Gathering Hopewell Christopher Carr,D. Troy Case,2010-11-16 Among the most socially and personally vocal archaeological remains on the North American continent are the massive and often complexly designed earthen architecture of Hopewellian peoples of two thousand years ago their elaborately embellished works of art made of glistening metals and stones from faraway places and their highly formalized mortuaries In this book twenty one researchers in interwoven efforts immerse themselves and the reader in this vibrant archaeological record in order to richly reconstruct the societies rituals and ritual interactions of Hopewellian peoples By finding the faces actions and motivations of Hopewellian peoples as individuals who constructed knowable social roles the authors explore in a personalized and locally contextualized manner the details of Hopewellian life leadership its sacred and secular power bases recruitment and formalization over time systems of social ranking and prestige animal totemic clan organization kinship structures and sodalities gender roles prestige work load and health community organization in its tri scalar residential symbolic and demographic forms intercommunity alliances and changes in their strategies and expanses over time and interregional travels for power questing pilgrimage healing tutelage and acquiring ritual knowledge This book is useful to scholars graduate students and advanced undergraduates interested in the workings and development of social complexity at local and interregional scales recent theoretical developments in the anthropology of the topics listed above the prehistory of eastern North America its history of intellectual development and Native American ritual symbolism and belief

Being Scioto Hopewell: Ritual Drama and Personhood in Cross-Cultural Perspective Christopher Carr,2021 This book in two volumes breathes fresh air empirically methodologically and theoretically into understanding the rich ceremonial lives the philosophical religious knowledge and the impressive material feats and labor organization that distinguish Hopewell Indians of central Ohio and neighboring regions during the first centuries CE The first volume defines cross culturally for the first time the ritual drama as a genre of social performance It reconstructs and compares parts of 14 such dramas that Hopewellian and other Woodland period peoples performed in their ceremonial centers to help the soul like essences of their deceased make the journey to an afterlife The second volume builds and critiques ten formal cross cultural models of personhood and the self and infers the nature of Scioto Hopewell people s ontology Two facets of their ontology are found to have been instrumental in their creating the intercommunity alliances and cooperation and gathering the labor required to construct their huge multcommunity ceremonial centers a relational collective concept of the self defined by the ethical quality of the relationships one has with other beings and a concept of multiple soul like essences that compose a human being and can be harnessed strategically to create familial like ethical bonds of cooperation among individuals and communities The archaeological reconstructions of Hopewellian ritual dramas and concepts of personhood and the self and of Hopewell people's strategic uses of these are informed by three large surveys of historic Woodland and Plains Indians narratives ideas and rites about journeys to afterlives the creatures who inhabit the cosmos and the nature and functions of soul like essences coupled with rich contextual archaeological and bioarchaeological taphonomic analyses The bioarchaeological taphonomic method of l anthropologie de terrain new to North American archaeology is introduced and applied In all the research in this book vitalizes a vision of an anthropology committed to native logic and motivation and skeptical of the imposition of Western world views and categories onto native peoples

Ritual, Play and Belief, in Evolution and Early Human Societies

Colin Renfrew, Iain Morley, Michael Boyd, 2017-12-21 The origins of religion and ritual in humans have been the focus of centuries of thought in archaeology anthropology theology evolutionary psychology and more Play and ritual have many aspects in common and ritual is a key component of the early cult practices that underlie the religious systems of the first complex societies in all parts of the world This book examines the formative cults and the roots of religious practice from the earliest times until the development of early religion in the Near East in China in Peru in Mesoamerica and beyond Here leading prehistorians and other specialists bring a fresh approach to the early practices that underlie the faiths and religions of the world They demonstrate the profound role of play ritual and belief systems and offer powerful new insights into the emergence of early civilization

The Archaeology of Ritual Evangelos Kyriakidis, 2007-12-31 A wide spectrum of scholars historians art historians anthropologists students of performance students of religion archaeologists cognitive scientists and linguists were all asked to think and comment on how ritual can be traced in archaeology and which ways ritual research can go in that discipline The product is a fairly accurate representation of research on ritual and the archaeology of ritual scholars from various disciplines backgrounds and agendas arguing mostly in the most logical fashion yet with little agreement between them So this book should not be seen as presenting one unified attitude towards ritual and its study in archaeology It should rather be seen as a reflection of what the discourse in the archaeology of ritual is today The outcome has been extremely thought provoking often controversial but always of extremely high quality

Relational Rituals and Communication D. Kádár, 2013-06-27 This book provides a ground breaking interaction based framework of rituals drawing on multiple research disciplines It examines ritual as a relational action constructed in interaction through pre existing patterns and captures the features of ritual phenomena by analysing interactants behaviour in culturally and socially diverse contexts

Reclaiming the Hopewellian Ceremonial Sphere A. Martin Byers, 2015 In this new book A Martin Byers refines Caldwell's work coining the term Hopewell Ceremonial Sphere to more precisely characterize this transregional sphere as manifesting multiple autonomous cult sodalities of local communities affiliated into escalating levels of autonomous cult sodality heterarchies
