Modern Architecture and Climate Daniel A. Barber, 2023-04-11 How climate influenced the design strategies of modernist architects Modern Architecture and Climate explores how leading architects of the twentieth century incorporated climate mediating strategies into their designs and shows how regional approaches to climate adaptability were essential to the development of modern architecture Focusing on the period surrounding World War II before fossil fuel powered air conditioning became widely available Daniel Barber brings to light a vibrant and dynamic architectural discussion involving design materials and shading systems as means of interior climate control He looks at projects by well known architects such as Richard Neutra Le Corbusier Lcio Costa Mies van der Rohe and Skidmore Owings and Merrill and the work of climate focused architects such as MMM Roberto Olgyay and Olgyay and Cliff May Drawing on the editorial projects of James Marston Fitch Elizabeth Gordon and others he demonstrates how images and diagrams produced by architects helped conceptualize climate knowledge alongside the work of meteorologists physicists engineers and social scientists Barber describes how this novel type of environmental media catalyzed new ways of thinking about climate and architectural design Extensively illustrated with archival material Modern Architecture and Climate provides global perspectives on modern architecture and its evolving relationship with a changing climate showcasing designs from Latin America Europe the United States the Middle East and Africa This timely and important book reconciles the cultural dynamism of architecture with the material realities of ever increasing carbon emissions from the mechanical cooling systems of buildings and offers a historical foundation for today s zero carbon design Reconstructing Architecture Thomas A. To create architecture is an inherently political act yet its nature as a social practice is often obscured beneath layers of wealth and privilege The contributors to this volume question architecture's complicity with the status quo moving beyond critique to outline the part architects are playing in building radical social movements and challenging dominant forms of power The making of architecture is instrumental in the construction of our identities our differences the world around us much of what we know of institutions the distribution of power social relations and cultural values is mediated by the built environment Historically architecture has constructed the environments that house the dominant culture Yet as the essays in Reconstructing Architecture demonstrate there exists a strong tradition of critical practice in the field one that attempts to alter existing social power relations Engaging the gap between modernism and postmodernism each chapter addresses an oppositional discourse that has developed within the field and then reconstructs it in terms of a new social project feminism social theory environmentalism cultural studies race and ethnic studies and critical theory The activists and scholars writing here provide a clarion call to architects and other producers of culture challenging them to renegotiate their political allegiances and to help reconstruct a viable democratic life in the face of inexorable forces driving economic growth destroying global ecology homogenizing culture and privatizing the public realm Reconstructing Architecture reformulates the role of architecture in society as well as its capacity to further a progressive social transformation Contributors Sherry Ahrentzen U of Wisconsin Milwaukee Bradford C Grant California Polytechnic State U San Luis Obispo Richard Ingersoll Rice U Margaret Soltan George Washington U Anthony Ward U of Auckland New Zealand Thomas A Dutton is an architect and professor of architecture at Miami University Ohio He is editor of Voices in Architectural Education 1991 and is associate editor of the Journal of Architectural Education Lian Hurst Mann is an architect and editor of Architecture California A founding member of the Labor Community Strategy Center in Los Angeles she is editor of its bilingual quarterly Ahora Now and a coauthor of Reconstructing Los Angeles from the Bottom Up 1993

Women Architects and Politics Mary Pepchinski, Christina Budde, 2022-09-27 In the late 1960s the feminist scholar Kate Millet broadly defined politics as arrangements of power which enable individuals collectively to assert authority over others Taking this definition case studies by scholars from Europe Israel and the United States explore the gendered professional in the 20th century as she navigated arrangements of power including organised religion emancipation movements cultural norms and shifting forms of government to practice architecture Additional contributions reflect upon power structures in contemporary architectural education practice and history to propose other means of architectural knowledge representation and professional activity

Lesbian Histories and Cultures Bonnie Zimmerman, 2000 To reflect this crucial fact The Encyclopedia of Lesbian and Gay Histories and Cultures has been prepared in two separate volumes to assure that both histories receive full unbiased attention and that a broad range of human experience is covered
