The Ekphrastic Encounter in Contemporary British Poetry and Elsewhere David Kennedy, 2016-03-23 Examining a wide range of ekphrastic poems David Kennedy argues that contemporary British poets writing out of both mainstream and avant garde traditions challenge established critical models of ekphrasis with work that is more complex than representational or counter representational responses to paintings in museums and galleries Even when the poem appears to be straightforwardly representational it is often selectively so producing a virtual work that doesn't exist in actuality Poets such as Kelvin Corcoran Peter Hughes and Gillian Clarke Kennedy suggests relish the ekphrastic encounter as one in which word and image become mutually destabilizing Similarly other poets engage with the source artwork as a performance that participates in the ethical realm Showing that the ethical turn in ekphrastic poetry is often powerfully gendered Kennedy also surveys a range of ekphrastic poets from the Renaissance and nineteenth century to trace a tradition of female ekphrastic poetry that includes Pauline Stainer and Frances Presley Kennedy concludes with a critique of ekphrastic exercises in creative writing teaching proposing that ekphrastic writing that takes greater account of performance spectatorship may offer more fruitful models for the classroom than the narrativizing of images

A literature of restitution Jeannette Baxter, Valerie Henitiuk, Ben Hutchinson, 2015-11-01 This book investigates the crucial question of restitution in the work of W G Sebald Written by leading scholars from a range of disciplines with a foreword by his English translator Anthea Bell the essays collected in this volume place Sebald s oeuvre within the broader context of European culture in order to better understand his engagement with the ethics of aesthetics Whilst opening up his work to a range of under explored areas including dissident surrealism Anglo Irish relations contemporary performance practices and the writings of H G Adler the volume notably returns to the original German texts

The recurring themes identified in the essays from Sebald's carefully calibrated syntax to his self-consciousness about genre from his interest in liminal spaces to his literal and metaphorical preoccupation with blindness and vision all suggest that the attempt at restitution constitutes the very essence of Sebald's understanding of literature
