Clevenger,2025-05-25 This book revisits the history of the international garden city town planning movement in the early twentieth century focusing on the significance of various forms of physical culture sport recreation leisure and other active body practices within garden city planning discourse and the development of some of the first garden city communities in the United Kingdom and United States      Perfect Communities Edward Berenson, 2025-04-22 The rise and fall of William J Levitt the man who made the suburban house a mass commodity Two material artifacts defined the middle class American lifestyle in the mid twentieth century the automobile which brought gas stations highways commercial strips and sprawl and the single family suburban home the repository of many families long term wealth While the man who did the most to make the automobile a mass commodity Henry Ford is well known few know the story of the man who did the same for the suburban house Edward Berenson describes the remarkable career of William Levitt who did more than anyone else to create the modern suburb In response to an unprecedented housing shortage as veterans returned home from World War II his Levittown developments provided inexpensive mass produced housing that was wildly popular prospective buyers would camp out in line for two days for the chance to put down a deposit on a Levitt house He was a celebrity a life changing hero to tens of thousands and the pitchman of a renewed American Dream But Levitt also shared Ford s dark side He refused to allow Black people to buy or rent in his developments and doggedly defended this practice against legal challenges Leading the way for other developers who emulated his actions he helped ensure that suburbs nationwide remained white enclaves These legacies are still with us Levitt made a major contribution to the stubborn wealth disparity between white families and Black families and his solution to the housing crisis of the 1940s the detached house and surrounding yard is a primary cause of the housing crisis today As a person Levitt was a strangely guileless and tragic figure He accumulated vast wealth but after losing control of his building company surrendered it all through foolish investments and a lavish lifestyle that included a Long Island mansion and a two hundred foot yacht Just weeks before his death as a charity patient in a hospital to which he had once given millions he was still imagining his great comeback      Peaceful Path Stephen Ward, 2016-03-14 The title of this book is taken from Ebenezer Howard s visionary tract To morrow A Peaceful Path to Real Reform Published in 1898 as a manifesto for social reform via the creation of Garden Cities it proposed a new way of providing cheap and healthy homes workplaces and green spaces in balance in cohesive new communities underpinned by radical ideas about collective land ownership While Howard s vision had international impact in this book planning historian Stephen Ward largely honors the special place that Hertfordshire occupies on the peaceful path beginning with the development of Letchworth and Welwyn Garden Cities      The Routledge Handbook of Planning History Carola Hein, 2017-12-14 2018 IPHS Special Book Prize Award Recipient The Routledge Handbook of Planning History offers a comprehensive interdisciplinary overview of planning history since its emergence in the late 19th century investigating the history of the discipline its core writings key people institutions vehicles education and practice Combining theoretical methodological historical comparative and global approaches to planning history The Routledge Handbook of Planning History explores the state of the discipline its achievements and shortcomings and its future challenges A foundation for the discipline and a springboard for scholarly research The Routledge Handbook of Planning History explores planning history on an international scale in thirty eight chapters

providing readers with unique opportunities for comparison The diverse contributions open up new perspectives on the many ways in which contemporary events changing research needs and cutting edge methodologies shape the writing of planning history The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license

From Garden Cities to New Towns Dennis Hardy, 2003-12-16 This book offers a detailed record of one of the world's oldest environmental pressure groups It raises questions about the capacity of pressure groups to influence policy and finally it assesses the campaign as a major factor in the emergence of modern town and planning and as a backdrop against which to examine current issues

The Latin Clerk Aidan Nichols, 2011-12-29 Based on diaries and his published works Nichols presents an account of Adrian Fortescue's developing personality with an interpretative overview of his writing Beginning with Fortescue's family background it looks at his reactions to clerical training and the wider scene in Rome and Austria Hungry at the end of the nineteenth century and the attempts of a widely read and imaginative man to adjust to the limits of priestly life in the East End of London and the home counties in the Edwardian epoch

Utopias and Utopians Richard C.S. Trahair, 2013-10-31 Utopian ventures are worth close attention to help us understand why some succeed and others fail for they offer hope for an improved life on earth Utopias and Utopians is a comprehensive guide to utopian communities and their founders Some works look at literary utopias or political utopias etc and others examine the utopias of only one country this work examines utopias from antiquity to the present and surveys utopian efforts around the world Of more than 600 alphabetically arranged entries roughly half are descriptions of utopian ventures the other half are biographies of those who were involved Entries are followed by a list of sources and a general bibliography concludes the volume

The Radical and Socialist Tradition in British Planning Duncan Bowie, 2018-03-12 Focusing on the key period between the late 18th century and 1914 this book provides the first comprehensive narrative account of radical and socialist texts and organised movements for reform to land planning and housing policies in Britain Beginning with the early colonial settlements in the puritan and enlightenment eras it also covers Benthamite utilitarian planning Owenite and utopian communitarianism the Chartists late Chartists and the First International Christian socialists and positivists working class and radical land reform campaigns in the late 19th century Garden City pioneers and the institutionalisation of the planning profession The book in effect presents a prehistory of land planning and housing reform in the UK in contrast with most historiography which focuses on the immediate pre World War I period Providing an analysis of different intellectual traditions and contrasting middle class led reform initiatives with those based on working class organisations the book seeks to relate historical debates to contemporary themes including utopianism and pragmatism the role of the state the balance between local initiatives and centrally driven reforms and the interdependence of land housing and planning

Sociable Cities Peter Hall, Colin Ward, 2014-06-05 Peter Hall and Colin Ward wrote Sociable Cities to celebrate the centenary of publication of Ebenezer Howard's To-morrow: A Peaceful Path to

Real Reform in 1998 an event they then marked by co editing with Dennis Hardy the magnificent annotated facsimile edition of Howard s original long lost and very scarce in 2003 In this revised edition of Sociable Cities sadly now without Colin Ward Peter Hall writes the sixteen years separating the two editions of this book seem almost like geological time Revisiting the 1998 edition is like going back deep into ancient history The glad confident morning following Tony Blair s election has been followed by political disillusionment the fiscal crash widespread austerity and a marked anti planning stance on the part of the Coalition government But closely following the argument of Good Cities Better Lives How Europe discovered the Lost Art of Urbanism Routledge 2013 to which this book is designed as a companion Hall argues that the central message is now even stronger we need more planning not less And this planning needs to be driven by broad high level strategic visions national regional of the kind of country we want to see Above all Hall shows in the concluding chapters Britain s escalating housing crisis can be resolved only by a massive programme of planned decentralization from London at least equal in scale to the great Abercrombie plan seventy years ago He sets out a picture of great new city clusters at the periphery of South East England sustainably self sufficient in their daily patterns of living and working but linked to the capital by new high speed rail services This is a book that every planner and every serious student of policy making will want to read Published at a time when the political parties are preparing their policy manifestos it is designed to make a major contribution to a major national debate

Changing Contours of Domestic Life, Family and Law Anne Bottomley, Simone Wong, 2009-09-17 Drawing from a wide range of material and socio legal methods this collection brings together original essays written by internationally renowned scholars investigating emerging patterns in the shape and form of the legal regulation of domestic relations Taking as a focus the theme of caring and sharing the collection includes chapters which reflect on the changing contours of what we think of as domestic relations the impact which legal recognition carries in making visible some relationships rather than others the potential for normative values carried within patterns of legal recognition and regulation intersections between private law and public policy the role of private law in the allocation of responsibility and privilege the differential impact of seemingly progressive policies on economically vulnerable or socially marginal groupings tensions between family law models and models carried within other fields of private law and unusually architectures in law and the built environment designed to facilitate broader accounts of domestic relationships This thoughtful provocative and wide ranging collection will be a must for anyone whatever their discipline background interested in the insights and potential offered by a fresh engagement with the complexity of domestic relations and the law Authors Anne Barlow Anne Bottomley Susan Boyd and Cindy Baldassi Alison Diduck Susan Scott Hunt Nan Seuffert Carol Smart Simone Wong and Claire Young

Time's Anvil Richard Morris, 2012-11-22 A personal and lyrical rediscovery of the history of England through archaeology and the imagination History thrives on stories TIME S ANVIL explores archaeology s influence on what such stories say how they are told who tells them and how we listen In a dazzlingly wide ranging exploration Richard Morris casts fresh light on three quarters of a million years of history in the place we now think of as England Drawing upon genres that are usually pursued in isolation like biography poetry or physics he finds potent links between things we might imagine to be unrelated His subjects range from humanity's roots to the destruction of the wildwood from the first farmers to industrialization and from Tudor drama to 20th century conflict Each topic sits at a different point along the continuum between epoch and the fleeting moment In part this is a history of archaeology in part too it is a personal account of the author's history in archaeology But mainly it is about how the past is read and about what we bring to the reading as well as what we find The result is a book that defies categorisation but one which will by turns surprise enthrall and provoke anyone who cares for England who we are and where we have come from TIME'S ANVIL was longlisted for the Samuel Johnson Prize for Non Fiction 2013

Minnie Pallister Alun Burge,2024-09-01 Minnie Pallister is one of those women who has been woefully missing from Welsh history Now she is rightfully restored to her position as a significant figure in twentieth century women's and labour activism thanks to Alun Burge's meticulous research and compelling account of her courageous life story Read on Angela V John Minnie Pallister's life was so fantastic that not even a thriller writer could imagine it A feminist pacifist and socialist she was twice accused of sedition in the First World War before travelling to Nazi Germany in late 1938 and 1939 to rescue Jews helping bring them to Britain at the outbreak of the Second World War In between having reached national prominence in the labour movement in which she was considered the best woman orator and with a Parliamentary career beckoning she was struck down by an illness which cruelly robbed her of speech Suffering years of paralysing infirmity which reduced her to the edge of penury she eventually recovered to become a successful journalist with the Daily Mirror and the Daily Herald Fearless and principled and always challenging not least in advocating gender equality Pallister was initially barred from a position with the BBC because of her socialist politics and later twice banned by the Corporation first for her pacifist then her feminist politics An outstanding broadcaster who became for a time a household name she was a regular contributor to Woman's Hour and as an advocate of women's rights from the 1920s to the 1950s she was a forerunner of the Women's Liberation Movement Pallister was such a compelling figure that her Life Story was serialised on radio over five days during her lifetime
