Consultation Skills for Mental Health Professionals Richard W. Sears, John Rudisill, Carrie Mason-Sears, 2012-06-26 Consultation interventions are an increasingly popular alternative to clinical practice allowing the practitioner to interact with and affect many different individuals and organizations This type of work challenges mental health professionals drawing on all the skills and resources they may possess yet also offers some of the greatest rewards and opportunities for service. Filled with numerous case examples and checklists, Consultation Skills for Mental Health Professionals contains a wealth of information on this important area of practice. It provides a comprehensive source for working with a diverse clientele in a variety of settings, discussing both traditional mental health consultation models and the fast-growing field of organizational consulting. The guide is divided into four parts: Individual Level Consulting Issues takes up individual career assessment and counseling along with how organizational contexts affect individual jobs; leadership management and supervision; executive assessment; selection; interviewing and development; and executive coaching. Consulting to Small Systems discusses working with teams and groups; planning and conducting training and teambuilding; diversity in the workplace; and in consultation. Consulting to Large Systems covers how to work with large organizations including organizational structure, terms, culture, and concepts as well as processes such as change and resistance; how to assess organizations and the characteristics of healthy and dysfunctional workplaces; and issues involved in organizational intervention. Special Consulting Topics include issues such as the practical aspects of running a consulting practice; the skills required for successful clinical consultation; consultation services for special populations; and crisis consultation including critical incident stress management; psychological first aid; disaster recovery; media communication; and school crisis response.

Handbook of School Mental Health Mark D. Weist, Nancy A. Lever, Catherine P. Bradshaw, Julie Sarno Owens, 2013-08-15

With so few therapeutic outlets readily available to young people, schools have evolved into mental health centers for many students. Yet schools are hampered by limited access to resources needed to provide mental health promotion, prevention, and intervention services. Like its acclaimed predecessor, the Second Edition of the Handbook of School Mental Health offers ways for professionals to maximize resources, make and strengthen valuable connections, and attain more effective school-based services and programming. At the same time, the Handbook provides strategies and recommendations in critical areas such as workforce development, interdisciplinary collaborations, youth/family engagement, consultation, funding, and policy concerns. It summarizes the state of current research and offers directions for further study. Chapters model best practices for promoting wellness and safety; early detection of emotional and behavioral problems; and school-based interventions for students with anxiety, depression, attention deficit/hyperactivity disorder, and other common challenges. In spotlighting this range of issues, the contributors have created a comprehensive game plan for advancing the field. Among the Handbook's topics: Pre-service training for school mental health clinicians; Cognitive behavioral interventions for trauma in schools; Increasing parental engagement in school-based interventions; Models of psychiatric consultation to schools; Culturally competent behavioral and emotional screening; Bullying from a school mental health perspective; Prevention and intervention strategies related to a variety of mental health problems in schools. The Second Edition of the Handbook of School Mental Health is an essential reference for researchers, graduate students, and other professionals in child and school psychology, special and general education, public health, school nursing, occupational therapy, psychiatry, social work, and counseling.
