Good Soldier Carcanet Fiction:

Between Self and Society John Rodden, 2016-01-15 Between Self and Society explores the psychosocial dramas that galvanize six major British novels written between the eighteenth and twentieth centuries. The book challenges an influential misconception that has for too long hindered appreciation of the psychological novel. John Rodden argues that there should be no simplifying antithesis between psychological inner conflicts within the mind or soul and institutional outer conflicts within family, class, community. Instead, it is the overarching dramatic yet often tortuous relations between self and society that demand our attention. Rodden presents fresh interpretations of an eclectic group of prose fiction classics including Tobias Smollett's The Adventures of Roderick Random, William Godwin's Caleb Williams, Thomas Hardy's The Mayor of Casterbridge, Ford Madox Ford's The Good Soldier, Wyndham Lewis's Tarr, and D. H. Lawrence's Women in Love. Far from being merely admirable experiments, let alone daring though interesting failures, these fictions are shown to possess aesthetic unity, stylistic consistency, and psychic force. Between Self and Society thus impels our careful reconsideration of novels that represent major artistic achievements yet have been either unjustly neglected or appreciated in limiting ways that do injustice to their psychological aspects. Rodden's vibrant discussion invites an upward reevaluation of these works and encourages the full recognition of their value and significance in British literary history.

The Good Soldier Ford Madox Ford, 2012-09-06 A masterpiece of early Modernism, The Good Soldier tells the story of the unfolding relationships between two couples in the words of an archetypal unreliable narrator. Its portrayal of the destruction of a civilized elite is a work of unforgettable power and literary skill, here accompanied by Ford's important essay On Impressionism.

The Good Soldier Ford Madox Ford, 1996 For nine years John Dowell and his wife have spent the summer season at a German spa town in the company of the respectable Ashburnhams. Behind the placid exterior of their lives lie the destructive passions of men and women. When Dowell's world breaks apart, he tells his story as intimately as to a silent listener across the fireplace of a country cottage. Who in this world knows anything of any other heart or of his own?

Ford Madox Ford's The Good Soldier

, 2015-06-02 The controversial British writer Ford Madox Ford is increasingly recognized as a major presence in early twentieth-century literature. He is best known for his fiction, especially The Good Soldier, long considered a modernist masterpiece, and Parade's End, which was adapted by Tom Stoppard for the acclaimed 2012 television series starring Benedict Cumberbatch. This volume marks the centenary of The Good Soldier with eighteen essays by established experts and new scholars. It includes groundbreaking work on the novel's narrative technique, chronology, and genre, plus pioneering work considering the treatment of bodies and minds, eugenics, poison, and surveillance. Innovative comparative studies discuss Ford's novel in relation to Henry James, Violet Hunt, H. G. Wells, Franz Kafka, Jean Rhys, David Jones, and Lawrence Durrell.

Be a Good Soldier Jennifer Margaret Fraser, 2011-01-01 In the modern era, children experiencing grief were encouraged to dry their tears and be good soldiers. How was this phenomenon interrogated and deconstructed in the period's literature?

Be a Good Soldier initiates conversation on the figure of the child in modernist novels investigating the demand for emotional suppression as manifested later in cruelty and aggression in adulthood Jennifer Margaret Fraser provides sophisticated close readings of key works by Joseph Conrad Virginia Woolf and James Joyce among others who share striking concerns about the concept of infantry both as a collection of infants and as foot soldiers of war A phenomenon associated traditionally with Freud Fraser instead uses a unique Derridean theoretical prism to provide new ways of understanding modernist concerns with power dynamics knowledge and meaning Be a Good Soldier establishes a pioneering nuanced vocabulary for further historical and cultural inquiries into modernist childhood The Encyclopedia of Twentieth-Century Fiction, 3 Volume Set

Suicide Century Andrew Bennett,2017-10-05 Suicide Century investigates suicide as a prominent theme in twentieth century and contemporary literature Andrew Bennett argues that with the waning of religious and legal prohibitions on suicide in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries and the increasing influence of medical and sociological accounts of its causes and significance in the twentieth century literature responds to the act and idea as an increasingly normalised but incessantly baffling phenomenon Discussing works by a number of major authors from the long twentieth century the book explores the way that suicide makes and unmakes subjects assumes and disrupts meaning induces and resists empathy and insists on and makes inconceivable our understanding of ourselves and of others

Underground Writing David Welsh,2010-05-04 The purpose of this book is to explore the ways in which the London Underground Tube was mapped by a number of writers from George Gissing to Virginia Woolf From late Victorian London to the end of the World War II underground writing created an imaginative world beneath the streets of London The real subterranean railway was therefore re enacted in number of ways in writing including as Dantean Underworld or hell as gateway to a utopian future as psychological looking glass or as place of safety and security The book is a chronological study from the opening of the first underground in the 1860s to its role in WW2 Each chapter explores perspectives on the underground in a number of writers starting with George Gissing in the 1880s moving through the work of H G Wells and into the writing of the 1920s 1930s including Virginia Woolf and George Orwell It concludes with its portrayal in the fiction poetry and art including Henry Moore of WW2 The approach takes a broadly cultural studies perspective crossing the boundaries of transport history literature and London urban studies It draws mainly on fiction but also uses poetry art journals postcards and posters to illustrate It links the actual underground trains tracks and stations to the metaphorical world of underground writing and places the writing in a social political context

Realism, Form, and Representation in the Edwardian Novel Charlotte Jones,2021-01-07 The real represents to my perception the things that we cannot possibly not know sooner or later in one way or another wrote Henry James in 1907 This description riven with double negatives hesitation and uncertainty encapsulates the epistemological difficulties of realism for underlying its narrative and descriptive apparatus as an aesthetic mode lies a philosophical quandary What grounds the real of the realist novel What kind of perception is required to validate the experience of reality How does the realist novel represent the difficulty of knowing What comes to the fore in James's account as in so many is how the forms of realism are constituted by a relation to unknowing absence and ineffability Realism Form and Representation in the Edwardian Novel recovers a neglected literary history centred on the intricate relationship between fictional representation and philosophical commitment It asks how or if we can conceptualize realist novels when the objects of their representational intentions are realities that might exist beyond what is empirically verifiable by sense

data or analytically verifiable by logic and are thus irreducible to conceptual schemes or linguistic practices a formulation Charlotte Jones refers to as synthetic realism In new readings of Edwardian novels including Conrad's Nostromo and The Secret Agent Wells's Tono Bungay and Ford's The Good Soldier this volume revises and reconsiders key elements of realist novel theory metaphor and metonymy character interiority the insignificant detail omniscient narration and free indirect discourse causal linearity to uncover the representational strategies by which realist writers grapple with the recalcitrance of reality as a referential anchor and seek to give form to the force opacity and uncertain scope of realities that may lie beyond the material In restoring a metaphysical dimension to the realist novel's imaginary Realism Form and Representation in the Edwardian Novel offers a new conceptualization of realism both within early twentieth century literary culture and as a transhistorical mode of representation

Portable Modernisms Emily Ridge, 2017-06-23 Luggage is an overlooked detail in the stock sketch of the expatriated modernist writer from the valise fashioned desks of both James Joyce and Vladimir Nabokov to the lost manuscript laden cases of Ernest Hemingway and Walter Benjamin While the trope of modernist exile has long been spotlighted little attention has been given to the material meaning of this condition What things and objects do modernism's exiles and emigres carry with them and how does the act of carriage enter into the modernist picture more broadly What are the implications and historical resonances of a portable outlook particularly from the angles of gender wartime conflict and character conception Above all how far does such an outlook impact upon artistic vision Portability represents the simultaneous transportation and repudiation of domesticity and the home those key frames of reference in the nineteenth century novel This book examines the multifarious ways in which the emergence of a modern culture of portability prompts a radical if often problematic departure from Victorian architectural conceptions of fiction towards more movable understandings of form and character

Genre and Extravagance in the Novel Jed Rasula, 2021 Examines the form of the novel capaciously defined and across its history exploring the interplay of conformity and experimentation in classic and outlier examples of the genre with a focus on Joseph Conrad Henry James and Virginia Woolf
