers for over 40 years This comprehensive bibliography covering the years 1941 to 1994 was prepared with the cooperation of the poet himself All books periodicals photographs recordings films and miscellaneous appearances are listed here Entries are grouped in chapters according to type of work and each entry provides full descriptive bibliographic information Allen Ginsberg is perhaps the most famous poet of our time as well as one of our most prolific writers His subjects range from Buddhist studies to drug research to gay rights to political issues of every description from Vietnam to censorship Ginsberg gave the author access to personal files and as a result every appearance of Ginsberg's writings in the English language is noted This bibliography is a comprehensive descriptive record of all of Ginsberg's works The volume contains descriptive annotations of every book pamphlet and broadside by Ginsberg It also contains complete descriptions of every contribution by Ginsberg to the works of others In addition all periodical contributions recordings films and miscellaneous publications are listed Due to Ginsberg's recent acceptance as a photographer of note a special section identifies all of his published photographs Entries are arranged in chapters according to the type of work to facilitate ease of use As a result this book presents a history of Ginsberg's works and traces the evolution of his writings over a period of linearity Then following his mother's diagnosis with breast cancer he returns home to California and takes part in an annual circuit of Mount Tamalpais tracing a route made famous by Beat poets Gary Snyder Philip Whalen and Allen Ginsberg And then finally he meets up with a quirky hydrogeologist in Butte Montana and joins his walk around the Berkeley Pit Complex the largest Superfund site in the country At once uncommonly humble and thrillingly transcendent blurring the boundaries of inner and outer landscapes The Way Around models what it means to experience a true revolution of heart and home for the flourishing of all

Fieldworks Lytle Shaw, 2013-01-22 Fieldworks offers a historical account of the social rhetorical and material attempts to ground art and poetry in the physicality of a site Arguing that place oriented inquiries allowed poets and artists to develop new experimental models of historiography and ethnography Lytle Shaw draws out the shifting terms of this practice from World War II to the present through a series of illuminating case studies Beginning with the alternate national genealogies unearthed by William Carlos Williams in Paterson and Charles Olson in Gloucester Shaw demonstrates how subsequent poets sought to ground such inquiries in concrete social formations to in effect live the poetics of place Gary Snyder in his back to the land familial compound Kitkitdizze Amiri Baraka in a black nationalist community in Newark Robert Creeley and the poets of Bolinas California in the capacious now of their poet run town Turning to the work of Robert Smithson who called one of his essays an appendix to Paterson and who in turn has exerted a major influence on poets since the 1970s Shaw then traces the emergence of site specific art in relation both to the poetics of place and to the larger linguistic turn in the humanities considering poets including Clark Coolidge Bernadette Mayer and Lisa Robertson By putting the poetics of place into dialog with site specificity in art Shaw demonstrates how poets and artists became experimental explicators not just of concrete locations and their histories but of the discourses used to interpret sites more broadly It is this dual sense of fieldwork that organizes Shaw's groundbreaking history of site specific poetry

Rhizomes Nathalie Ramière, Rachel Varshney, 2021-02-19

This volume Rhizomes is a challenging path into a very multidisciplinary set of papers. Papers range across cultural studies and film to applied linguistics to sociolinguistics and as gathered in this one volume the result of postgraduate student research of a very high order they force readers to think critically of disciplines their assumed boundaries and most importantly the usefulness of assuming the enduring value of such boundaries. This is not to say that anything goes but the diversity of areas under scrutiny means that sharper re thinking of one's own comfort zones is necessarily one key outcome when confronted with a volume like this. This is one advantage of the selected papers besides the obvious one of having at your finger tips a simple way of delving into a challenging diversity. Brian Ridge, Campion College, Sydney. This is a wonderful collection of papers which demonstrates the power and vitality of contemporary literary and cultural research. The scope of the papers, the diversity of the subject matter and the willingness of their authors to work across disciplinary boundaries work together to create an exemplary collection of research for the twenty first century multidisciplinary, multigeneric and multimodal like 21st century texts and media. Greg Hainge's opening paper sets the stage for the diverse and engaging papers that follow. With his own examples of rhizomatics drawn from music, Greg immediately has the reader acknowledging the multidisciplinary and multimodality of contemporary texts and so the need for research that can address the richness and complexity of these texts. In Part 1 we have two papers that address the issue of the limitations of conventional research methodology in their own fields: language acquisition, film studies and propose alternative and more productive methodologies. The exciting thing about this section is that these are fields normally considered very different and without much to say to one another and yet the combination works to create a dialogue that extends across these and many other fields of research. Most importantly both challenge the dichotomising of research and analytical methods that has worked to impoverish their fields and the research on which it is based. Part 2 presents papers on a range of marginalised social positionings and experiences and in the process demonstrates both the power of research to uncover what has been ignored or elided in contemporary histories: how many westerners know of the long history of Chinese women in film. Or of an Aboriginal Taiwanese literature as well as the power of new perspectives, new ways of thinking the research subject to open up areas of study such as dating manuals and country music both conventionally dismissed as inherently trivial and/or sexist. In Part 3 the papers all play brilliantly with the notion of connectivity demonstrating for readers the inextricability of texts and meaning systems: verbal, visual and other with the cultural contexts in which they operate and so the diverse ways they may be deployed. These papers banish forever any reliance on a formalist reading or methodology for the analysis of text and meaning. And again the range of subject matter is breath taking and argues the need for cross disciplinary, transdisciplinary and multidisciplinary research practice. Part 4 takes the reader into the realm of transformations challenging the ways in which textual and systemic changes articulate profound cultural changes in the societies that produce them. So we learn about grammatical interventions in the Chinese language as feminine and neuter pronouns are added to the gender free

Chinese language and consider the major cultural change that both caused this change and is subsequently produced by it We consider the ways in which cinema has evolved as an art form under the influence of its material and verbal technologies And we consider the ways in which Chinese poetry has entered a range of cultural practices in the west and the east and again consider how its traditional meanings and significance are maintained and communicate to these new contexts and the nature of the transcultural experience this generates For the academic student or interested reader this collection offers a breath taking scope of subject matter and a vital and engaged approach to the material that makes this collection a research page turner Professor Anne Cranny Francis Department of Critical and Cultural Studies Macquarie University Sydney

The Deep Ecology Movement Alan Drengson, Yuichi Inoue, 1995-02-02 Deep ecology a term coined by noted Norwegian philosopher Arne Naess is a worldwide grassroots environmental movement that seeks to redress the shallow and piecemeal approach of technology based ecology Its followers share a profound respect for the earth's interrelated natural systems and a sense of urgency about the need to make profound cultural and social changes in order to respond and sustain the long term health of the planet This comprehensive introduction to the Deep Ecology movement brings together Naess groundbreaking work with essays by environmental thinkers and activists responding to and expanding on its philosophical and practical aspects Contributors include George Sessions Gary Snyder Alan Drengson Dill Devall Freya Matthews Warwick Fox David Rothenberg Michael E Zimmerman Patsy Hallen Dolores LaChapelle Pat Fleming Joanna Macy John Rodman and Andrew McLaughlin The Authors offer diverse viewpoints from ecofeminist scientific and purely philosophical approaches to Christian Buddhist and Gandhian based principles Their essays show how social technological psychological philosophical and institutional issues are all fundamentally related to our attitudes and values toward the natural world Literature of Nature Patrick D. Murphy, Terry Gifford, Katsunori Yamazato, 1998 First Published in 1999 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Bioregionalism Michael Vincent McGinnis, 2005-07-28 Bioregionalism is the first book to explain the theoretical and practical dimensions of bioregionalism from an interdisciplinary standpoint focusing on the place of bioregional identity within global politics Leading contributors from a broad range of disciplines introduce this exciting new concept as a framework for thinking about indigenous peoples local knowledge globalization science global environmental issues modern society conservation history education and restoration Bioregionalism's emphasis on place and community radically changes the way we confront human and ecological issues The Beat Book Anne Waldman, 2007-07-10 The Beat movement exploded into American culture in the early 1950s with the force of prophecy Not just another literary school it was an artistic and social revolution William S Burroughs proclaimed that the Beat writers were real architects of change There is no doubt that we're living in a freer America as a result of the Beat literary movement which is an important part of the larger picture of cultural and political change in this country during the last forty years when a four letter word couldn't appear on the printed page and minority rights were ridiculous Anne Waldman a renowned poet and longtime friend of many of these writers has gathered in this volume a range of the best and most exemplary writings of the Beat poets and novelists. Selections from the Beat classics appear as well as more recent prose and poetry demonstrating the continued vitality of the Beat experiment. Included are short biographies of the contributors, an extensive bibliography of Beat literature, and a unique guide to Beat places around the world from Kerouac's hometown of Lowell, Massachusetts, where his novel Dr. Sax takes place, to Tangier, where Burroughs wrote parts of Naked Lunch.
