A Broad and Balanced Curriculum in Primary

Schools Susan Ogier, 2022-01-26 Primary schools and teachers in England are tasked with providing a Broad and Balanced curriculum. As pressures of standardised testing and the focus on English and maths impact on teaching time, how can teachers ensure that they remain focused on this as an objective? How do we ensure that the curriculum truly is Broad and Balanced? How do we ensure that we are educating the whole child? This book provides both discussion of the current challenges and practical guidance and support on how to tackle them. It informs and inspires new teachers to teach across the curriculum and to empower the next generation of children to explore what is possible for them within their own future lives. This second edition includes new chapters on curriculum design, alternative environments and learning spaces. Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and the Media Eugene V. Beresin, Cheryl K. Olson, 2018-10-12 Get a quick expert overview of the increasingly important topic of technology and social media and its impact on children and adolescents. This practical resource presents a focused summary of today's current knowledge on topics of interest to psychiatrists, pediatricians, and other health professionals working with children and adolescents. It provides current relevant information on a wide variety of media-related topics as they relate to child and adolescent health and mental illness, making it a one-stop resource for staying up to date in this critical area. Discusses the effects of violent media, the impact of reality TV on female body image, bullying, sexting, and other negative impact of new apps, sex in the media, media outreach for child psychiatrists, the use of telepsychiatry, the role of media in the destigmatizing of mental illness, media literacy for parents, and media portrayal of modern families. Includes coverage of dystopian movies and YA novels, media addiction, the neuroscience of media, the use of media by preschool and young children, the use of media regarding minority populations, and more. Consolidates today's available information on this timely topic into one convenient resource. The Power of a Rich Reading Classroom CLPE, 2020-02-06 There is something quite magical about forming a connection to a book, the way in which the words on the page can conjure feelings of excitement, fun, joy, laughter, or tears, channeling the part of our being that fundamentally makes us human. The journey that children take as they travel towards becoming a competent and confident reader can be a long, winding, and complex road. This book helps teachers understand how to build a quality reading-rich curriculum that supports the needs of all the children in their classroom. Starting with a section on choosing texts, the book goes on to explore a variety of essential teaching approaches, from a read-aloud programme to drama and storytelling, art and illustration. This is a practical resource that provides teachers and schools ideas to support the embedding of text experience and deliver a reading-rich curriculum that leads to higher student attainment and working at greater depth. Handbook of Research on Supporting Social and Emotional Development Through Literacy Education Tussey, Jill, Haas, Leslie, 2021-06-25 The social and emotional welfare of students in both K-12 and higher education settings has become increasingly important during the third decade of the 21st century as students face a variety of social-emotional learning (SEL) challenges related to a multitude of internal and external factors. As concepts around traditional literacy education evolve and become more culturally and linguistically relevant the connections between SEL and academic literacy opportunities warrant considerable exploration The Handbook of Research on Supporting Social and Emotional Development Through Literacy Education develops a conceptual framework around pedagogical connections to social and emotional teaching and learning within K 12 literacy practices This text provides a variety of research and practice protocols supporting student success through the integration of SEL and literacy across grade levels Covering topics such as culturally relevant literacy digital literacy and content area literacy this handbook is essential for curriculum directors education faculty instructional facilitators literacy professionals practicing teachers pre service teachers professional development coordinators school counselors teacher preparation programs academicians researchers and students

Postdevelopmental Approaches to Pedagogical Observation in Childhood Mona Sakr, Jennifer Rowsell, Kortney Sherbine, 2023-08-24 This book argues that developmental approaches to observation in childhood pedagogy are limiting that there is an urgent need to unsettle and reimagine observation proposing new postdevelopmental theories and modes of inquiry for educators Written by leading scholars based in Australia Canada Finland New Zealand the UK and the USA the chapters consider observation as it is enacted in the home nursery or classroom Drawing on a range of theories including feminist new materialism social semiotics and sociocultural and multimodal approaches to early childhood the chapters cover a range of areas from early childhood art and observational literacy tools to intergenerational research and using photography and video in observations

The Common Worlds of Children and Animals Affrica Taylor, Veronica Pacini-Ketchabaw, 2018-10-08 The lives and futures of children and animals are linked to environmental challenges associated with the Anthropocene and the acceleration of human caused extinctions This book sparks a fascinating interdisciplinary conversation about child animal relations calling for a radical shift in how we understand our relationship with other animals and our place in the world It addresses issues of interspecies and intergenerational environmental justice through examining the entanglement of children s and animal s lives and common worlds It explores everyday encounters and unfolding relations between children and urban wildlife Inspired by feminist environmental philosophies and indigenous cosmologies the book poses a new relational ethics based upon the small achievements of child animal interactions It also provides an analysis of animal narratives in children s popular culture It traces the geo historical trajectories and convergences of these narratives and of the lives of children and animals in settler colonised lands This innovative book brings together the fields of more than human geography childhood studies multispecies studies and the environmental humanities It will be of interest to students and scholars who are reconsidering the ethics of child animal relations from a fresh perspective

Thinking Through Stories Thomas E. Wartenberg, 2022-02-20 This book provides justification and instruction for exploring philosophy with children especially by using picture books to initiate philosophical discussion By demonstrating to teachers and others that picture books often embed philosophical issues into their narratives and that this makes picture books a natural place to go to help young children investigate philosophical issues the author offers a straightforward approach to engaging young students In particular this volume highlights how philosophical dialogue enhances children s sense of self provides a safe space for the discussion of issues that they are confronted with in living their lives and develops an admirable method for resolving conflict that the children can use in other contexts

Literacy Goes to School Jo Weinberger, 1996-02-28 Very accessible not too technical or jargon ridden The practical suggestions were useful too if professionals feel inspired to promote change in their practice and policy it is helpful to have suggestions on where to start and what to do Management in Education Few primary teachers have a chance to find out in detail what children have already learnt and continue to learn about literacy at home with their parents This book gives a clear demonstration of literacy learning that takes place at home and how it differs from as well as relates to literacy at school It will help teachers to increase their understanding of this process and to build on their relationship with parents Such unde

ME, YOU, WE & Diversity Susan Omondi, 2024-08-20 We fear what we don t know No matter what country or culture we come from or what color our skin is we all have this primal fear of the unknown This diffuse fear that we share is also the thing that separates us from one another Hardly any other topic is as charged with such controversy polarization doubt and inhibitions as the topic of integration With her book 47 magical ways locals and non locals meet each other Susan Omondi sets out to overcome the rifts that divide us Profound touching and always humorous the Kenyan born author tells stories from her everyday life raises awareness of racism and sheds light on the perspectives of both immigrants or non locals and locals As an author keynote speaker moderator and trainer Omondi s main focus is on diversity in the workplace and the great professional and human opportunities that come with overcoming our fears and prejudices She lives out the motto When we engage with one another magic happens

Teaching the Arts in the Primary Curriculum Susan Ogier, Suzy Tutchell, 2021-05-12 Learning in the arts does not fit in with simple conventional methodologies for teaching and assessing in the traditional sense, but it has an immense power to transform children's understanding of the world around them and their lives. Many jobs currently and of the future will demand the skills that learning in the arts will develop. This book brings Arts Education sharply into focus as a meaningful learning experience for children of pre-school and primary age (3-11 years). It reinforces the potential for the wide range of physical, mental, and emotional development through learning opportunities that engagement in arts practice facilitates. Provides insight into how teachers can support children to consider contemporary challenges that face their generation. Includes expert voices from the world of education to demonstrate an expansive and perhaps surprising view of where and how the Arts can be found. Shows how we can bring the arts so easily into our curriculum and into our classrooms.

Helping Children Become the Heroes of their Stories Amanda Seyderhelm, 2022-09-23 Whether it's the anxiety of social isolation, the loss of routine, or a breakdown in formal educational support, the COVID-19 pandemic has affected children in countless ways. Teachers, therapists, and parents frequently find themselves ill-equipped to help children struggling with the difficult feelings that these situations and others like them give rise to. This essential guide provides a therapeutic toolkit to enable children to tell their stories and to regain some control over their mental health and wellbeing. The toolkit introduces a therapeutic story template alongside guided support and examples focusing on three therapeutic skill sets: active listening, reflection, and handling questions. Designed for use with children both individually and in class groups, the storytelling toolkit will enable children to see themselves as the hero of their own story and life and to reinstate a sense of optimism and self-empowerment in the face of the pandemic challenge. This resource provides a practical toolkit which can be used both inside and outside the classroom to help children to tell their lockdown stories. It will be valuable reading for teachers, SENCOs, therapists, mental health leads, and parents.

Story in Children's Lives: Contributions of the Narrative Mode to Early Childhood Development, Literacy, and Learning Kelli Jo Kerry-Moran, Juli-Anna Aerila, 2019-09-27 This book is based on the power of stories to support children in all areas of their lives It examines the role narratives can play in encouraging growth in contexts and domains such as personal and family identity creative movement memory and self concept social relationships or developing a sense of humor Each chapter describes innovative and research based applications of narratives such as movement stories visual narratives to develop historical thinking multimodal storytelling bibliotherapy mathematics stories family stories and social narratives The chapters elaborate on the strength of narratives in supporting the whole child in diverse contexts from young children on the autism spectrum improving their social skills at school to four and five year olds developing historical thinking to children who are refugees or asylum seekers dealing with uncertainty and loss Written by accomplished teachers researchers specialists teaching artists and teacher educators from several countries and backgrounds the book fills a gap in the literature on narratives this work delves into the topic of narratives in young children s lives with a breadth of topics and depth of study not found elsewhere Collectively the insights of the contributors build a convincing case for emphasizing story across the various disciplines and developmental domains of the early childhood years The writing style is scholarly yet accessible Authors used a wide array of visual material to make their points clearer and show the reader what meaningful uses of story look like Mary Renck Jalongo Journal and Book Series Editor Springer Indiana PA USA

Unsettling the Colonial Places and Spaces of Early Childhood Education Veronica Pacini-Ketchabaw, Affrica Taylor, 2015-03-24 Unsettling the Colonial Places and Spaces of Early Childhood Education uncovers and interrogates some of the inherent colonialist tensions that are rarely acknowledged and often unwittingly rehearsed within contemporary early childhood education Through building upon the prior postcolonial interventions of prominent early childhood scholars Unsettling the Colonial Places and Spaces of Early Childhood Education reveals how early childhood education is implicated in the colonialist project of predominantly immigrant post colonial settler societies By politicizing the silences around these specifically settler colonialist tensions it seeks to further unsettle the innocence presumptions of early childhood education and to offer some decolonizing strategies for early childhood practitioners and scholars Grounding their inquiries in early childhood education the authors variously engage with postcolonial theory place theory feminist philosophy the ecological humanities and indigenous onto epistemologies
