Law and Ethics of the Media André Linard,2002 Decolonising Journalism Education in South Africa Ms Zubeida Jaffer ,Prof. Ylva Rodny-Gumede ,Dr Mvuso Ponono ,Prof. Colin Chasi ,2021-12-20 With 342 years of colonialism and apartheid in South Africa a book of this calibre is essential to contribute to scholarly debates on the decolonisation of the media After the democratic dispensation in 1994 there was a narrow pursuit of transformation and media freedom while neglecting decolonisation patriarchal tendencies and the plight of black women journalists who are often vilified while discharging their duties It was two decades after democracy that the RhodesMustFall movement which later evolved into FeesMustFall movement reignited debates on decoloniality in the academia Moreover the book is published during the second wave of FeesMustFall student protests and the demand for decolonised free education is inevitable as no permanent solution to student funding crisis was crafted In the same vein the book advocates for decolonised pedagogy in universities including journalism curriculum That ownership of the media is still skewed towards white and with only few black companies gradually joining the industry also brings into doubt media freedom editorial independence ethics and integrity among media practitioners Therefore the decoloniality movement seeks to confront these structural challenges head on via dialogue to ensure the integrity of the journalism profession Decolonising journalism in South Africa is published at a time in which journalism serves a watchdog and a critique of a democratic government and needs to follow a bottom up social justice approach and become a voice to the voiceless Therefore this book seeks to revolutionise the media in a way that even the language of reporting of certain issues needs to be changed to a balanced kind of reporting characterised by principles of no fear or favour

Official Gazette Philippines,2010 Teaching journalism for sustainable development Banda, Fackson (UNESCO),2015-09-21 South Africa's Truth and Reconciliation Commission

Muhammed Haron,2009 The South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission An Annotated Bibliography is a much needed reference work for those who are studying and pursuing the outcomes of Truth Commissions around the world However it is also a valuable tool for all researchers from diverse disciplines For example those specialising in the fields of sociology political science and literature will find material that appeals and is relevant to their areas of research There is little doubt that students and researchers pursuing courses such as Conflict Resolution Good Governance and International Relations would find this compilation more than beneficial since it covers not only an assortment of themes but it also includes ingenious cartoons by the famous Zapiro and memorable photographs by George Hallet In addition the compiler also inserted a select number of poems that dealt with the issues and themes related to the TRC process

Decolonising Media and Communication Studies Education in Sub-Saharan Africa Selina Linda Mudavanhu,Shepherd Mpofu,Kezia Batisai,2023-10-27 The book provides insights on decolonising media and communication studies education from diverse African scholars at different stages of their careers These academics located on the continent and in the diaspora share an interest in decolonising higher education broadly and media and communication studies teaching and learning in particular Although many African countries gained flag independence from different European colonial powers between the 1950s and the 1970s this book argues that former colonies remain ensnared in a colonial power matrix Many African universities did not jettison ways of teaching and learning established during colonialism and even those journalism communication and media studies training programmes which were established after the attainment of flag independence did not place decolonial agendas at the front and centre when setting them up Starting with big picture thematic questions around decolonisation the book goes on to consider what the implications of change would be for students and instructors before reflecting on how far it is possible to decolonise curricula and syllabi and what this might look like in practice across a range of subject areas and country contexts Overall this book presents a nuanced picture of what a decolonised media and communication studies education could look like in sub Saharan Africa This book is essential for researchers in Africa in disciplines such as media and communication studies journalism film studies cultural studies and higher education studies More broadly the concepts and ideas on decolonising teaching and learning discussed in the book are relevant to instructors in any discipline who are interested in doing the decolonial work of contesting coloniality
