Encyclopaedia Acephalica:

Encyclopaedia Acephalica Georges Bataille, Robert Lebel, Isabelle Waldberg, 1995 Atlas Arkhive Three Documents of the Avant Garde The ideas of Georges Bataille 1897 1962 are increasingly being recognised as offering vital insights into whole areas of human existence The texts presented here written by Bataille and friends are written in the form of a dictionary and being written for a general audience are more accessible than much of his other work Witty poetic sardonic sometimes erotic they provide a concise introduction to his ideas

Material Noise Anne M. Royston, 2019-09-17 An argument that theoretical works can signify through their materiality their noise or such nonsemantic elements as typography as well as their semantic content In Material Noise Anne Royston argues that theoretical works signify through their materiality such nonsemantic elements as typography or color as well as their semantic content Examining works by Jacques Derrida Avital Ronell Georges Bataille and other well known theorists Royston considers their materiality and design which she terms noise as integral to their meaning In other words she reads these theoretical works as complex assemblages just as she would read an artist's book in all its idiosyncratic tangibility Royston explores the formlessness and heterogeneity of the Encyclopedia Da Costa which published works by Bataille Andr Breton and others the use of layout and white space in Derrida's Glas the typographic illegibility static and interference in Ronell's The Telephone Book and the enticing surfaces of Mark C Taylor's Hiding its digital counterpart The Real Las Vegas NV and Shelley Jackson's Skin Royston then extends her analysis to other genres examining two recent artists' books that express explicit theoretical concerns Johanna Drucker's Stochastic Poetics and Susan Howe's Tom Tit Tot Throughout Royston develops the concept of artistic arguments which employ signification that exceeds the semantics of a printed text and are not reducible to a series of linear logical propositions Artistic arguments foreground their materiality and reflect on the media that create them Moreover Royston argues each artistic argument anticipates some aspect of digital thinking speaking directly to such contemporary concerns as hypertext communication theory networks and digital distribution

Close Listening Charles Bernstein, 1998-04-30 Close Listening brings together seventeen strikingly original essays especially written for this volume on the poetry reading the sound of poetry and the visual performance of poetry While the performance of poetry is as old as poetry itself critical attention to modern and postmodern poetry performance has been surprisingly slight This volume featuring work by critics and poets such as Marjorie Perloff Susan Stewart Johanna Drucker Dennis Tedlock and Susan Howe is the first comprehensive introduction to the ways in which twentieth century poetry has been practiced as a performance art From the performance styles of individual poets and types of poetry to the relation of sound to meaning from historical and social approaches to poetry readings to new imaginations of prosody the entries gathered here investigate a compelling range of topics for anyone interested in poetry Taken together these essays encourage new forms of close listenings not only to the printed text of poems but also to tapes performances and other expressions of the sounded and visualized word The time is right for such a

Floating Tomb: Black Metal Theory Edia Connoles, Nicola Masciandaro, 2015-09-18 T00:00:00+02:00 Floating Tomb Black Metal Theory is a collaborative collection of writings in black metal theory BMT an amorphous metalethical movement initiated in 2009 with the symposium Hideous Gnosis According to its earliest formulation BMT seeks to creatively destroy the boundary between metal and theory to make something new in the space of their shared negativity Not black metal Not theory Not not black metal Not not theory Black metal theory Theoretical blackening of metal Metallic blackening of theory Mutual blackening Nigredo in the intoxicological crucible of symposia This volume gathers together previously published and new work on BMT focusing on mysticism a domain of thought and experience with deep connections both to the black metal genre and to theory theoria vision contemplation More than a topic for BMT the mystical is here explored in terms of the continuous intersection of black metal and theory the floating tomb wherein metal is elevated into the intellectual and visionary experience that it already is A Pathognomy of Performance S. Bayly, 2011-02-08 Exploring the themes of the event ephemerality and democracy that mark the encounter between performance and philosophy this original study elaborates fresh perspectives on the experiences of undoing fiasco and disaster that shadow both the both stage and everyday life Georges Bataille Rodolphe Gasché, 2012-10-24 This book investigates what Bataille in The Pineal

Eye calls mythological representation the mythological anthropology with which this unusual thinker wished to outflank and undo scientific and philosophical anthropology Gasch probes that anthropology by situating Bataille's thought with respect to the quatumvirate of Schelling Hegel Nietzsche and Freud He begins by showing what Bataille's understanding of the mythological owes to Schelling Drawing on Hegel Nietzsche and Freud he then explores the notion of image that constitutes the sort of representation that Bataille's innovative approach entails Gasch concludes that Bataille's mythological anthropology takes on Hegel's phenomenology in a systematic fashion By reading it backwards he not only dismantles its architecture he also ties each level to the preceding one replacing the idealities of philosophy with the phantasmatic representations of what he dubs low materialism Phenomenology Gasch argues thus paves the way for a new science of phantasms

Unorthodox Ways to Think the City Teresa Stoppani, 2018-12-07 This book argues that architecture and the city and their processes can be better understood by drawing categories from disciplines that exceed the architectural and urban cultural context It performs an open intellectual reading that traverses architecture and architectural theory but also art theory and history cartography philosophy literature and cultural studies to unfold a series of figures that are ambiguously placed between the representation and the construction of space in architecture and the city The paradigm and philosophy the island and the city the map and representation the model and making and the questioning of form performed by dust are explored beyond their definition as processes that differently make space between architecture and the city and are proposed as unorthodox analytic techniques to decipher contemporary spatial complexity The book analyses how these figures have been employed at different times and in different creative disciplines beyond architecture and in relation to changing notions of space and traces the role that they have played in the shift towards the dynamic that has taken place in contemporary theory and design research What emerges is the idea of an architecture of the city that is not only physical but is largely defined by the way in which its physical spaces are regulated lived and perceived but also imagined and projected

The Myth of Disenchantment Jason A. Josephson-Storm, 2017-05-18 This study of the early human sciences and their deep connections to spiritualism dispenses with the myth that separates magic and modernity Many theorists contend that the defining feature of modernity is our collective loss of faith in spirits myths and magic But in The Myth of Disenchantment Jason A Josephson Storm argues against this narrative showing that attempts to suppress magic have failed more often than not Even the human sciences have been more enchanted than is commonly supposed But that raises the question How did a magical spiritualist mesmerized Europe ever convince itself that it was disenchanting Josephson Storm traces the history of the myth of disenchantment in the births of philosophy anthropology sociology folklore psychoanalysis and religious studies He demonstrates that the founding figures of these mythless disciplines were in fact profoundly enmeshed in the occult and spiritualist revivals of Britain France and Germany It was in response to this milieu that they produced notions of a disenchanting world By providing a novel history of the human sciences and their connection to esotericism The Myth of

Disenchantment dispatches with most widely held accounts of modernity and its break from the premodern past Somatic Desire Christine Rojcewicz, Richard Kearney, Sarah Horton, Stephen Mendelsohn, 2019-01-17 The essays in this volume all ask what it means for human beings to be embodied as desiring creatures and perhaps still more piercingly what it means for a philosopher to be embodied In taking up this challenge via phenomenology psychoanalysis hermeneutics and the philosophy of literature the volume questions the orthodoxies not only of Western metaphysics but even of the phenomenological tradition itself We miss much that has philosophical import when we exclude the somatic aspects of human life and it is therefore the philosopher's duty now to rediscover the meaning inherent in desire emotion and passion without letting the biases of any tradition determine in advance the meaning that reveals itself in embodied desire Continental philosophers have already done much to challenge binary oppositions and this volume sets out a new challenge we must now also question the dichotomy between being at home and being alienated Alterity is not simply something out there separate from myself rather it penetrates me through and through even in my corporeal experience My body is both my own and other I am other than myself and therefore other than my body Additionally this book is a conversation not a presentation of a new orthodoxy Thus the hope is that these essays will open the way for further dialogue that will continue to radically rethink our understanding of embodied desire Gathered together here are twelve essays that address these issues from deeply interrelated albeit unique perspectives from within the field Mastery of Non-Mastery in the Age of Meltdown Michael Taussig, 2020-07-15 For centuries humans have excelled at mimicking nature in order to exploit it Now with the existential threat of global climate change on the horizon the ever provocative Michael Taussig asks what function a newly invigorated mimetic faculty might exert along with such change Mastery of Non-Mastery in the Age of Meltdown is not solely a reflection on our condition but also a theoretical effort to reckon with the impulses that have fed our relentless ambition for dominance over nature Taussig seeks to move us away from the manipulation of nature and reorient us to different metaphors and sources of inspiration to develop a new ethical stance toward the world His ultimate goal is to undo his readers sense of control and engender what he calls mastery of non-mastery This unique book developed out of Taussig's work with peasant agriculture and his artistic practice which brings performance art together with aspects of ritual Through immersive meditations on Walter Benjamin D H Lawrence Emerson Bataille and Proust Taussig grapples with the possibility of collapse and with the responsibility we bear for it Horn, or The Counterside of Media Henning Schmidgen, 2021-11-22 We regularly touch and handle media devices At the same time media devices such as body scanners car seat pressure sensors and smart phones scan and touch us In Horn Henning Schmidgen reflects on the bidirectional nature of touch and the ways in which surfaces constitute sites of mediation between interior and exterior Schmidgen uses the concept of horn whether manifested as a rhinoceros horn or a musical instrument to stand for both natural substances and artificial objects as spaces of tactility He enters into creative dialogue with artists scientists and philosophers ranging from Salvador Dalí William

Kentridge and Rebecca Horn to Sigmund Freud Walter Benjamin and Marshall McLuhan who plumb the complex interplay between tactility and technological and biological surfaces Whether analyzing how Dal conceived of images as tactile entities during his rhinoceros phase or examining the problem of tactility in Thomas Pynchon's The Crying of Lot 49 Schmidgen reconfigures understandings of the dynamic phenomena of touch in media

Law, Orientalism and Postcolonialism Piyel Halder, 2007-12-05 Focusing on the problem of pleasure Law Orientalism and Postcolonialism uncovers the organizing principles by which the legal subject was colonized That occidental law was complicit in colonial expansion is obvious What remains to be addressed however is the manner in which law and legal discourse sought to colonize individual subjects as subjects of law It was through the permission of pleasure that modern Western subjects were refined and domesticated Legally sanctioned outlets for private and social enjoyment instilled and continue to instil within the individual tight self control over behaviour There are however states of behaviour considered to be repugnant to and in excess of modern codes of civility Drawing on a broad range of literature including classical jurisprudence eighteenth century Orientalist scholarship early travel literature and nineteenth century debates surrounding the rule of law yet concentrating on the experience of British India the argument here is that such excesses were deemed to be an Oriental phenomenon Through the encounter with the Orient and with the fantasy of its excess Piyel Halder concludes the relationship between the subject and the law was transformed and must therefore be re assessed

Daniil Kharms Branislav Jakovljevic, 2009-11-24 The texts of Russian artist and thinker Daniil Kharms 1905-1942 were so many and varied and often unique narrative dramatic philosophical poetic mathematical pictographic diagrammatic musical biographical that they defied categorization and thus thorough study or appreciation through much of the twentieth century This book the first in English to view Kharms's oeuvre in its entirety is also the first to offer a complete inclusive and coherent understanding of the overall project of this artist and writer now considered a major figure in the modernist canon of Europe

Witness Frederik Tygstrup, Ulrik Ekman, 2008 Offers a complex anthology of essays respecting the notion of the witness and phenomena of witnessing in Western culture since the Holocaust This book presents a body of work in the field by an international collective of scholars concerned with resituating witnessing in its specifically contemporary problematic

Occupation: ruin, repudiation, revolution Dr Lynn Churchill, Assoc Prof Dianne Smith, 2015-06-30 This theme of occupation is significant and topical at a time of radical flux generated by the proliferation of hypermedia and also by the dramatically shifting environmental political and economic context of this era Bringing together contributors from the fields of practice theory and history this book takes a fresh look at occupation It argues that occupation is a prospect that begins with ruin a residue from the past an implied or even a resounding presence of something previous that holds the potential for transformation This prospect invites us to repudiate re imagine and re define lived space thereby asserting occupation as an act of revolution

Religious Imaging in Millennialist America Ashley Crawford, 2018-09-19 Ashley Crawford investigates how such figures as Ben Marcus Matthew

Barney and David Lynch among other artists novelists and film directors utilize religious themes and images via Christianity Judaism and Mormonism to form essentially mutated variations of mainstream belief systems He seeks to determine what drives contemporary artists to deliver implicitly religious imagery within a secular context Particularly how religious heritage and language and the mutations within those have impacted American culture to partake in an aesthetic of apocalypticism that underwrites it
