the Borders of Convention Aleksandra Nikčević Batricević, 2010-05-11 The research presented in this book is authored by scholars coming from as distant regions as South Africa the United States of America Great Britain France Italy Belarus the Balkans Needless to say that one of the good things about this international cooperation is that owing to their different socio cultural backgrounds these scholars have contributed to producing an extremely varied picture of ways of approaching the challenge of a changing world The papers on literature and culture collected in this book contribute a further element of rigour into the discussion of numerous and always varying and changing borders of convention in a literary text literary genre and literary theory as well as in general culture and everyday paths of life Starting with oral cultures over the classic literary masters modernist and postmodernist textual and theoretical phenomena the twentieth century flouting of numerous social and gender convention through painting film dance contemporary music as well as graffiti We have sought to stress that what is most noticeable from the evidence of their studies is that scholars today concern these issues through a dynamic global process and beyond any preconceived design or any strict set of theoretical prescriptions which would otherwise lead them to ignore the ever shifting borders in literature and culture as well as in global socio cultural reality in general The variety and complexity of these essays offer fresh views to the problem posed in the title of the book Therefore we trust that they will stimulate intellectual confrontation and circulation of ideas within the field of literature and cultural studies

Journal of Teaching Writing, 1994 The Balkans in Travel Writing Marija Knežević, 2015-09-18 This book revisits images of the Balkans in twentieth century travel writing that vividly mirrors the turbulent changes that the region went through As such it provides a vital basis for research into the variety of possibilities or obstacles present on the region's path to accession when its unique heritage will have to be reconciled with a more European identity This volume explores the work of well known authors such as Rebecca West Paul Theroux Robert D Kaplan and also contributes to travel writing theory by addressing less known travellers who recorded their thoughts on the social dynamics of the region The corpus offers divergent and often contradictory views ranging from moral and political criticism to a delight in the rich heritage and the still undiscovered Balkan paths More importantly its generic potentials prove to overcome both the discourse of power and the discourse of apology Its narrative style also comprises striking variations from the objective and well researched approaches to quick impressionist sketches Being a multi generic form travel writing is observed from a multidisciplinary perspective encompassing fields such as literature linguistics history sociology anthropology ethnology political sciences and geography

Recounting Cultural Encounters Marija Knežević, 2009-10-02 Contributions reprinted in this book highlight some of the wide ranging ways in which the issues of culture and identity can be approached in a literary text while focusing on the ways in which cultural encounters have been changing both the world and its reflection in literature The beginning of the twenty first century is an appropriate time to repay careful attention to these issues Understanding how our perception of the Other changes with the concept of the world we inhabit we want to emphasize the rising importance of fostering cultural pluralism and global understanding Having based their research on widespread readings in academia such as deconstruction post colonialism post modernism new historicism and narratology the authors of these papers proceed by addressing the metaphor of travel as one of the strongest metaphors for the evolution of mankind especially if considered under the light of the historically and politically imposed opposition between the progressive western and the static eastern or African societies However as the end of the imperialist era brought about poignant awareness of cultural relativism as well as deconstruction of the great narrative of progress facing the Other as an unconceptualized entity became a major moral concern of a modern traveller It is pronounced that this concern should be textually testified to dramatize the human inability to avoid verbal appropriation of the other The final question we seek to answer is whether the era of advanced technology and globalisation along with a post modern ironical attitude to hyper realities and textual transparencies has rendered the sphere of the text the only available point of concern of contemporary literature and thought in general For its argumentation strongly founded in recent literary studies and humanities in general its interdisciplinary nature and its focus on the actual global problems of abrupt cultural change and exchange its heightened understanding of the necessity of coexistence of differences in a changing world its spirit of tolerance and its international spirit in general we assume this collection will not only attract academic literary scholars but will also appeal to the general reading public Stanford ,1992 The Politics of Remediation Mary Soliday,2002 Historically writing programs have taken on the role of mediator offering democratic access to growing numbers of students while protecting an institution s selectivity and increasing enrollments while also promoting the research and development that attracts corporate state and federal funding BOOK JACKET Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2003 Teaching Transnational Youth—Literacy and Education in a Changing World Allison Skerrett,2015 This is the first book to specifically address the needs of transnational youth a growing population of students who live and go to school across the United States and other nations including Mexico and different Caribbean islands The author describes a coherent approach to English language arts and literacy education that supports the literacy learning and development of transnational students while incorporating these students unique experiences to enrich the learning of all students Drawing from exemplary teachers classroom practice and research based approaches the book demonstrates how teachers can engage with transnationalism to reap the unique and significant benefits this phenomenon presents for literacy education These benefits include a deeper appreciation of cultural and linguistic diversity an increased awareness of world citizenship and the development of globally informed ways of reading writing investigating and thinking Book Features Describes a comprehensive approach to literacy education that is more inclusive productive and powerful for all students Shows teachers how attending to transnationalism can fit within and enhance the work they already do with all of their students Includes learning activities that align with best practices for building multicultural multilingual and other forms of border crossing knowledge and skills Includes specific strategies teachers can use to address the unique challenges that transnationalism poses such as extended absences from the classroom Allison Skerrett shows in this book that teachers can mitigate harm through specific choices in their teaching by viewing difference as a resource that is available to a greater degree when we are fortunate enough to have transnational students in our classrooms Randy Bomer Professor and Chair Curriculum and Instruction The College of Education University of Texas at Austin This well researched and engagingly written book brilliantly illuminates the often hidden or sorely misunderstood life and schooling experiences of transnational youth It is a primary text for courses on literacy theories and practices and fills a critical gap in how we conceptualize and implement literacy instruction for all youth Jabari Mahiri professor of education UC Berkeley Didactics in a Changing World Florence Ligozat, Kirsti Klette, Jonas Almqvist, 2023-01-27 The collection of chapters in this book results from ongoing scientific discussions on teaching learning and curriculum studies in Europe Didactics as a research field and area of knowledge deals with questions about teaching learning and educational content Didactics explores institutionalized teaching and learning processes that are fundamental to allow people living together and acting as citizens It connects curriculum issues to classroom practices and student s learning experience in a unique manner that goes beyond the field of curriculum studies and the field of the learning sciences Focusing on different research traditions for conceptualizing the relationships between learning and teaching through the educational content learnt the book presents advanced research in field of Didactics teaching and learning that addresses the new challenges faced by the teaching profession The collection of chapters in this book supports the continuous growth of comparative research on classroom practices and addresses in a novel manner the need for including international perspectives on Didactics in teacher education programs and graduate schools in education worldwide Part 1 highlights the recent advances in the theoretical development of Didactics and more particularly the development of comparative didactics Part 2 illustrates the diversity and complementarities of theoretical and methodological approaches for the empirical study of classroom practices Part 3 maps certain societal challenges that didactic research faces in a changing world
