of Creole culture She moved to Delaware after she and Dunbar unfortunately separated in 1902 she died four years later She married a fellow teacher in 1910 and divorced him the following year however in 1916 she married journalist Robert J Nelson who was influential for her precise and incisive literary style The Southern Workman, 1900 Black American Writing from the Nadir Dickson D. Bruce, Jr., 1992-08-01 In this wide ranging study Dickson D Bruce Jr analyzes post Reconstruction and turn of the century black writing treating minor as well as major authors and considering a broad range of genres Bruce shows that black writers confronted the conditions of an increasingly racist society in almost every aspect of their work from their choice of subject matter to the way they drew their characters to the mood they portrayed At the same time these writers most of whom were members of a small but growing black professional class displayed a concern for middle class aspirations and values Bruce underscores the significance of discerning the tensions between these opposing forces in studying the literature of the time Bruce s attention to the body of work produced by minor writers most of whom have remained obscure to all but a few literary scholars and historians adds an important dimension to our understanding of African American history and literature His discussion of such better known writers as Charles W Chesnutt Paul Laurence Dunbar James Weldon Johnson and W E B Du Bois places them in a fuller literary context defining more clearly their significance as individuals Black American Writing from the Nadir is an insightful well focused work that will benefit social and cultural historians as well as students of literature

Wounds of Returning Jessica Adams, 2012-09-01 From Storyville brothels and narratives of turn of the century New Orleans to plantation tours Bette Davis films Elvis memorials Willa Cather s fiction and the annual prison rodeo held at the Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola Jessica Adams considers spatial and ideological evolutions of southern plantations after slavery In Wounds of Returning Adams shows that the slave past returns to inhabit plantation landscapes that have been radically transformed by tourism consumer culture and modern modes of punishment even those landscapes from which slavery has supposedly been banished completely Adams explores how the commodification of black bodies during slavery did not disappear with abolition rather the same principle was transformed into modern consumer capitalism As Adams demonstrates however counternarratives and unexpected cultural hybrids erupt out of attempts to re create the plantation as an uncomplicated scene of racial relationships or a signifier of national unity Peeling back the layers of plantation landscapes Adams reveals connections between seemingly disparate features of modern culture suggesting that they remain haunted by the force of the unnatural equation of people as property

The American Short Story Handbook James Nagel, 2015-02-23 This is a concise yet comprehensive treatment of the American short story that includes an historical overview of the topic as well as discussion of notable American authors and individual stories from Benjamin Franklin s The Speech of Miss Polly Baker in 1747 to The Joy Luck Club Includes a selection of writers chosen not only for their contributions of individual stories but for bodies of work that advanced the boundaries of short fiction including Washington Irving Sarah Orne Jewett Stephen Crane Jamaica Kincaid and Tim O Brien Addresses the ways in which American oral storytelling and other narrative traditions were integral to the formation and flourishing of the short story genre Written in accessible and engaging prose for students at all levels by a renowned literary scholar to illuminate an important genre that has received short shrift in scholarly literature of the last century Includes a glossary defining the most common terms used in literary history and in critical discussions of fiction and a bibliography of works for further study
