Cain Erika Lorraine Milam, 2020-11-03 How Cold War America came to attribute human evolutionary success to our species unique capacity for murder After World War II the question of how to define a universal human nature took on new urgency Creatures of Cain charts the rise and precipitous fall in Cold War America of a theory that attributed man s evolutionary success to his unique capacity for murder Drawing on a wealth of archival materials and in depth interviews Erika Lorraine Milam reveals how the scientists who advanced this killer ape theory capitalized on an expanding postwar market in intellectual paperbacks and widespread faith in the power of science to solve humanity s problems even to answer the most fundamental questions of human identity The killer ape theory spread quickly from colloquial science publications to late night television classrooms political debates and Hollywood films Behind the scenes however scientists were sharply divided their disagreements centering squarely on questions of race and gender Then in the 1970s the theory unraveled altogether

when primatologists discovered that chimpanzees also kill members of their own species While the discovery brought an end to definitions of human exceptionalism delineated by violence Milam shows how some evolutionists began to argue for a shared chimpanzee human history of aggression even as other scientists discredited such theories as sloppy popularizations A wide ranging account of a compelling episode in American science Creatures of Cain argues that the legacy of the killer ape persists today in the conviction that science can resolve the essential dilemmas of human nature The Forbidden Garden Simon Parkin, 2024-10-15 From the award winning author of The Island of Extraordinary Captives the riveting untold true story of the botanists at the world's first seed bank who faced an impossible choice during the Siege of Leningrad eat the collection to prevent starvation or protect their life's work to help end world hunger In the summer of 1941 German troops surrounded the Russian city of Leningrad now St Petersburg and began the longest blockade in recorded history one that would ultimately claim the lives of nearly three quarters of a million people At the center of the besieged city stood a converted palace that housed the world's largest collection of seeds more than 250 000 samples hand collected over two decades from all over the globe by world famous explorer geneticist and dissident Nikolai Vavilov who had recently been disappeared by the Soviet government After attempts to evacuate the priceless collection failed and supplies dwindled amongst the three million starving citizens the employees at the Plant Institute were left with a terrible choice Should they save the collection Or themselves These were not just any seeds The botanists believed they could be bred into heartier disease resistant and more productive varieties suited for harsh climates therefore changing the future of food production and preventing famines like those that had plagued their countrymen before But protecting the seeds was no idle business The scientists rescued potato samples under enemy fire extinguished bombs landing on the seed bank's roof and guarded the collection from scavengers the bitter cold and their own hunger Then in the war's eleventh hour Nazi plunderers presented a new threat to the collection Drawing from previously unseen sources award winning journalist Simon Parkin who has an inimitable capacity to find the human pulse in the underbelly of war The Spectator tells the incredible true story of the botanists who held their posts at the Plant Institute during the 872 day siege and the remarkable sacrifices they made in the name of science Selves at Risk Ihab Hassan, 1990 In this era of supersonic jets ubiquitous McDonalds and pervasive Panasonics in our coddled jacuzzi culture our cybernetic society of acronyms and first names does the spirit of quest endure Indeed from rain forests across oceans steppes savannahs and saharas to the peaks of the Andes or Himalayas American writers still test the limits of human existence They test spirit flesh marrow and imagination in a timeless quest for meaning beyond civilization at the razor edge of mortality And they return with sun cracked skin and gazes honed on horizons to tell us the tale Ihab Hassan's new book on quests turns out to be a quest of his own He takes us through an invigorating range of today's American writers as they test themselves against the far corners of our tattered planet Hassan shows us how their quests and incidentally his own entwine risks commitments and desperate exercises in belief how their aspirations are human but uniquely American This is a book everyone interested in American culture can learn from and enjoy Hassan s voice is one of graceful wisdom and passionate elegance a refreshing landfall in today s turgid sea of criticism Norman N Holland University of Florida Forbidden Garden Tracy Fobes,2011-05-07 Anne Sherwood has made her life into a safe orderly garden She draws the plants of London s famous Kew Gardens an entirely suitable occupation for a widowed lady in Queen Victoria s England Then a compelling invitation takes her to Ireland to sketch a recently discovered tree a golden sapling with unusual qualities and even more mysterious origins Determined to learn more Anne finds herself confronting Michael McEvoy an enigmatic figure who prefers the loneliness of the wild to society and its entrapments Michael s heart beats to the rhythm of the land The ebb and flow of the seasons and the cadence are his calendar and clock When the prim Englishwoman arrives he is stunned to discover her conventional exterior hides a kindred spirit one as sensitive as he to growing things his perfect mate But as much as he longs to make her his they must first expose the origins of the sapling and the dangerous corruption of nature that it represents Rereading the Machine in the Garden Eric Erbacher,Nicole Maruo-Schröder,Florian Sedlmeier,2014-11-06 The Machine in the Garden gilt als Gründungstext der Amerikastudien als wissenschaftliche Disziplin Die Beiträge des Sammelbands unterziehen das dort proklamierte Spannungsverhältnis zwischen Natur und Technik einer Relektüre Sie untersuchen industrielle bürokratische und digitale Größen in Film und Literatur und beleuchten deren Funktion vor verschiedenen kulturhistorischen Hintergründen The War Geoffrey C. Ward,Ken Burns,2007-09-11 The vivid voices that speak from these pages are not those of historians or scholars They are the voices of ordinary men and women who experienced and helped to win the most devastating war in history in which between 50 and 60 million lives were lost Focusing on the citizens of four towns Luverne Minnesota Sacramento California Waterbury Connecticut Mobile Alabama The War follows more than forty people from 1941 to 1945 Woven largely from their memories the compelling unflinching narrative unfolds month by bloody month with the outcome always in doubt All the iconic events are here from Pearl Harbor to the liberation of the concentration camps but we also move among prisoners of war and Japanese American internees defense workers and schoolchildren and families who struggled simply to stay together while their men were shipped off to Europe the Pacific and North Africa Enriched by maps and hundreds of photographs including many never published before this is an intimate profoundly affecting chronicle of the war that shaped our world Inventing Custer Edward Caudill,Paul Ashdown,2015-09-03 Custer s Last Stand remains one of the most iconic events in American history and culture Had Custer prevailed at the Little Bighorn the victory would have been noteworthy at the moment worthy of a few newspaper headlines In defeat however tactically inconsequential in the larger conflict Custer became legend In Inventing Custer The Making of an American Legend Edward Caudill and Paul Ashdown bridge the gap between the Custer who lived and the one we ve immortalized and mythologized into legend While too many books about Custer treat the Civil War period only as a prelude to the Little Bighorn Caudill and Ashdown present him as a product of the Civil War

Reconstruction Era and the Plains Indian Wars They explain how Custer became mythic shaped by the press and changing sentiments toward American Indians and show the many ways the myth has evolved and will continue to evolve as the United States continues to change

In a Strange Room David Sherman, 2014 Taking its title from Faulkner s epochal modernist novel David Sherman s study traces the myriad ways death and its effect on the living defined modernist fiction and verse in England Ireland and the U S A focus on the disturbing but recurring image of the corpse allows Sherman to consider a range of texts marked by their sense of mortal fragility Wilfred Owen s war poetry and Virginia Woolf s early novel Jacob s Room illustrate an incipient anxiety over new governmental techniques for efficiently managing the burial of the dead during World War I Joyce s Ulysses and As I Lay Dying offer opportunities to consider narratives organized by the problem of an unburied corpse Eliot s The Waste Land and Djuna Barnes s novel Nightwood which Eliot edited demonstrate how modernist writers often respond to death and the loss of corporality with erotic encounters at the moment mortality is most threatened Two poems by William Carlos Williams and Wallace Stevens in the monograph s concluding section provide emblems for competing attitudes toward the disposal of the dead in the first half of the twentieth century Enriched by insights from psychology anthropology and philosophy In a Strange Room presents a richly textured transatlantic study of a defining aspect of modernist literature and culture
