Islamic Gardens and Landscapes D. Fairchild Ruggles,2011-12-30 Western admirers have long seen the Islamic garden as an earthly reflection of the paradise said to await the faithful However such simplification Ruggles contends denies the sophistication and diversity of the art form Islamic Gardens and Landscapes immerses the reader in the world of the architects of the great gardens of the Islamic world from medieval Morocco to contemporary India Just as Islamic culture is historically dense sophisticated and complex so too is the history of its built landscapes Islamic gardens began from the practical need to organize the surrounding space of human civilization tame nature enhance the earth's yield and create a legible map on which to distribute natural resources Ruggles follows the evolution of these early farming efforts to their aristocratic apex in famous formal gardens of the Alhambra in Spain and the Taj Mahal in Agra Whether in a humble city home or a royal courtyard the garden has several defining characteristics which Ruggles discusses Most notable is an enclosed space divided into four equal parts surrounding a central design element The traditional Islamic garden is inwardly focused usually surrounded by buildings or in the form of a courtyard Water provides a counterpoint to the portioned green sections Ranging across poetry court documents agronomy manuals and early garden representations and richly illustrated with pictures and site plans Islamic Gardens and Landscapes is a book of impressive scope sure to interest scholars and enthusiasts alike Persian Gardens and Pavilions

Mohammad Gharipour, 2013-04-02 From Timur's tent in Samarkand to Shah Abbas's palace in Isfahan and Humayun's tomb in Delhi the pavilion has been an integral part of Persianate gardens since its earliest appearance at the Achaemenid garden in Pasargadae in the sixth century BC Here Mohammad Gharipour places both the garden and the pavilion within their historical literary and artistic contexts emphasizing the importance of the pavilion which has hitherto been overlooked in the study of Iranian historical architecture Starting with an examination of the depictions and representations of gardens in religious texts Gharipour analyses the how the idea of the garden developed from the model of pre Islamic gardens in Achaemenid and Sassanian Persia to its mentions in the Zoroastrian text of Aban Yasht and on to its central role as paradise in the Qur'an Continuing on with an exploration of gardens and pavilions in Persian poetry Gharipour offers in depth analysis of their literal and metaphorical values It is in the poetry of major Persian poets such as Ferdowsi Naser Khosrow Sa'di Rumi and Hafez that Gharipour finds that whilst gardens are praised for their spiritual values they also contain significant symbolic worth in terms of temporal wealth and power Persian Gardens and Pavilions then goes on to examine the garden and the pavilion as reflected in Persian miniature painting sculpture and carpets as well as accounts of travelers to Persia With masters such as Bihzad representing daily life as well as the more mystical prose and poetry in for example Sa'di's Bustan The Orchard and Golestan The Rose Garden the garden and the pavilion can be seen to have crucial semiotic significances and cultural meanings But in addition to this they also point to historical patterns of patronage and ownership which were of central importance in the diplomatic and social life of the royal courts of Persia Gharipour thereby highlights the metaphorical spiritual symbolic and religious aspects of gardens as well as their more materialistic and economic functions This book reaches back through Persia's rich history to explore the material and psychological relationships between human beings pavilions and gardens and will be a valuable resource for Art History Architecture and Iranian Studies New

Renaissance Europe and the Islamic Empires Mohammad Gharipour, 2017-10-12 The cross cultural exchange of ideas that flourished in the Mediterranean during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries profoundly affected European and Islamic society Gardens of Renaissance Europe and the Islamic Empires considers the role and place of gardens and landscapes in the broader context of the information sharing that took place among Europeans and Islamic empires in Turkey Persia and India In illustrating commonalities in the design development and people s perceptions of gardens and nature in both regions this volume substantiates important parallels in the revolutionary advancements in landscape architecture that took place during the era The contributors explain how the exchange of gardeners as well as horticultural and irrigation techniques influenced design traditions in the two cultures examine concurrent shifts in garden and urban landscape design such as the move toward more public functionality and explore the mutually influential effects of politics economics and culture on composed outdoor space In doing so they shed light on the complexity of cultures and politics during the Renaissance A thoughtfully composed look at the effects of cross cultural exchange on garden design during a pivotal time in world history this thought provoking book points to new areas in inquiry about the influences confluences and connections between European and Islamic garden traditions In addition to the editor the contributors include Cristina Castel Branco Paula Henderson Simone M Kaiser Ebba Koch Christopher Pastore Laurent Paya D Fairchild Ruggles Jill Sinclair and Anatole Tchikine

Gardens of the Roman Empire Wilhelmina F. Jashemski, Kathryn L. Gleason, Kim J. Hartswick, Amina-Aïcha Malek, 2017-12-28 In Gardens of the Roman Empire the pioneering archaeologist Wilhelmina F Jashemski sets out to examine the role of ancient Roman gardens in daily life throughout the empire This study therefore includes for the first time archaeological literary and artistic evidence about ancient Roman gardens across the entire Roman Empire from Britain to Arabia Through well illustrated essays by leading scholars in the field various types of gardens are examined from how Romans actually created their gardens to the experience of gardens as revealed in literature and art Demonstrating the central role and value of gardens in Roman civilization Jashemski and a distinguished international team of contributors have created a landmark reference work that will serve as the foundation for future scholarship on this topic An accompanying digital catalogue will be made available at www.gardensoftheromanempire.org

Garden Tourism Richard Benfield, 2013 Garden visitation has been a tourism motivator for many years and can now be enjoyed in many different forms Private garden visiting historical garden tourism urban gardens and a myriad of festivals shows and events all allow the green fingered enthusiast to appreciate the natural world This book traces the history of garden visitation and examines tourist motivations to visit gardens Useful for garden managers and tourism students as well as casual readers it also examines management and marketing of gardens for tourism purposes before concluding with a detailed look at the form and tourism based role of gardens in the future

Gardens of Colombia J. G. Cobo Borda, Claudia Uribe Touri, Cecilia Mejía Hernández, 1996 Unlike architecture sculpture or painting the art of gardening produces living works that grow blossom change and fade As such the garden could be considered the supreme work of art and indeed it has been so in all civilizations A garden on any scale enhances the architecture it surrounds What would Versailles have been without its spectacular gardens and their orderly vistas or the great country houses in England without the eighteenth century landscape designers

Likewise it is hard to imagine rural or urban houses in Colombia without their planned patios and courtyards The jagged geography of Colombia divides it into several contrasting regions the Caribbean coast Antioquia Santander Cundinamarca and Boyaca the Cauca valley and the plains of the Llanos to mention a few The climates and flora of these areas are markedly different but their inhabitants share in common love for plants and a keen interest in gardening Long before there were professional gardeners and landscape designers all Colombians from the wealthy hacendados to the modest campesinos devised and planted their own gardens according to personal taste and economic limitations A delightful eclecticism is captured in these pages in hundreds of photographs of every type of garden from extravagant parks to minute flowered niches Experimentation is commonplace each journey and Sunday excursion brings home additional plants With the added factor of unpredictable rainfalls and prolonged droughts most Colombian gardens are aesthetic and horticultural laboratories In the course of compiling the photographic material for this book it proved impossible to include all gardens worthy of presentation nor could all the gardens featured here be photographed at the peak of their splendor Nevertheless the attentive reader will be able to enjoy an impressive range of plants color composition and integration of cultivation with the natural landscape which in the absence of a great classical tradition make up the particular charm of the Colombian garden
