Guarding Her Heart Adore Ian, 2019-07-16 Elle Lee is on the run hiding from her ex and his family. After secretly moving to the other side of the country she wants nothing more than to stay shielded behind the carefully constructed armor that's kept her and her secrets safe all these years. But when she befriends Conor the strong quiet guard who works security for the mysterious Alice Braxton she finds herself wanting to step out from behind her armor and experience life again. Conor Kahele is a protector always has been always will be. So when timid Elle gets a job at the Braxton Arcade he can't help but watch out for her. They become fast friends and when Elle finds herself with little money and no place to live Conor is unable to stop himself from asking her to move in. Platonically of course. But friendship goes out the window the more they learn about one another and soon Conor finds himself agreeing to take Elle's virginity. What neither agreed to was giving the other their heart. While people from Elle's past hunt her demons from Conor's past haunt him. If he can guard her heart Conor just might save them both. But if he fails if he goes too far he might become the very thing that stalks them.

US Education in a World of Migration Jill Koyama, Mathangi Subramanian, 2014-03-14 Given the protracted varied and geographically expansive changes in migration over time it is difficult to establish an overarching theory that adequately analyzes the school experiences of immigrant youth in the United States. This volume extends the scholarly work on these experiences by exploring how immigrants carve out new identities construct meanings and negotiate spaces for themselves within social structures created or mediated by education policy and practice. It highlights immigrants that position themselves within global movements while experiencing the everyday effects of federal state and local education policy a phenomenon referred to as glocal global local or localized global phenomena. Chapter authors acknowledge and honor the agency that immigrants wield and combine social theories and qualitative methods to empirically document the ways in which immigrants take active roles in enacting education policy. Surveying immigrants from China Bangladesh India Haiti Japan Colombia and Liberia this volume offers a broad spectrum of immigrant experiences that problematize policy narratives that narrowly define notions of immigrant citizenship and student.
