The Greenwood Encyclopedia of Asian American Literature Guiyou Huang, 2008-12-30 Asian American literature dates back to the close of the 19th century and during the years following World War II it significantly expanded in volume and diversity Monumental in scope this encyclopedia surveys Asian American literature from its origins through 2007 Included are more than 270 alphabetically arranged entries on writers major works significant historical events and important terms and concepts Thus the encyclopedia gives special attention to the historical social cultural and legal contexts surrounding Asian American literature and central to the Asian American experience Each entry is written by an expert contributor and cites works for further reading and the encyclopedia closes with a selected general bibliography of essential print and electronic resources While literature students will value this encyclopedia as a guide to writings by Asian Americans the encyclopedia also supports the social studies curriculum by helping students use literature to learn about Asian American history and culture as it pertains to writers from a host of Asian ethnic and cultural backgrounds including Afghans Chinese Japanese Koreans Filipinos Iranians Indians Vietnamese Hawaiians and other Asian Pacific Islanders The encyclopedia supports the literature curriculum by helping students learn more about Asian American literature In addition it supports the social studies curriculum by helping students learn about the Asian American historical and cultural experience

From the Brink Paul W. Ashton, 2020-06-16 A commonly encountered experience of both analyst and analysand is that of the void It is spoken about at different stages of therapy and refers to experiences that have different origins Sometimes the experience of the void is around a relatively limited aspect of the psyche but at other times the void seems much more global and threatens to engulf the entire personality the whole individual psyche then seems threatened by the possibility of dissolution into nothingness Kipling Alberto Manguel, 2001 This brief biography of Rudyard Kipling is an ideal introduction for young and old alike to the fascinating life and works of one of the finest writers Of the last hundred years

Saskatchewan Writers University of Regina. Canadian Plains Research Center, 2004 The more than 175 biographies in this volume together tell the story of writing in Saskatchewan As David Carpenter notes in his Introduction to the volume The writers whose lives are told in these pages are part of an extraordinary cultural community that has touched and been touched by the people and landscape of this province

Trash Dorothy Allison, 2002-09-24 Trash Allison's landmark collection laid the groundwork for her critically acclaimed Bastard Out of Carolina the National Book Award finalist that was hailed by The New York Times Book Review as simply stunning a wonderful work of fiction by a major talent In addition to Allison's classic stories this new edition of Trash features Stubborn Girls and Mean Stories an introduction in which Allison discusses the writing of Trash and Compassion a never before published short story First published in 1988 the award winning Trash showcases Allison at her most fearlessly honest and startlingly vivid The limitless scope of human emotion and experience are depicted in stories that give aching and eloquent voice to the terrible wounds we inflict on those closest to us These are tales of loss and redemption of shame and forgiveness of love and abuse and the healing power of storytelling A book that resonates with uncompromising candor and incandescence Trash is sure to captivate Allison's legion of readers and win her a devoted new following

Studies in Short Fiction, 1994

Light Falls Through You Anne Simpson, 2014-05-06 Senuously attentive to the world intensely imagined and musically driven Light Falls Through You is a book that remembers the victims of war of atrocity of casual violence and calls upon language to render homage Whether she is bringing poetry elegiacally to the service of an individual to the masses of Rwandan dead or the casualties of the Montreal massacre Anne Simpson writes with meditative insight balanced by imaginative reach and an intense musicality In Usual Devices she gives an account of the Trojan War in a sequence about punctuation marks deftly and wittily revealing the entrenchment of epic violence in the ordinary traffic signs of syntax And the book's closing poem weaves an altarpiece appropriate to our time out of everyday elements a homemade icon whose yearning toward coherence toward closure and hope is a brave articulate music for the century's end From that place where we came into it with our disbelief Simpson's poems point to the imaginative place where we remember the miraculous
