Blair, 1922 The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 1, 600-1660 George Watson, Ian Roy Willison, 1974-08-29 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 1 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature. The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis, articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition. The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries The Emperor's Mirror Russell J. Barber, Frances Berdan, 1998-10 Russell J. Barber and Frances F. Berdan have created the ultimate guide for anyone doing cross cultural and or document driven research. Presenting the essentials of primary source methodology, The Emperor's Mirror includes nine chapters on paleography, calendrics, source and quantitative analysis and the visual interpretation of artifacts such as pictographs, illustrations and maps. As an introduction to ethnohistory, this book clearly defines terminology and provides practical and accessible examples, effectively integrating the concerns of historians and anthropologists as well as addressing the needs of anyone using primary sources for research in any academic field. A leading theme throughout the book is the importance of a researcher's awareness of the inherent biases of documents while doing research on another culture. Documents are the result of people interpreting reality through the filter of their own experience, personality and culture. Barber and Berdan's reality mediation model shows students how to analyze documents to detect the implicit biases or subtexts inherent in primary source materials. Students and scholars working with primary sources will particularly appreciate the case studies that Barber and Berdan use to illustrate the practical implications of using each methodology. These case studies not only apply method to actual research but also are fascinating in their own right. They range from a discussion of the debate over Tupinamba cannibalism to the illustration of Nahuatl, Spanish and hybrid place names of Tlaxcala, Mexico Ancient Writing and Its Influence Berthold Louis Ullman, 1980-01-01 This book remains a sound, concise and expert survey by one of the master palaeographers of the twentieth century The Cambridge Companion to Early Modern Women's Writing Laura Langer Knoppers, 2009-10-08 Featuring the most frequently taught female writers and texts of the early modern period, this Companion introduces the reader to the range, complexity, historical importance and aesthetic merit of women's writing in Britain from 1500-1700. Presenting key textual, historical and methodological information, the volume exemplifies new and diverse approaches to the study of women's writing. The book is clearly divided into three sections covering how women learnt to write and how their work was circulated or published; how and what women wrote in the places and spaces in which they lived, worked and worshipped; and the different kinds of writing women produced, from poetry and fiction to letters, diaries and political prose. This structure makes the volume readily adaptable to course usage The Companion is enhanced by an introduction that lays out crucial framework and critical issues and by chronologies that situate women s writings alongside political and cultural events
