College Completion Glass—Half-Full or Half-Empty? Tiffany Beth Mfume,2018-12-21 Despite the Great Recession and looming student loan debt crisis college education remains the most proven invaluable lifetime investment and serves as the most reliable path to upward mobility and socioeconomic class reassignment Mfume suggests that the value added of even one year of college can be transformative As higher education professionals and partners continue to advocate for new and improved college retention and graduation measures The College Completion Glass Half Full or Half Empty Exploring the Value of Postsecondary Education presents a new paradigm for higher education one that focuses on the value added of postsecondary education as well as on student success beyond the traditional measure of college graduation rates a model which merges conventional practices and supports for students with non traditional partnerships with and advocacy from successful non completers      Rudimentary treatise on the art of painting on glass, from the German M A.

Gessert,1851      Cities Through the Looking Glass Rami Arav,2008-06-30 The essays in this book originated as papers presented at the Conference on Urbanism in the Biblical World that took place on October 28 30 2003 at the University of Nebraska at Omaha This conference was part of the annual series of the Clifton Batchelder Conference for Biblical Archaeology and the Bethsaida Excavations Project The conference was structured so that text scholars and material culture scholars were able to interact and influence one another This interdisciplinary approach created a unique productive atmosphere where scholars who come from different disciplines were able to share and exchange ideas in ways that seldom happen in our increasingly specialized academic world Thus scholars from three major disciplines Greek philosophy biblical studies and archaeology produced lectures and papers on urbanism in the ancient world that reflect multihued perspectives that draw on the specialties of each contributor Few conferences on urbanism engage in an interdisciplinary approach and few deal with the questions raised in this book even fewer are published and see the light of day In this volume we are pleased to be able to share a fine collection of essays from the conference with the larger community of people interested in the ancient world
