Acclaimed sportswriter Allen Barra exposes the uncanny parallels and lifelong friendship between two of the greatest baseball players ever to take the field Culturally Mickey Mantle and Willie Mays were light years apart Yet they were nearly the same age and almost the same size and they came to New York at the same time They possessed virtually the same talents and played the same position They were both products of generations of baseball playing families for whom the game was the only escape from a lifetime of brutal manual labor Both were nearly crushed by the weight of the outsized expectations placed on them first by their families and later by America Both lived secret lives far different from those their fans knew What their fans also didn't know was that the two men shared a close personal friendship and that each was the only man who could truly understand the other's experience Progressive Black Masculinities? Athena D.

Mutua, 2006-11-06 In the struggle for pride and political agency the imperative to be a man has been central to the lives of black males Yet what it means to be a black man in terms of both racial and gender identity has been subject to continual debate in public and academic spheres alike Progressive Black Masculinities brings together leading black cultural critics including Michael Eric Dyson Mark Anthony Neal and Patricia Hill Collins to examine an alternatively demonized and mythologized black masculinity Collectively they offer a roadmap for new progressive models of black masculinity that may chart the course for the future of black men Baseball Hits and Bible Bits Frank D. Minton, 2018-02-09 In Baseball Hits and Bible Bits pastor and former Minor League pitcher Frank D Minton shares unforgettable stories and anecdotes about two of his great loves in life baseball and the Bible When Minton was eleven years old God called him to preach that call to serve the Lord would never leave his heart His north high school exploits on the ball fields of Wichita Kansas earned him a scholarship at the University of Oklahoma and eventually a contract with the Dodgers organization After three years in the minors he realized that following God's call was more important than making it to the big leagues He turned down the Dodgers contract offer for a fourth year leaving baseball behind to become a Baptist minister It was one of the most difficult decisions of his life but according to Minton he traded a diamond for a crown Baseball poems and songs are sprinkled throughout and sketches by artist Berthel Young add dimension and feeling With stories about baseball greats both past and present such as Sandy Koufax Josh Hamilton and Albert Pujols and rich autobiographical details of a life lived in the service of

A Chain of Events Ruthie Green, 2012-08-31 In October 2011 a ceremony was held at the Washington DC mall to unveil a granite statue of our slain Civil Rights leader Rev MLK Jr The large piece of granite was 30 feet high and a light reddish brown in color It looked majestic in the sunlight The King family members participating in the ceremony were his sister and three of his children They were all very dynamic speakers and that makes me think that public speaking was a family trait Some of the other speakers that day were also present during the early days of the Civil Rights movement They were Andrew Young Julian Bond and Rev Joseph Lowery Rev Lowery was 90 years old and the tears flowed freely as he spoke It was overwhelming for him and me to witness the final moments of a movement that had started in 1955 in Montgomery AL For the Black man the road had been long and definitely rough but we had stayed on our course Also at times our footsteps toward Freedom were slow but by Gods Grace we were able to reach our goal For years we could not say that America was our country or proudly call America our Home Sweet Home But after seeing a statue of a Black man with a flat nose and thick lips standing among the memorials of past U S Presidents in the DC mall made us realize that only a loving and caring God could have orchestrated such a feat Now I will use the phrase that the Evangelist Joel Osteen uses Put your trust in God and He will take you places that you NEVER dreamed of
