Flesh and Blood George C. Denniston, Frederick Mansfield Hodges, Marilyn Fayre Milos, 2013-03-09 Who owns your sex organs Different cultures today and in different epochs have given a variety of answers to this question It may seem self evident that every individual owns and has sovereignty over his or her own body parts such as the head legs nose stomach pancreas and other body parts The sex organs however seem to be an exception Even though they are as much an integral part of the individual as a leg or a liver the sex organs are unique in that many cultures have established laws and taboos over the use and even the mere display of the sex organs Thus certain cultures have placed constraints over the individual s ownership of his or her sex organs and actively regulate and restrict the individual s access and use of those organs In other cultures the question of ownership of the sex organs is more decisively answered In any culture where circumcision to any degree of either the male or female is practiced permitted encouraged or even merely tolerated it is clear that the individual is not considered to own his own sex organs In the United States today the medical establishment has created an is considered acceptable and desirable that anyone for environment where it any reason can authorize or execute the amputation of the foreskin from a male child s penis Functional and Dysfunctional Sexual Behavior Anders publication Eicosanoids and Other Bioactive Lipids in Cancer, Inflammation, and Radiation Injury, 5 Kenneth V. Honn, Lawrence J. Marnett, Santosh Nigam, Charles N. Serhan, Edward A. Dennis, 2003-02-28 This volume represents a collection of contributions from the 6th International Conference on Eicosanoids and Other Bioactive Lipids in Cancer Inflammation and Related Diseases held in Boston from September 12-15, 1999. The mission of this meeting was to bring together senior and junior investigators to both announce and examine their recent advancements in cutting edge research on the roles and actions of lipid mediators and their impact in human physiology and disease pathogenesis. The meeting focused on new concepts in these areas of interest to both clinicians and researchers. The program included several outstanding plenary lectures and presentations by leading experts in the fields of cancer and inflammation. In addition, the Boston meeting presented three Young Investigator awards, one in each of the major focus areas. The meeting was exciting and proved to be very memorable. The program was developed with an emphasis on recent advances in molecular and of lipid mediators relevant in cellular mechanisms involved in the formation and actions of inflammation and cancer. Plenary lectures were presented by Prof Bengt Samuelsson, Karolinska Institute, Stockholm, 1982 Nobel Laureate in Physiology or Medicine, and Prof E. I. Corey, Harvard University, 1990 Nobel Laureate in Chemistry. Both of these plenary lectures were held on Day 1, which set an exciting tone for this meeting. Immediately following these plenary lectures, three simultaneous breakout sessions were held: one on inflammation, a second on cancer, and a third on synthesis of novel inhibitors and a third on enzymes: lipoxygenases, cyclooxygenases, and inhibitors. Encyclopedia of Human Biology, 1997 MEDICAL AND HEALTH SCIENCES - Volume VI Osmo Otto Paavio, Hanninen; Mustafa Atalay; B.P.
