Dance and British Literature: An Intermedial Encounter Maria Marcsek-Fuchs,2015-02-11 Dance and literature seem to have much in common Both are part of a culture represent a culture and subvert a culture Yet at the same time they appear to be medial antagonists one is kinetic and multimedial the other often verbal and seemingly mono medial What happens however when both meet when movement is integrated into the literary world or even replaces verbal communication Dance is artistic and popular traditional and innovative bodily and ephemeral It holds cultural and kinetic information in a nutshell and thus brings movement and cultural history into a text Shakespeare s plays Restoration comedy 19th century caricature popular and elitist theatre all make use of dance as special means of signification Thus this study explores dance in British literature from Shakespeare to Yeats and illustrates the many ways in which these two forms of artistic expression can enter into various kinds of intermedial encounters and cultural alliances

Contemporary Archival Fiction Elin Ivansson,2025-09-30 This book presents a synthesised framework for analysing archival poetics in multimodal literature examining case studies from twenty first century American fiction towards elucidating the archival turn in contemporary literature more broadly Ivansson turns her focus on multimodal archival fiction here understood as works which engage with archival practices of collecting and organising both verbal text and visual inclusions of fictional and factual archival material such as photographs sketches notes and newspaper clippings The volume brings together work from multimodality cognitive stylistics and narratology with archival studies to demonstrate how contemporary archival fiction engages with archival themes through multimodal design Case studies include works from Barbara Hodgson Leanne Shapton Valeria Luiselli and Jacob Garbe and Aaron A Reed The selected examples allow for a detailed exploration of how to analyse the multimodal composition and reader experience of archival poetics Furthermore these case studies also elucidate how such a framework can be applied more broadly to the analysis of fictional works thematically and structurally concerned with the archive or those that grapple with such areas of interest in contemporary research as materiality bookishness and ontological ambiguity This volume will appeal to students and scholars in multimodality stylistics American literature and literary studies Cross-Cultural Encounters in Joseph Conrad's Malay Fiction R. Hampson, 2000-11-08 This is the first major study to bring together for examination all of Conrad's Malay fiction the early novels Almayer's Folly An Outcast of the Islands and Lord Jim the two later novels Victory and The Rescue and various short stories such as The Lagoon and Karain The volume focuses on cross cultural encounters cultural identity and cultural dislocation paying particular attention to issues of race and gender He also situates Conrad's fiction in relation to earlier English accounts of South East Asia Sexuality and the Reading Encounter Emma Wilson, 1996 Can fictions of desire determine real pleasures Do texts regulate the performance of our sexual identities In Sexuality and the Reading Encounter Emma Wilson offers a new account of the intimate relations between reading identity and identification Interweaving theoretical debate with analysis of texts by Proust Duras Tournier and Cixous her study reveals the formative potential and transference pleasures of the reading encounter Drawing on an understanding of identity as performative alienated and fictitious this study argues that the fictions we read act as mirrors and decoys displaying seductive images of intelligible sexual identities The texts chosen for discussion here draw attention to the strategies by which identity is constructed textually They work thus to frame the reading encounter and to highlight its formative power In analysis of these texts this study works to cut across the axes of homosexuality and heterosexuality offering an alternative focus on the interdependence of identity and fantasy German Encounters With Modernity Katherine Roper, 1991 The novels of Imperial Berlin a rich repository of social discourse about the simultaneous experiences of nationhood and modernity in Imperial Germany reveal distinct historical and cultural obstacles impeding authors' attempts to envision a humane modern German identity Encountering China Rachana Sachdev, Qinjun Li, 2012-10-01 Encountering China addresses the responses of early modern travelers to China who awed by the wealth and sophistication of the society they encountered attempted primarily to build bridges to explore similarities and to emulate the Chinese though they were also critical of some local traditions and practices Contributors engage critically with travelogues treating them not just as occasional sources of historical information but as primary literary texts deeply revelatory of the world they describe Contributors reach back to the earliest European writings available on China in an effort to broaden and nuance our understanding of European contact with the Middle Kingdom in the early modern period While the primary focus of these essays is the external gaze European sources about China contributors also tease out aspects of the Chinese world view of the time thus generating a conversation between Chinese literary and historical texts and European ones Arab Representations of the Occident Rasheed El-Enany, 2006-04-18 This is one of the first books in English to explore Arab responses to Western culture and values in modern Arab literature Through in depth research El Enany examines the attitudes as expressed mainly through works of fiction written by Arab authors during the twentieth and to a lesser extent nineteenth century It constitutes an original addition to the age old East West debate and is particularly relevant to the current discussion on Islam and the West Alongside raising highly topical questions about stereotypical ideas concerning Arabs and Muslims in general the book explores representations of the West by the foremost Arab intellectuals over a two century period up to the present day and will appeal to those with an interest in Islam the Middle East nationalism and the so called Clash of Civilizations

Encounter Stephen Spender, Irving Kristol, 1973 The Missed Encounter of Radical Philosophy with Architecture Nadir Lahiji, 2014-04-10 The Missed Encounter of Radical Philosophy with Architecture brings together a respected team of philosophers and architecture scholars to ask what impact architecture has over today s culture and society For three decades critical philosophy has been in discourse with architecture Yet following the recent radical turn in contemporary philosophy architecture s role in contemporary culture is rarely addressed In turn the architecture discourse in academia has remained ignorant of recent developments in radical philosophy Providing the first platform for a debate between critics architects and radical philosophers this unique collection unties these two schools of thought Contributors reason for or against the claim of the missed encounter between architecture and radical philosophy They discuss why our prominent critical philosophers devote stimulating writings to the ideological impact of arts on the contemporary culture music literature cinema opera theatre without attempting a similar comprehensive analysis of architecture By critically evaluating recent philosophy in relation to contemporary architecture The Missed Encounter of Radical Philosophy with Architecture presents a thorough understanding of the new relationship between architecture and radical philosophy Traditional Chinese Fiction in the English-Speaking World Junjie Luo, 2022-08-16 This book develops interdisciplinary and comparative approaches to analyzing the cross cultural travels of traditional Chinese fiction It ties this genre to issues such as translation world literature digital humanities book culture and images of China Each chapter offers a case study of the historical and cultural conditions under which traditional Chinese fiction has traveled to the English speaking world proposing a critical lens that can be used to explain these cross cultural encounters The book seeks to identify connections between traditional Chinese fiction and other cultures that create new meanings and add to the significance of reading teaching and studying these classical novels and stories in the English speaking world Scholars students and general readers who are interested in traditional Chinese fiction translation studies and comparative and world literature will find this book useful

Teen readers, whether devoted fans or newcomers, can use it themselves to find titles and subgenres they might like. In addition, the guide will help teachers and parents match students with the right books.

Encountering China's Past Lintao Qi, Shani Tobias, 2022-04-12. This book features articles contributed by leading scholars and scholar-translators in Translation Studies and Chinese Studies from around the world. Written in English, the articles examine the translation of classical Chinese literature from classics to poetry, from drama to fiction into a range of Asian and European languages, including Japanese, English, French, Czech, and Danish. The collection therefore provides a platform for readers to make comparative and critical readings of scholarship across languages, cultures, disciplines, and genres. With its integration of textual and paratextual materials, this collection of essays is of potential interest to not only academics in the area of Translation Studies, Chinese Studies, Literary Studies, and Intercultural Communications, but it may also appeal to communities outside the academia who simply enjoy reading about literature.

Landscapes of Encounter Liam Gearon, 2002. Brian Moore (1921-1999) is one of the few novelists whose literary portrayal of Catholicism effectively spans the period prior to and following the Second Vatican Council. Many critics have discussed how Moore's life is reflected in his works, while others have dismissed his fictions as simple narratives in the mould of classical realism. In this timely book, Gearon contends that Moore's fictions are far more complex, as he was one of the great observers of Catholicism in all its modern and historical controversy.

The Encounter Anne Douglas Sedgwick, 1914. Crossing Cultural Boundaries Lili Hernández, 2020-07-13. To cross boundaries, to go beyond borders, an evocative idea, but what are the implications and consequences of transgression? How are boundaries challenged, redefined, and overcome within the intricacies of taboos, bodies, and identities? Crossing Cultural Boundaries: Taboos, Bodies, and Identities brings together a range of articles that address this theme using different frameworks of interpretation. As in the case of taboo, boundaries are often internalised and may function as regulators for a society. Their existence becomes visible the moment they are violated. The essays in this book explore voluntary and accidental encounters with boundaries, not only from theoretical perspectives but also from the experience of those who are part of transitions on a regular basis in their everyday lives. The notion of otherness is central to the articles in this book. The definition and interpretation of cultural others become part and parcel of the process of negotiation of bodies and identities. While the other is marked by outward bodily signs, spaces, taboos, and cultural practices, the self is empowered by resisting submission to dominant modes and descriptions. Deconstructing boundaries becomes part of the project of redefining the self. This book will appeal to academics and researchers in communications, cultural studies,
