Gardens Of Love:

Gardens of Love and the Limits of Morality in Early Netherlandish Art Andrea Pearson, 2019-02-26 In Gardens of Love and the Limits of Morality in Early Netherlandish Art Andrea Pearson charts the moralization of human bodies in late medieval and early modern visual culture through paintings by Jan van Eyck and Hieronymus Bosch devotional prints and illustrated books and the celebrated enclosed gardens of Mechelen among other works Drawing on new archival evidence and innovative visual analysis to reframe familiar religious discourses she demonstrates that depicted topographies advanced and sometimes resisted bodily critiques expressed in scripture conduct literature and even legislation Governing many of these redemptive green spaces were the figures of Christ and the Virgin Mary archetypes of purity whose spiritual authority was impossible to ignore yet whose mysteries posed innumerable moral challenges The study reveals that bodily status was the fundamental problem of human salvation in which artists patrons and viewers alike had an interpretive stake The Garden that I Love Alfred Austin, 1896 Unveiling the Garden of Love Lalita Sinha, 2008-07-11 Epic love poems often share common thematic elements love in union love in separation and love in reunion Discover the common ground shared between Islamic Sufism and Hindu Bhaktism through their literary expressions This book examines two classic love poems The Story of Layla Majnun written by Nezami in the Sufi tradition and Gita Govinda written by Jayadeva in the Hindu tradition and finds common experiences of love shared between these seemingly disparate cultures Gardens of Love Meera Godbole-Krishnamurthy, 2018-02-10 Illustrated love stories that take you on a journey through gardens across the world This charming set of illustrated stories takes you on a guided tour through the historic tombs of the Lodhi Garden in New Delhi the magnificent ruins of the Forum Romanum in Rome the deliberately designed natural landscape of Central Park in New York and the topiary oddities of the Hanging Gardens in Mumbai This unusual itinerary takes the characters on a journey of self discovery which unfolds through conversations that gradually reveal the drama of their personal lives of a marriage made and unmade and made again Their walks through vast swathes of history are complemented by exquisite pen and ink drawings The Garden that I Love Alfred Austin, 1907 Love's Garden Peggy Rowe-Ward, Larry Ward, 2008-05-10 A collection of real life Buddhist love stories with commentary and guided exercises for couples developed by Peggy Rowe Ward and Larry Ward senior students and ordained Dharma teachers in the tradition of Zen Master Thich Nhat Hanh These personal stories from couples of a range of different ages and experiences illustrate how Buddhist principles can help couples navigate any stage of their relationship It took the authors some good living and good loving before they realized that the love that they were seeking was already present and available in the depths of their hearts and mind Love does not depend on anything that is happening Out There and is not dependent on anything he or she might do It depends on our own willingness to look within and to act This insight is a result of practicing the teachings of the Buddha on right diligence and right effort The authors have been studying and practicing with Zen master Thich Nhat Hanh and they are happy to report that the practices work In iLove s Garden the authors offer key practices such as The Three Keyes see excerpt for the transformation of suffering and the establishment of happiness These practices have helped them see each other s happiness as their own They share stories and illustrations from their own life and also and those of their friends and students brbrThe practice is not difficult We simply need to get in touch with and nourish the practices that are helping us to experience peace And then we need to stop doing the things that keep us from experiencing peace Larry Ward

Gardening for Love

Elizabeth Lawrence,1988-06-27 Elizabeth Lawrence occupies a secure place in the pantheon of twentieth century gardening writers that includes Gertrude Jekyll and Vita Sackville West of Great Britain and Katherine S White of the United States Her books such as A Southern Garden 1942 and The Little Bulbs 1957 remain in print continuing to win praise from critics and to delight an ever widening circle of readers In Gardening for Love Lawrence reveals another world of garden writing the world of the rural women of the South with whom she corresponded extensively from the late 1950s into the mid 1970s in response to their advertisements for herbs and ornamental perennials in several market bulletins published by state departments of agriculture for the benefit of farmers It was Eudora Welty who awakened Elizabeth Lawrence s interest in this fascinating topic by putting her name on the mailing list of The Mississippi Market Bulletin a twice monthly collection of classified advertisements founded in 1928 and still published today Lawrence soon discovered market bulletins from the Carolinas and other Southern states as well as similar bulletins published privately in the North She began ordering plants from the bulletins and there ensued a lively exchange of letters wit the women who sold them Gardening for Love is Lawrence s exploration of this little known side of American horticulture and her affectionate tribute to country people who shared her passion for plants Drawing on the letters she received sometimes a great many of them from the same persons over many years she delves into traditional plant lore herbal remedies odd and often highly poetic vernacular plant names peculiar to particular regions of the South and the herb collectors of the mountains of the Carolinas and Georgia She focuses primarily on the Southeast and the Deep South but her wide knowledge of both literature and botany gives Gardening for Love a dimension that transcends the category of regional writing The Garden that I Love ... Alfred Austin,1906 A

Garden of Love Thomas B. Clarke,2009-12 Author and seasoned gardener Clarke artistically describes the natural beauty of flowers and the multifaceted dimensions of love Unique aspects of each flower are then brought out as representations of God s love Medieval Gardens Elisabeth B. Watson, 1979 The Garden of Love is an important subject in secular art of the fifteenth century both in Italy and in northern Europe The chief Italian examples were all painted in Tuscany in the late fourteenth and early fifteenth centuries They depict a landscape consisting of a flowery meadow a grove and a great marble fountain where lovers gather to sing dance and make love Allied to the Garden of Love are variations on a horticultural theme gardens for lovers celebrated in history fountains of love hunts set in a forest that conclude alongside a fountain Sometimes too the Garden of Love becomes the setting for narratives and romances In all these instances the Garden is more than a pleasing tapestry like backdrop it serves as a visible symbol of the nature of love itself This book illustrated with 97 excellent photographs attempts to do two things to chart the history of the Garden of Love and explain the significance it once had Book jacket Estranging the Familiar George Douglas Atkins, 1992 In Estranging the Familiar G Douglas Atkins addresses the often lamented state of scholarly and critical writing as he argues for a criticism that is at once theoretically informed and personal The revitalized critical writing he advocates may entail but is not limited to a return to the essay the form critical writing once took and the form that is now enjoying a resurgence of popularity and excellence Atkins contends that to reach a general audience criticism must move away from the impersonality of modern criticism and contemporary theory without embracing the old fashioned essay The venerable familiar essay may remain the basis Atkins writes but its conventional openness receptivity and capaciousness must extend to theory philosophy and the candor that seems to mark the tail end of the twentieth century In noting the timeliness if not the necessity of a return to the essay Atkins also considers our culture s parallel return to the personal When the essay combines good writing with the concerns of the personal Atkins says it becomes a form of criticism that is readable vital and potentially attractive to a large readership Atkins hopes critics will tap into the revitalized interest the essay now enjoys without ignoring the considerable insights and advances of contemporary theory He argues that despite claims to the contrary there is no inherent incompatibility between the essay and modern theory As Atkins considers various experiments in critical writing from Plato to the present notably feminist interest in the personal and autobiographical he contends that these attempts although undeniably important fall short of the desired goal when they emphasize the merely expressive and neglect the artful quality good writing can bring to personal criticism The final third of the book consists of a series of experiments in critical writing that represent the author s own attempts to bridge the gap between theory and popular criticism between an academic and a general audience In essays that illustrate the rhetorical power of the form Atkins describes the reciprocal relationship between his life experience and a reading of The Odyssey explains the role that theory has played in his personal development and chronicles his attempts to find a voice as a writer

Body as Landscape, Love as Intoxication Brian P. Gault, 2019-09-13 Explore metaphors in the exquisite and enigmatic poetry of Song of Songs One of the chief difficulties in interpreting the Song s lyrics is the unusual imagery used to depict the lovers bodies Why is the maiden s hair compared to a flock of goats 4 1 the man s cheeks likened to garden beds of spice 5 13 and the eyes of both lovers described as doves 4 1 5 12 While scholars speculate on the significance of these images a systematic inquiry into the Song s body metaphors is curiously absent Based on insights from cognitive linguistics this study incorporates biblical and comparative data to uncover the meaning of these metaphors surveying literature in the eastern Mediterranean and beyond that shares a similar form poetry and theme love Gault presents an interpretation of the Song s body imagery that sheds light on the perception of beauty in Israel and its relationship to surrounding cultures Features Exploration of the Song s use of universal themes and culturally specific variations Discussion of the Song s literary structure and unity

House & Garden , 1924 The Politics of Love Carla Christina Hustak, 2024-01-23 The Politics of Love explores the entanglement of emotions social movements and science in reconfiguring human and nonhuman relations As Darwin s evolutionary theory informed the development of sexual science and the sex reform movement between the 1890s and the 1920s sex reformers emerged as a group of diverse and culturally influential professionals doctors psychologists artists political activists novelists and academics who shared a profound commitment to changing the world by changing the practice of sex Sex reformers reinvented love as a scientific practice of sex that brought humans and nonhumans into the fold of early twentieth century racial gender and sexual politics Carla Christina Hustak illuminates how sex reformers insistence that love can shift human and nonhuman relations is more than just a historical narrative it is a moment in time interconnected with urgent contemporary concerns over the global implications of our emotional relationships to other humans animals the earth and atmospheric and technological forces
