Encounters With Arctic Animals:

Encounters with Arctic Animals Fred Bruemmer,1972 Encounters with Arctic Animals ,1972 Ethical Encounters Janne Korkka,2013-09-01 The problems of knowing and representing the other are acute every time we encounter a text as writers or readers Ethical Encounters engages with the representation of encounters with alterity in the writings of the Canadian author Rudy Wiebe Drawing on Emmanuel Levinas s philosophy on the ethics of encountering the other the book argues that Wiebe s writings show that the self s knowledge offers an inadequate basis for ethically valid representations of those encounters In the search for ethical ways of engaging with alterity Wiebe s writings offer new ways of employing silence and the presence of the unknowable as means to explore encounters with alterity Ethical Encounters shows that dividing Wiebe s work into two sharply distinct categories of Mennonite and First Nations writings overlooks important connections between the author s central works and may seriously hinder the interrogation of narrative engagement with alterity While such human encounters resonate against ethical strategies of representation the greatest challenge for the ethics of encounter in Wiebe s texts arises in encounters with the alterity of space Ethical Encounters engages with both physical and narrative spaces which are not permanently fixed in landscape or geography or in human perceptions of place arguing that the most radical expressions of alterity in Wiebe s writings emerge in encounters with the spaces of the Canadian North The study raises questions about the relationship between the self and the other as they concern knowing what does the self know when it claims to know another person or space How does the narrating self negotiate the seeming collapse of its own knowledge when it encounters others whose stories cannot be known Ethical Encounters casts new light not just on Wiebe s writings but also on how we as authors and readers engage with expressions of alterity which refuse to be transformed into familiar knowable forms Janne Korkka is post doctoral researcher and coordinator of the North American Studies programme in the Department of English University of Turku Finland His main research interests lie in the problems of representing space and encountering alterity in Canadian writing He is co editor of Seeking the Self Encountering the Other Diasporic Narrative and the Ethics of Representation 2008 He teaches Canadian and postcolonial literatures and North American Studies and publishes mainly on Canadian writing An Arctic Excursion Pasquale De Marco,2025-04-15 Embark on a captivating journey to the Arctic a region of breathtaking beauty extreme conditions and profound significance An Arctic Excursion delves into the heart of this enigmatic realm unveiling its mysteries and wonders Within these pages you ll discover the rich history of Arctic exploration tracing the footsteps of intrepid adventurers who dared to venture into uncharted waters and treacherous landscapes You ll encounter the perils that await in this unforgiving environment from unpredictable weather and dangerous wildlife to the relentless cold that tests the limits of human endurance Explore the Arctic s awe inspiring landscapes from towering mountains and icy deserts to frozen fjords and majestic glaciers Encounter the resilient Arctic peoples whose cultures and traditions have evolved in harmony with this
