Settlement in the UN Convention on the Law of the Sea Natalie Klein, 2005-01-06 The United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea is one of the most important constitutive instruments in international law Not only does this treaty regulate the uses of the world's largest resource but it also contains a mandatory dispute settlement system an unusual phenomenon in international law While some scholars have lauded this development as a significant achievement others have been highly sceptical of its comprehensiveness and effectiveness This book explores whether a compulsory dispute settlement mechanism is necessary for the regulation of the oceans under the Convention The requisite role of dispute settlement in the Convention is determined through an assessment of its relationship to the substantive provisions Klein firstly describes the dispute settlement procedure in the Convention She then takes each of the issue areas subject to limitations or exceptions to compulsory procedures entailing binding decisions and analyses the interrelationship between the substantive and procedural rules The Politics of Global Ocean Regions Christian Bueger,Elizabeth Mendenhall,Rebecca Strating,2025-07-08 The oceans are not just vast expanses of blue but dynamic political spaces shaped by complex regional dynamics In this fascinating study the authors advance a novel analytical framework for the study of the politics of global ocean regions They shed new light on the complex interactions in ocean spaces such as the Arctic Indo Pacific or Indian Ocean Written by leading experts in different ocean regions the book demonstrates how important yet diverse and complex regional maritime politics are Its emphasis on the emergence organization and effects of global ocean regions provides a useful framework for guiding future research The book will be essential reading for students and analysts interested in regionalism the oceans and the governance of global commons United States Congressional Serial Set, Serial No. 14862, Senate Documents Nos. 12-13 , International Environmental Policy Lynton Keith Caldwell,Paul Stanley Weiland,1996 In this newly revised and expanded edition of the award winning International Environmental Policy Lynton Keith Caldwell updates his comprehensive survey of the global international movement for protection of the environment Serving as a history of international cooperation on environmental issues this book focuses primarily on the development of international agreements and institutional arrangements both governmental and nongovernmental along with the impact of science technology trade and communication on environmental policy With implications for multinational commerce population policy agriculture energy issues biological and cultural diversity transnational equity ideology and education this book takes a broad view of the policy outcomes of what may be the most important social movement of the 20th century and addresses the events and politics that have significantly affected the movement over the last twenty years and will continue to affect it into the next century A Handbook for Politics Edward McPherson,1872 The Reference Book Review ,1993

Human Rights and Ocean Governance Mara Ntona,2023-12-12 This book argues for the utility of human rights in the practice of ocean governance Maritime spatial planning MSP has become the dominant marine management paradigm with MSP frameworks already at various stages of elaboration and implementation in more than half of all coastal states However as experience with MSP accrues a central systemic shortcoming has become apparent insofar as the normative frameworks that underpin MSP tend to be grounded in a rationalistic and economistic worldview The result is a post political neoliberal approach to the implementation of MSP which favours technocratic fixes to complex societal problems over efforts to address underlying issues of power and inequality Building upon the new field of critical MSP studies this book offers a much neglected legal contribution More specifically it analyses the extent to which law and particularly human rights law can be utilised to meaningfully challenge the unjust patterns of human ocean interaction that MSP preserves or creates and so provide a vehicle for the formulation and realisation of transformative blue futures The book looks to human rights as norms that are uniquely capable of bringing into relief the values cause and effect relationships and uncertainties that prevailing capitalist industrial framings of the ocean tend to downplay or worse disregard And so from a more pragmatic viewpoint the book argues that the policy and advocacy tools associated with human rights can be used within MSP processes to foster patterns of human ocean interaction which are more conducive to social and environmental justice This book will be of interest to legal and planning scholars geographers and others concerned with ocean governance and the blue turn in the social sciences and humanities more generally
