Performance Under Stress James Szalma,Peter A Hancock,2018-10-09 The world is a dangerous place and recent events have served to make it less safe There are many arenas of conflict and even combat across the world Such situations are the quintessential expression of stress you stand in imminent danger and live with the knowledge that you may be attacked injured or even killed at any moment How do people perform under these conditions How do they keep a heightened level of vigilance when nothing may happen in their immediate location for weeks or even months What happens when the bullets actually start flying How is it you distinguish friend from foe and each from innocent bystanders when in immediate peril of your life Can we design technology to help people make good decisions in these ultimately hazardous situations To what degree does your membership in a team act to dissipate these particular effects Can we generate sufficiently stressful field exercises to simulate these conditions and can we train and or select those most able to withstand such adverse conditions How will the next generation of servicemen
