Encyclopedia of Modern Knowledge Sir John Alexander Hammerton,1939 Encyclopaedia of Modern Knowledge Gerald Eugene Speck,John Hetherington,1965 Chinese Encyclopaedias of New Global Knowledge (1870-1930) Milena Doleželová-Velingerová,Rudolf G Wagner,2013-08-04 This is a set of pioneering studies on Chinese encyclopaedias of modern knowledge 1870 1930 At a transitional time when modern knowledge was sought after yet few modern schools were available these works were crucial sources of information for an entire generation This volume investigates many of these encyclopaedias which were never reprinted and are hardly known even to specialists for the first time The contributors to this collection all specialize in the period in question and have worked together for a number of years The resulting studies show that these encyclopaedias open a unique window onto the migration and ordering systems of knowledge across cultural and linguistic borders Encyclopaedia of Modern Knowledge Gerald Eugene Speck,John Hetherington,1972 Science for All Peter J. Bowler,2009-10-15 Recent scholarship has revealed that pioneering Victorian scientists endeavored through voluminous writing to raise public interest in science and its implications But it has generally been assumed that once science became a profession around the turn of the century this new generation of scientists turned its collective back on public outreach Science for All debunks this apocryphal notion Peter J Bowler surveys the books serial works magazines and newspapers published between 1900 and the outbreak of World War II to show that practicing scientists were very active in writing about their work for a general readership Science for All argues that the social environment of early twentieth century Britain created a substantial market for science books and magazines aimed at those who had benefited from better secondary education but could not access higher learning Scientists found it easy and profitable to write for this audience Bowler reveals and because their work was seen as educational they faced no hostility from their peers But when admission to colleges and universities became more accessible in the 1960s this market diminished and professional scientists began to lose interest in writing at the nonspecialist level Eagerly anticipated by scholars of scientific engagement throughout the ages Science for All sheds light on our own era and the continuing tension between science and public understanding The Encyclopædia Britannica Hugh Chisholm,1911 Elgar Encyclopedia on the Economics of Knowledge and Innovation Antonelli, Cristiano,2022-10-14 A landmark reference work in the field this Elgar Encyclopedia presents over 60 entries from scholars that have shaped the making of the economics of innovation as a distinct and specialised field of investigation within the broad range of economic disciplines This will be a critical read for economics scholars particularly those focusing on knowledge and innovation as it offers an understanding of the definitions of key terms in the field the founding tenets of the topic and the economics of knowledge and innovation in more specific contexts Encyclopædia of Religion and Ethics: Hymms-Liberty James Hastings,John Alexander Selbie,Louis Herbert Gray,1915 Scope theology philosophy ethics of various religions and ethical systems and relevant portions of anthropology mythology folklore biology psychology economics and sociology Chambers's Encyclopaedia, Dictionary of Universal Knowledge, Volume VI, Humber to Malta ,1901 Between Encyclopedia and Chorography Anna Boroffka,2022-10-03 During the early modern period regional specified compendia which combine information on local moral and natural history towns and fortifications with historiography antiquarianism images series or maps gain a new agency in the production of knowledge Via literary and aesthetic practices the compilations construct a display of regional specified knowledge In some cases this display of regional knowledge is presented as a display of a local cultural identity and is linked to early modern practices of comparing and classifying civilizations At the core of the publication are compendia on the Americas which research has described as chorographies encyclopeadias or more recently cultural encyclopaedias Studies on Asian and European encyclopeadias universal histories and chorographies help to contextualize the American examples in the broader field of an early modern and transcultural knowledge production which inherits and modifies the ancient and medieval tradition The New Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge ,1908 The New Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge Johann Jakob Herzog,Albert Hauck,Samuel Macauley Jackson,Charles Colebrook Sherman,George William Gilmore,1908 London Encyclopædia, Or, Universal Dictionary of Science, Art, Literature, and Practical Mechanics ,1845 Chambers's Encyclopædia: a Dictionary of Universal Knowledge for the People Robert Chambers,1879 The Student's Encyclopaedia of Universal Knowledge ,1883 *CHAMBER'S ENCYCLOPEDIA: A DICTIONARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE, VOL.
