Kenneth Burke and His Circles Jack Selzer, Robert Wess, 2008-07-24 Kenneth Burke and His Circles consists of original papers focusing on the intellectual circles in which Burke participated during his long career Instead of concentrating on Burke himself as most recent scholarship has done this book considers Burke as one participant in a host of important overlapping intellectual movements that took place over the course of the twentieth century

Encounters with God in Augustine's Confessions Carl G. Vaught, 2012-02-01 This book continues Carl G Vaught's thoroughgoing reinterpretation of Augustine's Confessions one that rejects the view that Augustine is simply a Neoplatonist and argues that he is also a definitively Christian thinker As a companion volume to the earlier Journey toward God in Augustine's Confessions Books I-VI it can be read in sequence with or independently of it This work covers the middle portion of the Confessions Books VII-IX Opening in Augustine's youthful maturity Books VII-IX focus on the three pivotal experiences that transform his life the Neoplatonic vision that causes him to abandon materialism his conversion to Christianity that leads him beyond Neoplatonism to a Christian attitude toward the world and his place in it and the mystical experience he shares with his mother a few days before her death which points to the importance of the Christian community Vaught argues that time space and eternity intersect to provide a framework in which these three experiences occur and which give Augustine a three fold access to God

Kenneth Burke's Weed Garden Kyle Jensen,2022-06-29 Since its publication in 1950 Kenneth Burke's A Rhetoric of Motives has been one of the most influential texts of theory and criticism Critics have discovered in its pages concepts that reveal new dimensions of human motivation And yet despite its obvious genius critics have interpreted A Rhetoric of Motives as a collection of provocations rather than a systematic treatment of rhetoric In this book Kyle Jensen argues that the coherence in Burke's thought has yet to be fully appreciated Drawing on unpublished drafts and voluminous correspondence he reconstructs Burke's drafting and revision process for A Rhetoric of Motives as well as its recently discovered second volume The War of Words Jensen's extensive archival analysis reveals that Burke relied on the concept of myth to draw together the loose ends in his argument For Burke all general theories of rhetoric are formed and structured using mythic images and terms By exploring what Burke added and omitted and by putting his writing process into the context of daily life after the Second World War including Burke's attempts to clear the weeds from his Andover farm Jensen sheds new light on the key problems that Burke encountered and the methods he used to overcome them Kenneth Burke's Weed Garden is essential for those who study Burke and the tradition of modern rhetoric that he helped found homogenizing effects of global capitalism encouraging respectful and responsible travel The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 7, Modernism and the New Criticism George Alexander Kennedy,1989 The history of the most hotly debated areas of literary theory including structuralism and deconstruction Civic Jazz Gregory Clark,2015-02-25 Greg Clark welcomes his readers by asking them to accompany him on a trip to a New Orleans club where the warmth of the music and the warmth of the audience instill a special feeling of communion of getting along Clark's book treats the idea that jazz demands from those who make it as well as those who listen a form of life that substantiates the seemingly impossible American value that is e pluribus unum The process of getting along in communication in community is something the great student of culture and rhetoric Kenneth Burke spent his life trying to describe Clark has found that jazz as an activity and a cultural form goes a long way toward illustrating that process Jazz is often described as democratic Burke's rhetorical and aesthetic ideas explain how this is so Working with others to address immediate problems they share can align for a time individuals who are otherwise very different That is what jazz does it enables people who are different and even in conflict with each other to combine in cooperation toward an end that matters to all of them just now And this too is what civic life in democratic cultures demands In chapters that deal with such issues as what jazz does and how jazz works Clark uses examples from jazz history from Louis Armstrong and Earl Hines to Miles Davis and Bill Evans but also from contemporary jazz both recorded and live e.g pianist Jonathan Batiste and his Social Music drummer Terri Lyne Carrington and her collaborative Mosaic Project or the newly emergent vocalist Cecile McLorin Salvant all of this in the service of making improvisation and ensemble work yield the experience of transcendence that results from intense engagement with jazz as aesthetic form for players and listeners alike The resulting book is a study of jazz in the context of American aspirations toward democratic interaction and a study of Kenneth Burke's democratic rhetorical theory and practice as essentially aesthetic in function and effect Marcus Roberts the much lionized neoclassical pianist crafts a

Foreword that points to practical ways these ideas can work to improve and inspire both musicians and citizens

Faulkner from Within William Howe Rueckert, 2004 Rueckert tracks Faulkner's development as a novelist through 18 novels ranging from Flags in the Dust to The Reivers to show the turn in Faulkner from destructive to generative being from tragedy to comedy from pollution to purification and redemption Rhetoric, Cultural Studies, and Literacy J. Frederick Reynolds, 2013-11-05 This volume presents a representative cross section of the more than 200 papers presented at the 1994 conference of the Rhetoric Society of America The contributors reflect multi and inter disciplinary perspectives English speech communication philosophy rhetoric composition studies comparative literature and film and media studies Exploring the historical relationships and changing relationships between rhetoric cultural studies and literacy in the United States this text seeks answers to such questions as what constitutes literacy in a post modern high tech multi cultural society The ISLE Reader Michael P. Branch, Scott Slovic, 2003 This volume gathers nineteen of the most representative and defining essays from the journal ISLE Interdisciplinary Studies in Literature and Environment over the course of its first ten years Following an introduction that traces the stages of ecocriticism's development The ISLE Reader is organized into three sections each of which reflects one of the general goals the journal has sought to accomplish The section titled Re evaluations provides new readings of familiar environmental writers and new environmental perspectives on authors or literary traditions not usually considered from a green perspective The writings in Reaching Out to Other Disciplines promote cross pollination among various disciplines and methodologies in the environmental arts and humanities The writings in the final section New Theoretical and Practical Paradigms are especially significant for the conceptual and methodological terrain they map The ISLE Reader documents the state of research in ecocriticism and related interdisciplinary fields provides a survey of the field and points to new methodologies and possibilities for the future Moving Bodies Debra Hawhee, 2022-03-23 A sophisticated study of how bodies and language move and are moved by each other Kenneth Burke may be best known for his theories of dramatism and of language as symbolic action but few know him as one of the twentieth century's foremost theorists of the relationship between language and bodies In Moving Bodies Debra Hawhee focuses on Burke's studies from the 1930s 40s and 50s while illustrating that his interest in reading the body as a central force of communication began early in his career By exploring Burke's extensive writings on the subject alongside revealing considerations of his life and his scholarship Hawhee maps his recurring invocation of a variety of disciplinary perspectives in order to theorize bodies and communication working across and even beyond the arts humanities and sciences Burke's sustained analysis of the body drew on approaches representing a range of specialties and interests including music mysticism endocrinology evolution speech gesture theory and speech act theory as well as his personal experiences with pain and illness Hawhee shows that Burke's goal was to advance understanding of the body's relationship to identity to the creation of meaning and to the circulation of language Her study brings to the fore one of Burke's most important and understudied contributions to language theory and she establishes Burke as a pioneer in a field where investigations into affect movement and sense perception broaden understanding of physical ways of knowing      Dissent from War Robert L. Ivie, 2007 The rhetorical presumption of war's necessity makes violence regrettable but seemingly sane and functions to shame anyone who opposes military action Ivie proposes that the presence of dissent is actually a healthy sign of democratic citizenship and a responsible and productive act which has been dangerously miscast as a threat to national security Ivie a former US Navy petty officer puts a microscope to the language of war supporters throughout history and follows the lives and memories of soldiers and anti war activists who have dealt with degrees of confusion and guilt about their opposition to war Arguing that informed dissent plays out largely in the realm of rhetoric he equips readers with strategies for resisting the dehumanizing language used in war propaganda Through his careful study of language strategies he makes it possible to foster a community where dissenting voices are valued and vital      Theological Analyses of the Clinical Encounter G.P. McKenny, J.R. Sande, 1994-02-28 Efforts to evaluate the clinical encounter in terms of autonomous agents governed by rationally justified moral principles continue to be criticised These essays written by physicians ethicists theologians and philosophers examine various models of the clinical encounter emerging out of these criticisms and explore the prospects they offer for theological and religious discourse Individual essays focus on the reformulation of covenant models revisions of principles approaches and topics such as power authority narrative rhetoric dialogue and alterity The essays display a range of conclusions about whether theology articulates generally accessible religious insights or is a tradition specific discipline Hence the volume reflects current debates in theology while analysing current models of the clinical encounter Students professionals and scholars who find themselves at the intersection of theology and medicine will welcome these voices in an ongoing conversation
