The Romance of Authenticity Jeff Kareem,2004 To what extent has the demand for a vicarious experience of other cultures fuelled the expectation that the most important task for writers is to capture and convey authentic cultural material This text argues that authenticity is in fact a restrictive category of literary judgment Remembering the Past in

Contemporary African American Fiction Keith Byerman,2006-05-18 With close readings of more than twenty novels by writers including Ernest Gaines Toni Morrison Charles Johnson Gloria Naylor and John Edgar Wideman Keith Byerman examines the trend among African American novelists of the late twentieth century to write about black history rather than about their own present Employing cultural criticism and trauma theory Byerman frames these works as survivor narratives that rewrite the grand American narrative of individual achievement and the march of democracy The choice to write historical narratives he says must be understood historically These writers earned widespread recognition for their writing in the 1980s a period of African American commercial success as well as the economic decline of the black working class and an increase in black on black crime Byerman contends that a shared experience of suffering joins African American individuals in a group identity and writing about the past serves as an act of resistance against essentialist ideas of black experience shaping the cultural discourse of the present Byerman demonstrates that these novels disrupt the temptation in American society to engage history only to limit its significance or to crown successful individuals while forgetting the victims All

My Relatives Bonnie TuSmith,1994 Challenges the prevailing notion that the work of all American writers reflects a sense of determined individualism Volker Schlöndorff's Cinema Hans Bernhard Moeller,George L Lellis,2012-10-31 Volker Schl ndorff's Cinema Adaptation Politics and the Movie Appropriate examines the work of major postwar German director Volker Schlöndorff in historical economic and artistic contexts Incorporating a film by film twenty eight chapter study Hans Bernhard Moeller George Lellis reveal a complexity and formalambitiousness of Schlöndorff that is comparable to that found in Wenders Herzog and Fassbinder In spite of Schlöndorff's successes with films like The Lost Honor of Katharina Blum and The Tin Drum as well as his acclaimed work in the U S with Death of a Salesman Gathering of Old Men and The Handmaid's Tale this is the first in depth critical study of the filmmaker's career In the context of film and television history this book relates Schlöndorff's oeuvre to the New German Cinema to his formative years as a student and production assistant in France and to his roots in the Weimar cinema's tradition It reveals how Schlöndorff entered into the German film production system in the 1960s how he came to rely on German public television in the 1970s and then moved to the international and American financing in the 1980s attempting to redevelop the Babelsberg studios in a 1990s post Wall Germany while continuing to make his own films into the 21st century The book captures how Schlöndorff's nearly half century of ongoing creativity and productivity ties together The authors analyze the artistry of each Schlöndorff movie arguing that his output as a whole embodies a provocative and sometimes contradictory set of balances Schlöndorff combines commercial interest with significant artistic ambition blends the kinesthetic pleasures of moving images with the seriousness of fine literature links the intensity of individualized personal experience to an awareness of broader political issues and represents a specifically German sensibility even as he reaches out to the international audiences The authors demonstrate the cyclical recurrence in his cinema of certain themes individual and collective rebellion fascist suppression masochistic love narrative patterns the Western the thriller the subjective mood piece and stylistic approaches Brechtian Verfremdung the creation of careful leitmotif structures the use of the grotesque In over thirty years of filmmaking Schlöndorff has produced a remarkable unified body of work that deserves the attention of a book length study Authors Hans Bernhard Moeller and George Lellis offer the first such study of its kind Volker Schlöndorff's Cinema Adaptation Politics and the Movie Appropriate features forty one illustrations

Crazy Horse Weeps Joseph M. Marshall, 2019-04-22 For Lakota Dakota and Nakota people historical trauma chronically underfunded federal programs and broken promises on the part of the US government have resulted in gaping health educational and economic disparities compared to the general population Crazy Horse Weeps offers a thorough historical overview of how South Dakota reservations have wound up in these tragic circumstances showing how discrimination a disorganized tribal government and a devastating dissolution of Lakota culture by the US government have transformed the landscape of Native life Yet these extraordinary challenges Marshall argues can be overcome Focusing on issues of identity and authenticity he uses his extensive experience in traditional Lakota wisdom to propose a return to traditional tribal values and to outline a plan for a hopeful future

Byerman, 2010-08-01 In Fingering the Jagged Grain Keith E Byerman discusses how black writers such as Toni Morrison Ishmael Reed and Ernest Gaines have moved away from the ideological rigidity of the black arts movement that arose in the 1960s to create a more expressive imaginative and artistic fiction inspired by the example of Ralph Ellison's Invisible Man Combining a strong concern for technique and craftsmanship with elements of African American heritage including jazz blues spirituals cautionary tales and voodoo these writers have created a vital fiction that celebrates the strength and resilience of the black American voice as it recounts the painful details and brutal episodes of black experience The
