must be complemented by the necessary financial and human resources to make the law effective Natalie Persadie explains that among developing countries such as Trinidad and Tobago the achievement of legal advances for women at either the international or national levels is particularly difficult where practical measures are not subsequently implemented This is perhaps attributable to a lack of political will Important issues such as gender equality and domestic violence are not given priority and laws aimed at protecting women and promoting women s rights are ineffective scant or unenforced Gender justice can only be realized through a multilevel approach from above and more importantly from below as women have the potential to effect real national and international legal and institutional change to ensure gender equality at both levels

Encyclopedia of Feminist Literature, 2004 Feminisms and Educational Research Wendy R. Kohli, Nicholas C. Burbules, 2011-12-29 Feminist theory has come a long way from its nascent beginnings no longer can it be classified as liberal socialist or radical It has shaped and evolved to take on multiple meanings and forms each distinct in its own perspective and theory In Feminisms and Educational Research the authors explore the various forms of feminisms tracing their history and their relation to gendered knowledge and identity Unlike other books on feminism the authors do not attempt to push that a particular theory is more correct than another but rather they give a complete overview of each of the forms of feminism The authors then couple the philosophical and theoretical ideas of western feminisms with the aims and conduct of educational research exploring how they interact and influence each other Focusing on more recent feminists both in education and related disciplines the book highlights illustrative examples from research to form a basis of understanding how the different feminisms have changed education

Goddess and God in the World Carol P. Christ, Judith Plaskow, 2016-08-01 In Goddess and God in the World leading theologians Carol P Christ and Judith Plaskow debate the nature of divinity proposing a new method called embodied theology They agree that the transcendent omnipotent male God of traditional theology must be reimagined Carol proposes that Goddess is the intelligent embodied love that is in all being Judith counters that God is an impersonal power of creativity that includes both good and evil Rooting their views in experience and questioning each other they offer a fruitful model of theological conversation across difference      God in Postliberal Perspective Robert Andrew Cathey, 2016-04-22 Who is God The variety of images of God tends to overwhelm us in the present age Is God a fiction of human construction or a reality that makes claims upon how we practice faith in God How does this quest for an understanding of God illumine who we are God in Postliberal Perspective presents an introduction to the doctrine and concept of God in contemporary philosophy and theology exploring how some theologians and philosophers dare to speak of God as real in our sceptical pluralistic and interfaith age Robert Cathey tours the house of realism as constructed by postliberal Christians David Burrell William Placher Bruce Marshall in conversation with living communities of faith and critical work in philosophy and theology and develops a distinctive argument about the relation of realism and non realism in constructing the doctrine of God in postliberal theology Offering a reading of postliberal theology which is open to critical discussion with other types of theology philosophy and faith traditions this book proposes a model of theological reflection that may be extended to the reality claims of a wide range of doctrines and concepts      Feminist Interpretations of Hans-Georg Gadamer Lorraine Code, 2003 Fifteen essays examine the work of German philosopher Hans Georg Gadamer to provide feminist interpretations of his views on science language history literature and other topics      The New Imperialists Colin Peter Mooers, 2006 What right does any country have over another s policies and internal affairs and are they right to use military power to change them Interest in theopolitics of the new imperialism has surged in recent years This broad and wide ranging collection of articles critically examines the main intellectual justifications for it and poses a number of challenging questions is preemptive regime change permissible even right in the name of military humanism and should military power be used to further the purported goals of human and women s rights and democracy globally In the aftermath of the events of September 11 2001 and the subsequent invasions of Afghanistan and Iraq there seems to be a shift away from multilateralism the inviolability of state sovereignty and the rule of international law In the New Imperialists it is argued that the rhetoric of human rights women s rights democracy and good governance espoused by the defenders of this new doctrine is a rationalization for a new imperialism which will undermine the very political and moral values it purports to advance With
