Encyclopedia mundial de relaciones internacionales y Naciones Unidas Edmund Jan Osmańczyk, 1976-01-01 Textos básicos de los más importantes documentos internacionales de todo el mundo acuerdos cartas convenios declaraciones resoluciones tratados con una exhaustiva bibliografía y la información acerca de las 2 500 organizaciones internacionales registradas en la ONU

América Latina y el Caribe: Relaciones Internacionales en el siglo XXI Francisco Rojas Aravena, 2012 Frente a un nuevo contexto global con múltiples actores y sin un multilateralismo efectivo el sistema multilateral se encuentra hoy en día en crisis Esto se debe en gran parte a la crisis económico financiera que se vive desde el 2008 a menor atención de los Estados Unidos hacia América Latina y otras regiones del mundo y su inercia unilateral al bloqueo en el sistema de Naciones Unidas y a la baja legitimidad de instituciones emergentes que no logran dar gobernabilidad global En Occidente se constatan cambios profundos e importantes como lo es la profundización de las relaciones de América Latina particularmente de América del Sur con la región Asia Pacífico la consolidación de China como socio comercial estratégico relevante para América Latina desplazando a la Unión Europea entre otros Además las revoluciones y cambios en los países árabes y los cambios en África reorientan prioridades y tendencias en Europa que sin duda repercuten en América Latina Esta publicación recoge las ideas centrales expuestas por destacados académicos acerca de los cambios globales y las distintas visiones de países hegemónicos de la región y fuera de ella así como acerca de las diplomacias de Cumbres como la de APEC CELAC de las Américas y la Unión Europea y las ideas expuestas en torno a temas emergentes transnacionales como lo son el cambio climático la seguridad la gobernanza la gobernabilidad y la integración A su vez se analizan los temas de seguridad y defensa de cara a los nuevos desafíos del siglo XXI y los actores relevantes en la política exterior hemisférica tales como Canadá los Estados Unidos México y Brasil Finalmente esta publicación cuenta con una reflexión acerca de la visión sobre los cambios que se han dado que continúan ocurriendo en el Sistema Internacional Description in English Latin America and the Caribbean

International Relations in the 21st Century Summit Diplomacy and Spaces of Regional and Global Agreement Faced with a new global context that has multiple actors but no effective multilateralism the multilateral system is now in crisis This is largely due to the economic and financial crisis underway since 2008 to the United States paying less attention to Latin America and other regions of the world and its unilateral inertia and to the deadlock in the United Nations system and the reduced legitimacy of emerging institutions which are unable to achieve global governability In the West profound and important changes are being witnessed such as the deepening of relations between Latin America particularly South America and the Asia Pacific region and China's consolidation as a significant strategic trading partner for Latin America supplanting other partners like the European Union In addition the revolutions and transformations occurring in Arab countries and the changes taking place in Africa are reorienting priorities and trends in Europe that no doubt affect Latin America This publication brings together the main ideas presented by prominent academics with regard to these global changes and the different visions of hegemonic countries within and beyond the region and to summit diplomacies such as that of APEC CELAC the Americas and the EU as well as the ideas presented in relation to emerging transnational issues such as climate change security governance governability and integration In turn the issues of security and defense are analyzed in relation to the new challenges of the 21st century and the relevant actors within hemispheric foreign policy including Canada the United States Mexico and Brazil Lastly this work contains a reflection on this view of the changes that continue to take place within the International System     Catalogo de Recursos Terminologicos Detectados en Espana Miguel Sánchez-Mazas,1955

Economic Sanctions as an Instrument of U.S. Foreign Policy Helen Osieja,2005 Economic sanctions have been used as an instrument of American foreign policy ever since the Taft administration adopted the Dollar Diplomacy This dissertation analyzes the trade Embargo the United States imposed upon Cuba after the Revolution from different perspectives from the political considering the main guidelines of American foreign policy toward Latin America especially during the Cold War and from the juridical considering different perspectives of customary international law Since the embargo was imposed only after American property had been expropriated without compensation the dissertation analyzes the legality of expropriation seen from the perspective of both capital importing and capital exporting countries and the legality of economic sanctions as a legitimate peaceful reprisal Due to the fact that the American embargo against Cuba is quasi total that is consists of a number of different economic sanctions it is the aim of this dissertation to analyze each of these and finally to assess the effectiveness of economic sanctions as an instrument of foreign policy Many books and articles have been written about this very controversial embargo almost as old as the Cuban Revolution itself For the Cubans it constitutes and economic blockade and a violation of Cuba s right to free trade for the Americans it is a reprisal for the confiscation of American property Nonetheless since the embargo as stated above is not a sanction itself but a number of different economic sanctions it is the aim of this dissertation to analyze each of the sanctions that comprise the embargo and its legality according to customary international law Another aim of this dissertation is to prove why the American embargo against Cuba has only enhanced Castro s power and further centralized it A brief chapter about the economic sanctions the United States imposed upon Chile under President Salvador Allende and the fall of his regime serves to compare the two cases with some similarities where sanctions were applied in the first without success and in the second with success Finally the dissertation aims to prove that a lifting of the American embargo against Cuba is highly unlikely unless there is a change of regime in that nation of the Caribbean
