The Enclosed Garden and the Medieval Religious

Imaginary Liz Herbert McAvoy, 2021 During the Middle Ages the arresting motif of the walled garden especially in its manifestation as a sacred or love inflected hortus conclusus was a common literary device Usually associated with the Virgin Mary or the Lady of popular romance it appeared in myriad literary and iconographic forms largely for its aesthetic decorative and symbolic qualities This study focuses on the more complex metaphysical functions and meanings attached to it between 1100 and 1400 and in particular those associated with the gardens of Eden and the Song of Songs Drawing on contemporary theories of gender gardens landscape and space it traces specifically the resurfacing and reworking of the idea and image of the enclosed garden within the writings of medieval holy women and other female coded texts In so doing it presents the enclosed garden as generator of a powerfully gendered hermeneutic imprint within the medieval religious imaginary indeed as an alternative language used to articulate those highly complex female coded approaches to God that came to dominate late medieval religiosity The book also responds to the eco turn in our own troubled times that attempts to return the non human to the centre of public and private discourse The texts under scrutiny therefore invite responses as both literary and garden spaces where form often reflects content and where their authors are also diligent gardeners the apocryphal Lives of Adam and Eve for example the horticulturally inflected Hortus Deliciarum of Herrad of Hohenburg and the green philosophies of Hildegard of Bingen s Scivias the visionary writings of Gertrude the Great and Mechthild of Hackeborn collaborating within their Helfta nunnery the Middle English poem Pearl and multiple reworkings of the deeply problematic and increasingly sexualized garden enclosing the biblical figure of Susanna

Captured Landscape Kate Baker, 2018-03-20 The enclosed garden or hortus conclusus is a place where architecture and landscape come together It has a long and varied history ranging from the early paradise garden and cloister the botanic garden and giardini segreto the kitchen garden and as a stage for social display The enclosed garden has continued to develop into its many modern forms the city retreat the redemptive garden the deconstructed building As awareness of climate change becomes increasingly important the enclosed garden which can mediate so effectively between interior and exterior provides opportunities for sustainable design and closer contact with the natural landscape By its nature it is ambiguous Is it an outdoor room or captured landscape is it architecture or garden Kate Baker discusses the continuing relevance of the typology of the enclosed garden to contemporary architects by exploring influential historical examples and the concepts they generate alongside some of the best of contemporary designs brought to life with vivid photography and detailed drawings taken primarily from Britain the Mediterranean Japan and North and South America She argues that understanding the potential of the enclosed garden requires us to think of it as both a design and an experience Captured Landscape provides a broad range of information and design possibilities for students of architectural and landscape design practising architects landscape

The Lithic Garden Mailan S. Doquang,2018-01-11 The Lithic Garden offers innovative perspectives on the role of ornament in medieval church design Focusing on the foliate friezes articulating iconic French monuments such as Amiens Cathedral it demonstrates that church builders strategically used organic motifs to integrate the interior and exterior of their structures thus reinforcing the connections and distinctions between the entirety of the sacred edifice and the profane world beyond its boundaries With this exquisitely illustrated monograph Mailan S Doquang argues that contrary to widespread belief monumental flora was not just an extravagant embellishment or secondary byproduct but a semantically charged critical design component that inflected the stratified spaces of churches in myriad ways By situating the proliferation of foliate friezes within the context of the Crusades The Lithic Garden provides insights into the networks of exchange between France Byzantium and the Levant contributing to the global turn in art and architectural History

Devotional Portraiture and Spiritual Experience in Early Netherlandish Painting Ingrid Falque,2019-09-16 In Devotional Portraiture and Spiritual Experience Ingrid Falque analyses the meditative functions of early Netherlandish paintings including devotional portraits that is portraits of people kneeling in prayer Such paintings have been mainly studied in the context of commemorative and social practices but as Ingrid Falque shows they also served as devotional instruments By drawing parallels between the visual strategies of these paintings and texts of the major spiritual writers of the medieval Low Countries she demonstrates that paintings with devotional portraits functioned as a visualisation of the spiritual process of the sitters The book is accompanied by the first exhaustive catalogue of paintings with devotional portraits produced in the Low Countries between c 1400 and 1550 This catalogue is available at no costs in e format HERE and can also be purchased as a printed hardcover book HERE
