Noa Noa Paul Gauguin, 1985-01-01 Paul Gauguin fled what he called filthy Europe in 1891 to what he hoped would be an unspoiled paradise Tahiti He painted 66 magnificent canvases during the first two years he spent there and kept notes from which he later wrote Noa Noa a journal recording his thoughts and impressions of that time Noa Noa the most widely known of Gauguin's writings is reproduced here from a rare early edition 1919 in a lucid translation capturing the artist's unpretentious style Page after page reveals Gauguin's keen observations of Tahiti and its people and his passionate struggle to achieve the inner harmony he expressed so profoundly on canvas Gauguin's prose is as seductive as his paintings filled with descriptions of warm seas hidden lagoons lush green forests and beautiful Maori women The journal is captivating reading offering a compelling autobiographical fragment of the soul of a genius and a rare glimpse of Oceanian culture The brief periods of happiness Gauguin found among the Tahitians are eloquently expressed in his narrative We understand the motives that drove him and gain a deeper appreciation of his art Today the manuscript provides unparalleled insight into Gauguin's thoughts as he strove to achieve spiritual peace and into the wellsprings of a singular artistic style which changed the course of modern art This wonderfully affordable edition enhanced by 24 of Gauguin's South Seas drawings makes a unique and passionate testament accessible to all art lovers

The Paintings of Paul Gauguin Eugene Henri Paul Gauguin,2011-10-14 In this book 310 paintings are reproduced on 224 color plates It is a rather large collection in one compendium covering the prolific painter s and artist s most dramatic and expressive period from 1887 to his death in 1903 The book begins with a biography a eulogy by Charles Morice 1903 and excerpts from Gauguin s book Noa Noa narrating his adventures on Tahiti and the Marquesas Islands In a somber slightly hoarse voice Gauguin said Primitive art comes from the spirit and uses nature So called refined art comes from sensuality and serves nature Nature is the servant of the first and the mistress of the second But the servant cannot forget her origins she degrades the artist by allowing him to adore her This is how we fall into the abominable error of Naturalism Naturalism begins with the Greece of Pericles Since then there have been no more or less great artists except those who have somehow reacted against this error but their reactions have been no more than leaps of memory glimmers of good sense within a movement of decadence in the end uninterrupted for centuries Truth is purely cerebral art this is primitive art the most learned of all this was Egypt There is the principle In our present misery there can be no salvation without a rational and sincere return to the principle And this return is the necessary action of Symbolism in poetry and art

Gauguin's Challenge Norma Broude,2018-03-08 Several decades have now passed since postcolonial and feminist critiques presented the art historical world with a demythologized Paul Gauguin 1848 1903 a much diminished image of the artist hero who had once been universally admired as the father of modernist primitivism In this volume both long established and more recent Gauguin scholars offer a provocative picture of the evolution of Gauguin scholarship in the recent postmodern era as they confront and consider how the dismantling of the longstanding Gauguin myth positions us now in the 21st century to deal with and assess the life work and legacy of this still perennially popular artist To reassess the challenges that Gauguin faced in his own day as well as those that he continues to present to current and future scholarship they explore the multiple contexts that influenced Gauguin's thought and behavior as well as his art and incorporate a variety of interdisciplinary approaches from anthropology philosophy and the history of science to gender studies and the study of Pacific cultural history Dealing with a wide range of Gauguin's production they challenge conventional art historical thinking highlight transnational perspectives and offer clues to the direction of future scholarship as audiences worldwide seek to make multicultural peace with Gauguin and his art Broude has raised the bar of Gauguin scholarship ever higher in this groundbreaking volume which will be necessary reading for students and scholars of art history late 19th century French and Pacific culture gender studies and beyond Masterpieces of European Painting, 1800-1920, in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Kathryn Calley Galitz, 2007 Travel, Tourism and Art Tijana Rakić, Jo-Anne Lester, 2016-02-17 Art in its many forms has long played an important role in people's imagination experience and remembrance of places cultures and travels as well as in their motivation to travel Travel and tourism on the other hand have also inspired numerous artists and featured in many artworks The fascinating relationships between travel tourism and art encompass a wide range of phenomena from historical Grand Tours during which a number of travellers experienced or produced artwork to present day travel inspired by art artworks produced by contemporary travellers or artworks produced by locals for tourist consumption Focusing on the representations of touristic places locals travellers and tourists in artworks the role of travel and tourism in inspiring artists as well as the role of art and artwork in imagining experiencing and remembering places and motivating travel and tourism this edited volume provides a space for an exploration of both historical and contemporary relationships between travel tourism and art Bringing together scholars from a wide range of disciplines and fields of study including geography anthropology history philosophy and urban cultural tourism art and leisure studies this volume discusses a range of case studies across different art forms and locales Gauguin: Tahiti Paul Gauguin, Henri Perruchot, 1958 Paul Gauguin Eckhard Hollmann, Simon Haviland, 1996 Staging the Artist Claire Moran, 2017-07-05 Restoring the role of theatrical performance as both subject and trope in the aesthetics of self representation Staging the Artist questions how nineteenth century French and Belgian artists self consciously fashioned their identities through their art and writings This emphasis on performance allows for a new understanding of the processes of self fashioning which underlie self representation in word and image Claire Moran offers new interpretations of works by major nineteenth century figures such as Paul Gauguin and Edgar Degas and addresses the neglected topic of the function of theatre in the development of modern visual art Incarnating Baudelaire's metaphor of the artist as an actor ever conscious of his role the artists discussed Courbet Ensor and Van Gogh among others employed theatre as both a thematic source and formal inspiration in their painting writings and social behaviour Moran argues that what renders this visual literary and social performance modern is its self consciousness which in turn serves as a model with which to challenge pictorial convention This book suggests that tracing modern performance and artistic identity to the nineteenth century provides a greater understanding not only of the significance of theatre in the development of modern art but also highlights the self conscious staging inherent to modern artistic identity
