Ecologies of Community in Performance Karen Savage,Dominic Symonds,2025-10-02 In their previous book Economies of Collaboration in Performance Savage and Symonds explored the economy as a metaphor for understanding collaborative practices in the arts This book Ecologies of Community in Performance continues to explore arts practices focusing on communities and turning to the language of ecology to understand the complexities and working dynamics of arts communities The book provides a thoughtful analysis of how communities work as ecologies offering case studies of community processes by way of illustrating the main discussion In doing so it reveals how the triangulation of ecology community and performance allows for a deeper understanding of dynamic relations in the arts enabling scholars practitioners and policy makers to better conceptualise ecological thinking in relation to 21st century arts practices The Architecture of Error Francesca Hughes,2014-11-07 Why the rise of redundant precision in architecture and the accompanying fear of error are key to understanding the discipline s needs anxieties and desires When architects draw even brick walls to six decimal places with software designed to cut lenses it is clear that the logic that once organized relations between precision and material error in construction has unraveled Precision already a promiscuous term seems now to have been uncoupled from its contract with truthfulness Meanwhile error and the always political space of its dissent has reconfigured itself In The Architecture of Error Francesca Hughes argues that behind the architect s acute fetishization of redundant precision lies a special fear of physical error What if we were to consider the pivotal cultural and technological transformations of modernism to have been driven not so much by the causes its narratives declare she asks as by an unspoken horror of loss of control over error material life and everything that matter stands for Hughes traces the rising intolerance of material vagaries from the removal of ornament to digitalized fabrication that produced the blind rejection of organic materials the proliferation of material testing and the rhetorical obstacles that blighted cybernetics Why is it she asks that the more we cornered physical error the more we feared it Hughes s analysis of redundant precision exposes an architecture of fear whose politics must be called into question Proposing error as a new category for architectural thought Hughes draws on other disciplines and practices that have interrogated precision and failure citing the work of scientists Nancy Cartwright and Evelyn Fox Keller and visual artists Gordon Matta Clark Barbara Hepworth Rachel Whiteread and others These non architect practitioners she argues show that error need not be excluded and precision can be made accountable
