terms with the loss and eventually find a way to pick up the pieces and move on EXCERPT FROM THE BOOK When under such extreme and sustained stress emotional and physical symptoms follow Stress causes the body to go into a physiological fight or flight reaction and if stress is profound or prolonged the body remains in a constant state of alarm which can lead to vulnerability to disease and even death Stress impairs cognitive functioning leads to depression fear anxiety and anger and leaves the body susceptible to a whole host of physical issues Stress causes the immune system to be compromised and it becomes much harder to fight off even common illnesses like flu or a cold Ulcers asthma migraines and hypertension are common effects associated with stress Development of more serious issues such as coronary heart disease and cancer is also facilitated by stress Stress brought on by the death of a spouse commonly brings on depression sleeping too much insomnia and disturbing dreams just to mention a few problems Buy a copy to keep reading Gay Men's Sexual Stories Robert Reynolds, Gerard Sullivan, 2003 Investigation of the role of sex in everyday lives of gay men With emphasis on psychosocial and emotional context the contributors explicitly describe their sex lives and sexual attitudes in a variety of situations The editors share their expertise and insights into these narratives and into the academic literature on gay men at midlife The Publishers Weekly, 1998 Who's That Sleeping in My Bed? Keren Smedley, 2012-11-22 This ebook edition contains the full text version as per the book Doesn't include original photographic and illustrated material Sex and relationships advice for baby boomers the new sexy generation Being over 50 is thankfully not what it used to be it does not mean giving up on sex and love And the baby boomers heirs to the sexual revolution of the sixties approach sex and relationships in a very different way to previous generations continuing to want to be vital and sexual and encountering new options and new problems Keren Smedley has been asked every question you could imagine and some you couldn't about the relationship issues of today's baby boomer WHO'S THAT SLEEPING IN MY BED addresses a huge range of questions and answers them wisely and wittily Living Through Loss Nancy R. Hooyman, Betty J. Kramer, 2008 Hooyman and Kramer's starting point is that loss comes in many forms and can include not only suffering the death of a person one loves but also giving birth to a child with disabilities living with chronic illness or being abused assaulted or otherwise traumatized They approach loss from the perspective of the resilience model which acknowledges the capacity of people to integrate loss into their lives and write sensitively about the role of age race culture sexual orientation gender and spirituality in a person's response to loss from publisher information The Gay and Lesbian Psychotherapy Treatment Planner J.
