Disabilities and the Life Course Heather E. Dillaway, Carrie L. Shandra, Alexis A. Bender, 2023-07-31 Featuring a framework rarely applied in the field of disability studies this book explores not only a range of disabilities and impairments but also a diverse array of life course experiences deepening knowledge across both fields for the widest possible impact

Social Networks and the Life Course Duane F. Alwin, Diane H. Felmlee, Derek A. Kreager, 2018-03-06 This volume engages the interface between the development of human lives and social relational networks It focuses on the integration of two subfields of sociology social science the life course and social networks Research practitioners studying social networks typically focus on social structure or social organization ignoring the complex lives of the people in those networks At the same time life course researchers tend to focus on individual lives without necessarily studying the contexts of social relationships in which lives are embedded and linked to one another through social networks These patterns are changing and this book creates an audience of researchers who will better integrate the two subfields It covers the role of social networks across the life span from childhood and adolescence to midlife through old age

On the Frontier of Adulthood Richard A. Settersten Jr., Frank F. Furstenberg, Rubén G. Rumbaut, 2008-09-15 On the Frontier of Adulthood reveals a startling new fact adulthood no longer begins when adolescence ends A lengthy period before adulthood often spanning the twenties and even extending into the thirties is now devoted to further education job exploration experimentation in romantic relationships and personal development Pathways into and through adulthood have become much less linear and predictable and these changes carry tremendous social and cultural significance especially as institutions and policies aimed at supporting young adults have not kept pace with these changes This volume considers the nature and consequences of changes in early adulthood by drawing upon a wide variety of historical and contemporary data from the United States Canada and Western Europe Especially dramatic shifts have occurred in the conventional markers of adulthood leaving home finishing school getting a job getting married and having children and in how these experiences are configured as a set These accounts reveal how the process of becoming an adult has changed over the past century the challenges faced by young people today and what societies can do to smooth the transition to adulthood This book is the most thorough wide reaching and insightful analysis of the new life stage of early adulthood Andrew Cherlin Johns Hopkins University From West to East young people today enter adulthood in widely diverse ways that affect their life chances This book provides a rich portrait of this journey an essential font of knowledge for all who care about the younger generation Glen H Elder Jr University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill On the Frontier of Adulthood adds considerably to our knowledge about the transition from adolescence to adulthood It will indeed be the definitive resource for researchers for years to come Anyone working in the area whether in demography sociology economics or developmental psychology will wish to make use of what is gathered here John Modell Brown University This is a must read for scholars and policymakers who are concerned with the future of today's youth and will become a touchpoint for an emerging field of inquiry focused on adult transitions Jeanne Brooks Gunn Columbia University Life Course of Special Educational Needs Students Finn Ove Båtevik, Rune Kvalsund, Jon Olav Myklebust, 2023-01-24 This book discusses the contested issue of how different kinds of special educational support in Norway such as placement in special classes or use of teacher assistants prepare Special Educational Need SEN students for further education and adult life This is done by following former students categorized as having special educational needs for twenty years from the start of the upper secondary school until their mid thirties Different choices and the adjustments and active adaptations young people make throughout their lives is a recurring theme focusing on education work family mental health and social networks The authors in this volume analyze and critically discuss topics around competence attainment in upper secondary school and higher education employment public support in adult life mental health social exclusion and isolation and data mediated networks It concludes how the experiences from school time have affected the adaptation in later adulthood and provides an answer to whether the assistive measures have benefits What are the consequences in the short and long run A central explanatory tension is between disabled students and disabling schools We trace consequences possibly non intended for the former SEN students due to the stigmatization effect of receiving special educational help in a vulnerable phase of life The authors interpret results within a framework of life course approaches and disability theories The perspectives introduced in the book are of interest for researchers and academics in the social sciences such as sociology special education and social work

Population Ageing from a Lifecourse Perspective Kathrin Komp, Stina Johansson, 2016-06-01 Populations around the globe are ageing rapidly This demographic shift affects families market structures and social provisions This timely volume part of the Ageing and the Lifecourse series argues that the lifecourse perspective helps us understand the causes and effects of population ageing The lifecourse perspective suggests that individuals experiences at an early age can influence their decisions and behaviour at a later age This much needed volume combines insights from different disciplines and real life experiences to describe the theories and practices behind this idea It therefore caters to the needs of scholars practitioners and policy makers in a range of areas including sociology and political science Civil Society Through the Lifecourse

Sally Power, 2022-04-14 Challenging conventional thinking leading academics explore how individuals relationships with civil society change over time as different lifecourse events and stages trigger and hinder civic engagement and political participation and highlight the implications for those promoting greater civic and political engagement New Directions in the Sociology of Aging National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Population, Panel on New Directions in Social Demography, Social Epidemiology, and the Sociology of Aging, 2013-12-26 The aging of the population of the United States is occurring at a time of major economic and social changes These economic changes include consideration of increases in the age of eligibility for Social Security and Medicare and possible changes in benefit levels Furthermore changes in the social context in which older individuals and families function may well affect the nature of key social relationships and institutions that define the environment for older persons Sociology offers a knowledge base a number of useful analytic approaches and tools and unique theoretical perspectives that can facilitate understanding of these demographic economic and social changes and to the extent possible their causes consequences and implications New Directions in the Sociology of Aging evaluates the recent contributions of social demography social epidemiology and sociology to the study of aging and identifies promising new research directions in these sub fields Included in this study are nine papers prepared by experts in sociology demography social genomics public health and other fields that highlight the broad array of tools and perspectives that can provide the basis for further advancing the understanding of aging processes in ways that can inform policy This report discusses the role of sociology in what is a wide ranging and diverse field of study a proposed three dimensional conceptual model for studying social processes in aging over the life cycle a review of existing databases data needs and opportunities primarily in the area of measurement of interhousehold and intergenerational transmission of resources biomarkers and biosocial interactions and a summary of roadblocks and bridges to transdisciplinary research that will affect the future directions of the field of sociology of aging

Pathways and Crime Prevention Alan France, Ross Homel, 2013-06-17 Deals with the development of prevention policies and approaches that involve intervention early in the lives of children young people and their families This book explores evidence that has been emerging from longitudinal and developmental prevention research

The Routledge Companion to Career Studies Hugh Gunz, Mila Lazarova, Wolfgang Mayrhofer, 2019-11-12 The Routledge Companion to Career Studies is an in depth reference for researchers students and practitioners looking for a comprehensive overview of the state of the art of career studies Split into five parts the volume looks at major areas of research within career studies and reflects on the latest developments in the areas of theory empirical studies and methodology The book s five parts cover 1 major theoretical and methodological debates and approaches to studying careers 2 careers as dynamic ongoing processes covering such issues as time shaping careers career outcomes and patterns and the forces shaping careers 3 the local national and global context of careers 4 implementing career research to design practical interventions in areas such as education counseling and national policy and 5 a commentary on the current state of career scholarship and its future development as represented in this volume by founding scholars in the field This book will be a sourcebook for scholars studying careers research students intending to take up the study of careers and anyone scholars and practitioners with an interest not only in understanding careers the factors shaping them and where they lead but also in how this understanding might be used in practice

Encore Adulthood Phyllis Moen, 2016 In Encore Adulthood Phyllis Moen presents the realities of the encore life stage the years between traditional careers and childraising and old age Drawing on large scale data sets and interviews with Boomers

HR personnel and policymakers this book illuminates the challenges that Boomers encounter as they transition from traditional careers into retirement Community Eldercare Ecology in China Lin Chen, Minzhi Ye, 2020-06-12 Informed by the social ecological framework this book focuses on the development of Home and Community Based Services HCBS in urban China Bringing a timely discussion around HCBS development in Shanghai it presents an interplay of formal caregiving relationships evolving caregiving culture and the trajectory of long term care in China Drawing on surveys in depth interviews and government archives this book explores the emergence of one of the most developed HCBS programs in Shanghai its development over the past decade its administration and services resource allocation staff members work experiences older adults service experiences as well as service evaluation and improvements Offering fresh insight into new forms of caregiving in community settings and shaping a new discourse on caregiving policy this book is a key read for both students and practitioners in the fields of long term care gerontology geriatrics health care and health policy Youth Studies and Generations Vitor Sérgio Ferreira, 2020-03-25 There is currently much discourse about generations in the public sphere A sequence of letters conflates generations and age cohorts born in the last few decades generation X Y or Z as well as multiple categories are used to describe today s young people as a generation that is distinct from its predecessors Despite the popularity of generational labels in media politics or even academia the use of generation as a conceptual tool in youth studies has been controversial This Special Issue allows readers to better understand the key issues regarding the use of generation as a theoretical concept and or as a social category in the field of youth studies shedding light on the controversies trends and cautions that go through it A Life Course Approach to the Epidemiology of Chronic Diseases and Ageing Diana Kuh, Ezra Susser, Joanna M. Blodgett, Yoav Ben-Shlomo, 2025-01-16 A Life Course Approach to the Epidemiology of Chronic Diseases and Ageing Third Edition outlines how biological and social factors during gestation childhood adolescence and earlier adult life influence later life health and disease It also looks at whether and how to intervene to improve health outcomes This revised third edition is fully updated to reflect the new data that has emerged as well as our new understanding of health and global challenges It brings new chapters on a life course approach to the long term health consequences of climate change and the COVID 19 pandemic It examines the current and potential use of new technologies methods and collaborative approaches in life course studies and provides updated reviews of the latest life course evidence for age related chronic diseases It discusses how life course research is being used and could be used to improve population health in high middle and low income countries identifying how and when interventions may be most effective New chapters on multimorbidity translational geroscience and exposomics have also been added Biographical Research Ana Caetano, Magda Nico, 2022-03-30 Studying people s lives requires acknowledging the multiple entanglements between individual singularity and processes of social patterning This book testifies how challenging and creative the study of these connections can be It gathers international contributions that show in imaginative ways how a person s life or specific domains of existence can be observed tackled and analysed across time This volume reveals the potential of biographical research in the production of social theory in the development of methodological innovation in giving voice and protagonism to people and in the understanding of the social unfolding of their lives It is a testimony of a vibrant and youthful field with a long tradition in social sciences and with numerous connections with other study areas namely the life course approach The different chapters illustrate how the challenges posed by this type of research focused on the individual level of analysis are particular and what creative responses are required to continue analysing the link between biography and society The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Contemporary Social Science

The Symbolism of Globalization, Development, and Aging Steven L. Arxer, John W. Murphy, 2012-09-14 This book looks at the symbolic side of globalization development and aging Many of the dimensions that are discussed represent updates of past debates but some are entirely new In particular globalization is accompanied by subtle social imagery that profoundly shapes the way institutions and identities are imagined The process of aging and persons sense of identity is no exception The underlying assumptions that pervade globalization inform how critical dimensions of aging are discussed and institutionalized The application of marketplace imagery for example may impact attempts for holism in how aging is studied and the prospects for human agency during the aging process This book offers a special look into how temporality technology normativity and empiricism structure the symbolic side of globalization and influence dominant images of the aging process Current debates about globalization and aging are expanded by helping readers see the social imagery that is both subtly behind globalization and at the forefront of shaping the aging experience

Aging in European Societies Constantinos Phellas, 2012-10-02 Between longer life expectancies and declining birth rates Europe s elder population is growing into a sizable minority with considerable impact on nations health systems and economies in other words global implications as well as local and regional ones Those investing in the health of older adults need a double perspective the social and clinical complexity of aging and the larger forces shaping these experiences Aging in European Societies examines aging trends across the continent analyzing individual and collective variables that affect the lives of older adults and drawing salient comparisons with other parts of the world An interdisciplinary panel of experts provides theory research and empirical findings with examples from the UK Cyprus Sweden and others in key areas such as family and social supports physical and cognitive changes dependence and autonomy issues and living arrangements The book s wide net approach offers insights into not only aging but aging well And of particular importance it details approaches to defining and measuring the elusive but crucial concept quality of life Included in the coverage The potential for technology to improve elders quality of life Dementia and quality of life issues Changes in functional ability with aging and over time Family networks and supports in older age Factors influencing inequalities in quality of life Late life learning in the E U Gerontologists sociologists health and cross cultural psychologists and public health policymakers will welcome Aging in European Societies as a springboard toward continued discussion new directions for research and improvements in policy and practice
