Elders Living Alone Robert L. Rubinstein, 1992-01-01 What is it like to be old have many health problems and live alone This book enters the lives of frail elders who live alone and vividly conveys their continuing struggle to maintain their independence Many look to their homes as the important facilitating element for that independence the home environment and personal space are often the most significant elements for elders living alone

Elders Living Alone Robert L. Rubinstein, Janet Capriotti Kilbride, What is it like to be old have many health problems and live alone This book enters the lives of frail elders who live alone and vividly conveys their continuing struggle to maintain their independence Many look to their homes as the important facilitating element for that independence the home environment and personal space are often the most significant elements for elders living alone

Elders Living Alone Robert L. Rubinstein, Janet Capriotti Kilbride, Sharon Nagy, 1992 What is it like to be old have many health problems and live alone Never before have there been so many elders and never before have so many of them been living alone and pursuing their lives independently This book enters the lives of frail elders who live alone and vividly conveys their continuing struggle to maintain their independence Many look to their homes as the important facilitating element for that independence and that the home environment as well as personal space are the most significant elements for elders living alone The authors approach combines an eye and an ear for the telling individual detail in all of its human complexity with broader societal and communal concerns In interviewing their subjects Rubinstein and his colleagues examine how these elders view the choices they have understand their independence and raise possibilities and alternatives Using a framework that will interest both anthropologists and case workers the authors explore the cultural background of concepts such as independence and choice and how they are symbolically located in the home The authors register their subjects urban isolation fraught with needs of the most basic kind imperiled by intermittent and uncertain human conduct erratic provision and occasionally engulfing solitude These voices seldom heard and often with reluctance are caught and interpreted in these pages The general hypothesis was that active management of the environment is itself a source of well being for frail elders living alone

Empowering Frail Elderly People Duncan P. Boldy, Leonard F. Heumann, Mary McCall, 2000-11-30 This book provides a unique analysis of provider environment client and societal based obstacles to the empowerment of frail elderly persons in a philosophical framework of social values as well as an applied framework wherein a variety of international case studies by a distinguished board of contributors provide concrete examples of the feasibility of achieving real empowerment Empowerment means different things to different people in the context of housing health and social service delivery This book analyzes the various definitions of the concept and practice of the empowerment of frail older persons and then discusses the definitions in a philosophical framework of social values regarding aging and the older person Each chapter demonstrates the feasibility of achieving increased empowerment of older persons even those with severe physical or mental disability True empowerment of older persons in every country requires time energy money and commitment to the goal This book will be of interest to academic as well as professional audiences in areas of Gerontology Psychology Sociology and Family Studies Caregivers and policymakers will also find this analysis useful

Interpersonal Communication in Older Adulthood Mary Lee Hummert, John M. Wiemann, John F. Nussbaum, 1994-09-13 This book is particularly relevant now as the baby boomer generation is aging and a greater proportion of the world's population is growing older Interpersonal communication is clearly the most critical process for promoting social integration and adaptation of older adults within society Yet understanding of the complex dynamics of interpersonal communication with the elderly is severely limited and the aged are often stigmatized stereotyped and isolated This book will help clarify the role of communication in effective social integration and adaptation of the aged by providing comprehensive and in depth analyses of relevant research and theory The book integrates information on the most important issues and contexts influencing interpersonal communication and aging and the individual chapters are written by an excellent group of authors who have demonstrated expertise on their topics The book is well organized clearly written and comprehensive The major topics are logically organized and compelling I highly recommend this book Gary L Kreps Northern Illinois University Aging obviously occurs at many levels with biological psychological and social systems showing multidirectional and interdependent changes What is less obvious is how these factors affect communication in later life This volume represents a strong contribution toward solving this problem by bringing together a group of prominent scholars with diverse perspectives on language communication and aging Elizabeth A I Stine University of New Hampshire The Hummert Wiemann and Nussbaum book brings together a strong theoretical base with the presentation of new data The chapters go well beyond the typical literature reviews usually found in edited volumes The contributors provide sophisticated presentations of a variety of socially significant and unique topics including the communicative impact of physical and cognitive changes sometimes associated with aging patronization verbosity frailty conversational skills proper names and the presentation of self Some of the chapters are strongly quantitative while others are more interpretive After building a strong rationale for the volume the editors go on to put together a series of well written chapters that provide a much needed emphasis on the social construction of relationships through communication The book should prompt much new research and advance our understanding of interpersonal communication and the aging process significantly Teresa Thompson University of Dayton The rich diversity of theoretical and methodological perspectives highlighted within the various chapters is an impressive feature of this edited collection These essays add conceptual breadth and depth to our understanding of interpersonal communication and the process of aging Mary Anne Fitzpatrick Department of Communication Arts University of Wisconsin This book is a valuable addition to the gerontological literature Written from the perspective of the communication researcher it brings together existing literature and offers new insights to gerontologists working in many social science disciplines I recommend Interpersonal Communication in Older Adulthood as a resource to any scholars interested in older adults Victor G Cicirelli Professor of Developmental and Aging Psychology Purdue University This book is very timely Communication is offering a new wave of aging research and interpersonal processes in communication are where our experiences and our personal theories of aging are grounded This book brings together many of the researchers who are breaking new ground in communication and aging It offers a valuable overview of where we have gone in aging theory communicatively and where we need to go Interpersonal Communication in Older Adulthood demonstrates the rich diversity of methods and traditions of communication research that are beginning to illuminate gerontology Nikolas Coupland University of Wales Cardiff By highlighting the commonalities across a range of disciplines Interpersonal Communication in Older Adulthood provides a unique and broad based perspective on communication and aging This integrative approach brings together the best of the current research and theory from communication cognitive psychology psycholinguistics and medical sociology The underlying framework of the book centers around three topics cognition language and relationships exploring the individual areas as well as the ways they intersect In addition this volume brings to light the implications of the elderly population s individual differences as they affect communication and illustrates the positive as well as the negative effects of the aging process on language production relational satisfaction and other communication related variables This major reference source Interpersonal Communication in Older Adulthood is essential reading for anyone concerned with the issues of aging and communication Self-Neglect Among the Elderly Susanna D. Bozinovski,1998-11 Includes introduction and overview of the literature statement of the problem and study rationale research methods data collection and analysis assessing research quality constructing the social problem of self neglect defining elder abuse should self neglect be included setting the future agenda for self neglect explicating the key concepts processes and framework for understanding self neglect among the elderly threats to identity and personal control strategies resources and responses to identity and control threats current policy issues and recommendations The Routledge Companion to Humanism and Literature Michael Bryson,2022-03-30 The Routledge Companion to Humanism and Literature provides readers with a comprehensive reassessment of the value of humanism in an intellectual landscape Offering contributions by leading international scholars this volume seeks to define literature as a core expressive form and an essential constitutive element of newly reformulated understandings of humanism While the value of humanism has recently been dominated by anti humanist and post humanist perspectives which focused on the flaws and exclusions of previous definitions of humanism this volume examines the human problems dilemmas fears and aspirations expressed in literature as a fundamentally humanist art form and activity Divided into three overarching categories this companion will explore the histories developments debates and contestations of humanism in literature and deliver fresh definitions of the new humanism for the humanities This focus aims to transcend the boundaries of a world in which human life is all too often defined in terms of restrictions political economic theological intellectual and lived in terms of obedience conformity isolation and fear The Routledge Companion to Humanism and Literature will provide invaluable support to humanities students and scholars alike seeking to navigate the relevance and resilience of humanism across world cultures and literatures Social Work with the Aged and Their Families Roberta R. Greene,2017-07-12 In recent years theoreticians researchers and practitioners have become increasingly interested in older adults and the aging process This volume draws on related disciplines to better understand the biological psychological and social aspects of aging Social Work with the Aged and Their Families covers areas of central interest to those coping with the needs of an aging population Among the topics addressed are assessment of the aging taking into account biological age psychological age and socio cultural and spiritual age Greene also considers the importance of the family system family roles and development functional age individual and family intervention and group and community interventions The scientific and systematic study of aging is known as gerontology Geriatric social workers are those who have applied established social work theories in an attempt to find suitable techniques for working with their elderly clients The need for specialized services has given birth to various services and programs For example meals on wheels and home health care services have been designed to meet specific physical needs of older adults However mental health services have lagged far behind as practitioners struggled to adapt such specialties as family therapy to families of later years A major contribution of this book now in its third edition is the functional age model of intergenerational treatment FAM which is an outgrowth of that demand The functional age model of intergenerational treatment is an integrative theoretical framework for social workers interested in clinical social work practice with older adults and their families Since its initial construction in 1986 the model has been augmented by more recent concepts related to successful aging spirituality and resiliency These additions together with the original assessment and intervention strategies present the major converging conceptual trends that constitute a model for twenty first century social work practice in the field of aging

Field Instruction in Social Work Settings Toba Schwaber Kerson, 2014-01-14 Field Instruction in Social Work Settings explores the relationship between field instruction and the setting in which it occurs The book asserts that certain aspects of social work including laws funding political climate organizational policies and values affect the relationship between student and field instructor and shape teaching and learning The book explores dimensions of the student field instructor relationship such as goals and expectations development of professional identity uses of the self issues of diversity authority dependency autonomy value dilemmas and the structure of supervision It presents a framework for teaching field instruction and uses the framework to explore its relevance meaning and use in the following settings perinatal AIDS program public child welfare child advocacy agency public school occupational health and safety project family service psychiatric hospital case management program for the elderly day center for the elderlyField Instruction in Social Work Settings is the only book available relating field instruction to the specific context in which it occurs It recognizes the social work field s diminished budget and increased demands and points out the critical necessity of students learning to address and manage policy and organizational issues as they develop their social work skills This book is an aid to field instructors balancing increases in enrollment and curriculum content and decreases in placements and budgets It integrates all of these concerns with field practice and seeks to provide a model for those working in the field as instructors and students Field Instruction in Social Work Settings applies classroom material to social work settings and emphasizes the value of field instruction by relating it to the branches of child welfare mental health and health care It allows the reader to integrate social work policy and advocacy with field work and it provides the reader with an appreciation of how social work and field instruction can work together directly Celebrating the Single Life David Yount,2009-02-24 American society is no longer defined by marriage Today an increasing majority of American households are headed by single men and women Even those Americans who do marry spend at least half of their adult lives alone Living on one s own presents unique challenges depending on one s age health and circumstances So the script for successful single living calls for different strategies for young adults the recently divorced single parents and those widowed or experiencing single life in later adulthood Here Dr Yount considers each group s special needs and challenges and offers a guide for leading a productive rewarding and fulfilling single life Single living he contends requires some core abilities overcoming loneliness reaching out to others developing faith in oneself and self respect keeping up with daily activities and maintaining good health security and a sense of humor This book helps readers learn to celebrate their single status and to find contentment and peace while living on their own These days if you are unmarried and pining for romance you are in a small minority Until recently most Americans considered single life to be a temporary situation during which one would simply wait for a soul mate to come along Those who remained unwed were pitied as bachelors and spinsters No longer These days most single men and women find autonomy in negotiating their way through life by relying on their own resources with marriage remaining one option but not an imperative Even those who do marry are getting married later and those who divorce or are widowed often choose to stay single With this trend toward singlehood increasing affirming the single life and making a success of it becomes all the more important Yount offers advice for creating a gratifying and happy single life at any stage and provides insight into those things that can contribute to a satisfying single lifestyle He pinpoints areas that often get ignored by singles and proposes solutions to some of the pitfalls that can lead to loneliness or unhappiness Leading a fulfilling single life is not only possible it can in fact be rewarding in itself and Yount shows readers how to lead productive and creative lives as modern singles      Older People in Natural Disasters Junko Ōtani, 2010 Japan's Great Hanshin Earthquake of 1995 destroyed the homes livelihoods and communities of many elderly people Some of the most vulnerable survivors spent up to five years in temporary shelters before settling into publicly subsidized apartments or dispersing into the general population Public scrutiny of the post earthquake recovery drew attention to the challenges of community generation and the loneliness isolation and death experienced by elderly earthquake victims Bringing together quantitative and qualitative analysis of media discourse public policy and ethnographic fieldwork this book examines the earthquake's long term effects of temporary shelters and public reconstruction housing for elderly residents The first study to utilize NVivo qualitative research software in a Japanese research context this is an original contribution to natural disaster literature as well as health and welfare policy in societies that like Japan are undergoing rapid urbanization and population aging

Aging Independently Klaus Warner Schaie, 2003 This volume is based on the conference Aging in the Community Living Arrangements and Mobility organised by the German Centre for Research on Aging at the University of Heidelberg in cooperation with Pennsylvania State University It explores the similarities and differences of living arrangements and outdoor mobility in both cultures and the impact on older persons roles in community life and sustainable community development Considers the future of aging theoretically from an environmental gerontology perspective and practically in terms of available technology the central tenet of this volume is that future indoor and outdoor environments will become much more intertwined than is the case today Merging the concerns of living arrangements and mobility this volume leads us to a new understanding of distance and nearness even in the presence for example of severe chronic illness
