National

Treatment United Nations Conference on Trade and Development,1999 The national treatment standard is perhaps the single most important standard of treatment enshrined in international investment agreements At the same time it is perhaps the most difficult standard to achieve as it touches upon economically and politically sensitive issues In fact no single country has so far seen itself in a position to grant national treatment without qualifications especially when it comes to the establishment of an investment National treatment can be defined as a principle whereby a host country extends to foreign investors treatment that is at least as favourable as the treatment that it accords to national investors in like circumstances In this way the national treatment standard seeks to ensure a degree of competitive equality between national and foreign investors

Employment United Nations Conference on Trade and Development,2000 The inclusion of employment issues in international investment agreements IIAs is a relatively new phenomenon although the development of international labour standards dates back to the establishment of the International Labour Organization ILO in 1919 The main employment issues considered in this paper are those specifically developed in international instruments in relation to transnational corporations TNCs International Investment Instruments ,1996 Bilateral Investment Treaties in the Mid-1990s United Nations Conference on Trade and Development,1998 The book is divided into four chapters Chapter I reviews the purposes of bilateral investment treaties BITs and their origins Chapter II discusses the negotiating process of such treaties Chapter III analyses individual clauses in BITs focusing in particular on the definition of the terms and principles involved how these are used the differences and similarities between present and former treaty practice and the implications of individual treaty provisions for development Chapter IV examines the impact BITs have on investment flows Annex I contains a list of BITs signed as at 1 January 1997 Transfer of Funds United Nations Conference on Trade and Development,2000 By establishing a host country's obligation to permit the payment conversion and repatriation of amounts relating to an investment a transfer provision ensures that a foreign investor will be able to enjoy the financial benefits of a successful investment While all multilateral agreements that liberalise and protect investment contains such transfer provisions the features vary depending on the overall purpose of the agreement This paper discusses the treatment of transfers under the existing international agreements and examines issues that are of particular relevance to international investment agreements IIAs Intellectual Property and Competitive Strategies in the 21st Century Shahid Alikhan, R. A. Mashelkar, 2009-01-01 It is scarcely five years since the first edition of this book a milestone in the strategy oriented approach to intellectual property at the global level appeared and was quickly and widely welcomed as virtually an intellectual property agenda for the 21st century This second edition includes a judicious update of the original data and analysis in light of the significant movement forward that has taken place over the past few years in many of the critical areas that shape the competitive strategies in the use of IP Rights The authors have lost none of their conviction of the necessity to enhance awareness of the techno economic effects of intellectual property rights protection on enterprise competitiveness and national growth and development The book provides a panoramic but detailed view of the world and its intellectual property system that embraces socioeconomic cultural and technological development in its scope clarifying the pitfalls and challenges that the system presents even as it promises to improve the quality of life on our planet The authors both internationally respected and honoured for their work in elucidating the economic necessity of an intellectual property system that can inspire universal confidence emphasize the imperative of international competitiveness in knowledge based technology In their orderly presentation of the key issues that promote the real benefits not yet achieved of a truly effective regime of intellectual property rights they discuss such factors as the following the use of intellectual property as an integral part of business strategy optimal utilization of intellectual property assets the incentives and rewards of and fair play and in the marketplace facilitation of widespread diffusion and adoption of the fruits of creativity and innovation the crucial role of small and medium enterprises the need at every level for deliberate incentive policies that encourage creativity and invention strict enforcement of intellectual property rights creating linkages between intellectual property stakeholders and use of patent information for forecasting technology trends These issues and recommendations and more are all discussed in a framework that highlights each of the major areas of knowledge in which intellectual property rights are most insistently invoked today such as the digital economy e commerce Internet domain names database protection protection of plant varieties design of integrated circuits biotechnology and nanotechnology Ultimately however this outstanding workand s most important contribution lies in its vision of the organic corporation of governments institutions supranational organizations multinational corporations small and medium enterprises and civil society as they collectively fashion a 21st century in which creativity and innovation are enabled to convert knowledge into wealth and social good For this reason as well as for its richly detailed treatment of trends and current reality in the field this new updated edition of Intellectual Property and Competitive Strategies in the 21stCentury will continue to be read and put to good use by business people international lawyers government officials and interested academics in all parts of the world Aanwinsten van de Centrale Bibliotheek (Queteletfonds) Bibliothèque centrale (Fonds Quetelet),1998
