Nouveaux regards sur les francophonies torontoises Sylvie Guillaume, Pierre Guillaume, 2003 Dans les années 1980 l'identité francophone en Ontario toujours fragilisée par le passé est plus que jamais marquée par les tensions qui rongent alors les rapports entre Ottawa et Québec entre Trudeau et Lévesque Vingt ans plus tard le climat général s'est apaisé et les mesures prises par le gouvernement provincial ontarien ont rassuré les francophones de l'ouest qui semblent d'ailleurs se fondre dans une identité canadienne moins clivée et un bilinguisme de mieux en mieux admis voire acquis. On remarque en même temps que les institutions francophones n'ont jamais été aussi dynamiques et aussi reconnaissables. Comment comprendre ce paradoxe si ce n'est en redéfinissant la francophonie ? Qui assure la francophonie ? Toronto. Les auteurs qui depuis plus de vingt ans étudient cet aspect de la vie sociale canadienne apportent par l'ouvrage un regard renouvelé sur le phénomène francophone.

Nouveaux regards sur l'histoire économique de l'Aquitaine Fédération historique du Sud-Ouest. Congrès d'études régionales, 2003. Malgré les discours misabilistes sur le développement régional l'ouvrage montre que le Sud-Ouest a su en réalité faire fructifier depuis le Moyen Âge des activités économiques extrêmement diversifiées avec des formes multiples d'entreprise marquées par les spécificités locales et sectorielles pour les activités industrielles, agricoles et de services. Face aux enjeux du développement durable la permanence des entreprises artisanales y apparaît comme un atout pour un développement régional plus extensif qu'intensif où le qualitatif prouve au quantitatif comme il illustre la mise en valeur du capital touristique aquitain.

Policing in France Jacques de Maillard, Wesley Skogan, 2020-08-02

The eminent contributors to a new collection Policing in France provide an updated and realistic picture of how the French police system really works in the 21st century. In most international comparisons France typifies the Napoleonic model for policing, one featuring administrative and political centralization, a strong hierarchical structure, distance from local communities and a high priority on political policing. France has undergone a process of pluralization in the last 30 years. French administrative and political decentralization has reemphasized the role of local authorities in public security policies; the private security industry has grown significantly and new kinds of governing models based on arrangements such as contracts for service provision have emerged. In addition, during this period police organizations have been driven toward central government control through the imposition of performance indicators and a top-down decision was made to integrate the national gendarmerie into the Ministry of Interior. The book addresses how police legitimacy differs across socioeconomic, generational, territorial and ethnic lines. An analysis of the policing of banlieues, deprived neighborhoods, illustrates the convergence of contradictory police goals: police violence, the concentration of poverty and entrenched opposition to the state's representatives and questions policing strategies such as the use of identity checks. The collection also frames the scope of community policing initiatives required to deal with the public's security needs and delves into the security challenges presented by terrorist threats and the nuances of the relationship between policing and intelligence agencies.

Identifying and explaining the diverse challenges facing French police organizations and how they have been responding to them this book draws upon a flourishing French language literature in history sociology political science and law to produce this new English language synthesis on policing in France This book is a valuable resource for researchers and practitioners working in and around French policing as well as students of international law enforcement Nouveau regard sur les
