Unexpected Encounters J. Berkley Reynolds, 2019-06-03 It was a marked contrast from serving as a padre in the Canadian Army to being posted to Change Islands in the North Atlantic My new mode of transportation couldn't be more different from an army jeep a thirty eight foot sea faring vessel The M V Messenger was to be my ocean home but it would have been my coffin were it not for my faithful Samoyed dog Sabre Taking the Good News to the remote communities of Northern Newfoundland wasn't without risks Navigating through the ice floe walking over the frozen bay or flying with the bush pilots had its challenges But one did not count the cost when on a divine mission My calling was to minister to the families of fishermen and loggers nestled in the coves and bays It was far different from my ministry in a suburban church in Metro Toronto where the storms were of a different nature Victor Frankel a psychiatrist and survivor of the Auschwitz concentration camp affirmed that a person's greatest search is for meaning I have shown that life's greatest and most difficult experiences can be overcome by trust in God's faithful promises found in scripture Is that a place where you might begin your search

Travel and Home in Homer's Odyssey and Contemporary Literature Carol Dougherty, 2019-06-20 Travel and Home in Homer's Odyssey and Contemporary Literature brings Homer's Odyssey together with contemporary literary texts ranging from Rebecca West's The Return of the Soldier to Marilynne Robinson's Housekeeping and Cormac McCarthy's The Road to produce new readings that reframe reorient and ultimately revise aspects of Homer's iconic story of travel and home While some novels share with the Odyssey a celebration of the creative process of improvisation to rethink the relationship between home and travel others draw upon nostalgia our complicated longing for home to unsettle the inevitability of return Rather than offering an explicit retelling of Homer's poem each of these novels prompts us to revisit the relationship between travel and home that Odysseus and Penelope embody to ask new questions of that well read text Does travel reinforce or destabilize our notion of home Are mobility and domesticity irrevocably gendered or can we imagine a world in which Penelope travels and Odysseus stays home Just as Odysseus continually reinvents his own identity with each new encounter both abroad and at home so too we as readers participate in an improvisatory interpretive experiment of our own This volume sets out a new model for reading ancient and contemporary texts together one that challenges the conventional chronological assumptions inherent in many works of classical reception No longer a stable text to which we as readers return time and again to find it the same the Odyssey together with the novels with which it engages changes and adapts with each new literary encounter
