Gathered And Sent The Mission Of Small Church Communities Today:

Gathered and Sent Bernard J. Lee, Michael A. Cowan, 2003 In Gathered and Sent Bernard Lee and Michael Cowan propose a mode of doing theology within small Christian communities that is marked by conversation and active participation by all. It is a practical theology where people reflect on their whole lives personal and social in the light of Christian faith, make commitments to action in light of that reflection, and hold one another accountable for those commitments. BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc. All Rights Reserved The Church on the Margins Mary R. Sawyer, 2003-07-24 Examines the state of the American Christian community from a cross cultural perspective.

Rebuilt Michael White, Tom Corcoran, 2012-02-28 Drawing on the wisdom gleaned from thriving mega churches and innovative business leaders while anchoring their vision in the Eucharistic center of Catholic faith, Fr. Michael White and lay associate Tom Corcoran present the compelling and inspiring story of how they brought their parish back to life. Rebuilt: Awakening the Faithful, Reaching the Lost, and Making Church Matter is a story of stopping everything and changing focus. When their parish reached a breaking point, White and Corcoran asked themselves how they could make the Church matter to Catholics, and they realized the answer was at the heart of the Gospel. Their faithful response not only tripled their weekend mass attendance but also yielded increased giving, flourishing ministries, and a vibrant, solidly Catholic spiritual revival. White and Corcoran invite all Catholic leaders to share the vision, borrow their strategies, and rebuild their own parishes. They offer a wealth of guidance for anyone with the courage to hear them. Urban Ecclesiology Pascal D. Bazzell, 2015-05-21 Pascal D. Bazzell brings the marginal ecclesiology of a Filipino ecclesial community facing homelessness into contemporary ecclesiological conversation in order to deepen the ecumenical understanding of today's ecclesial reality. He contributes relevant data to support a theory of an ecclesial-oriented paradigm that fosters ecclesial communities within homeless populations. There is an extensive dialogue occurring between ecclesiologies, church planting theories, or urban missions and the urban poor. Yet the situation with the homeless population is almost entirely overlooked. The majority of urban mission textbooks do not acknowledge an ecclesial-oriented state of being and suggest that the street-level environment is a place where no discipleship can occur and no church should exist. By presenting the FECH's case study, Bazzell emphasizes that it is possible to live on the streets and to grow in the faith of God as an ecclesial community. To be able to describe the FECH's ecclesial narrative, Bazzell develops a local ecclesiological methodology that aims to bridge the gap between more traditional systematic and theoretical ideal ecclesiology and practical-oriented ecclesiology. e.g. congregational studies in order to hold together theological and social understandings of the church in its local reality. He articulates a theological framework for the FECH to reflect on who they are, the essence of identity studies, who they are in relationship to God, the essence of theological studies, and what that means for believers in that community as they relate to God and to each other in ways that are true to who they are and to who God intends them to be, the essence of ecclesial studies The research provides a seldom heard empirical tour into the FECH's social world and communal identity The theological findings from the FECH's hermeneutical work on the Gospel of Mark reveal an understanding of church being developed as gathering around Jesus that creates a space for God's presence to be embodied in their ordinary relationships and activities and to invite others to participate in that gathering Moreover it addresses ecclesial issues of the supernatural world honor shame values and further develop the neglected image of the familia Dei in classical ecclesiology that encapsulates well the FECH's nature mission and place

House Churches in Post-Communist Europe Randy Hacker, 2023-02-10 This is an exploration of house churches especially in Poland The book begins with a review of literature about the global house church movement and continues with an article on the early Christian transition from house churches to purpose built buildings for churches Next is an article regarding the concept of sacred space in relation to house churches The first half concludes with a chapter on methodology of research for a qualitative interview approach to studying house churches The thesis then presents a theological method for using the qualitative interviews to develop ecclesiology Sixteen interviews from thirteen house churches are presented The thesis continues the theological method by attempting to answer the question why is it going on and presents a thematic analysis from the qualitative interviews that includes input from sociological research done in Poland The thesis concludes by using scriptural and academic sources in conversation with house church interviews from the interviews and global house church literature to present four primary conclusions in a practical prophetic ecclesiology
