Works (and Doesn't) in Reducing Recidivism Edward J. Latessa, Shelley L. Johnson, Deborah Koetzle, 2020-06-08 What Works and Doesn't in Reducing Recidivism offers criminologists and students an evidence based discussion of the latest trends in corrections Experts Latessa Johnson and Koetzle translate the research and findings about what works and doesn't work in reducing recidivism into understandable concepts and terms presenting them in a way that illustrates the value of research to practice Over the last several decades research has clearly shown that rehabilitation efforts can be effective in reducing recidivism among criminal offenders but it is clear that treatment is not a one size fits all approach Offenders vary by gender age crime type and or addictions to name but a few ways and these individual needs must be addressed by providers Finally issues such as leadership quality of staff and evaluation efforts affect the quality and delivery of treatment services While other texts have addressed issues regarding treatment in corrections this text is unique in that it not only

discusses the research on what works but also addresses the implementation issues faced as practitioners move from theory to practice as well as the importance of staff leadership and evaluation efforts This book synthesizes the vast research for the student interested in correctional rehabilitation as well as for the practitioner working with offenders Report on Drug Control ,1987 National Institute of Justice Journal ,1992 Addiction Medicine E-Book Bankole Johnson,2019-12-12 Integrating scientific knowledge with today s most effective treatment options Addiction Medicine Science and Practice 2nd Edition provides a wealth of information on addictions to substances and behavioral addictions It discusses the concrete research on how the brain and body are affected by addictions improving your understanding of how patients develop addictions and how best to personalize treatment and improve outcomes This essential text is ideal for anyone who deals with patients with addictions in clinical practice including psychiatrists health psychologists pharmacologists social workers drug counselors trainees and general physicians family practitioners Clearly explains the role of brain function in drug taking and other habit forming behaviors and shows how to apply this biobehavioral framework to the delivery of evidence based treatment Provides clinically relevant details on not only traditional sources of addiction such as cocaine opiates and alcohol but also more recently recognized substances of abuse e g steroids inhalants as well as behavioral addictions e g binge eating compulsive gambling hoarding Discusses current behavioral and medical therapies in depth while also addressing social contexts that may affect personalized treatment Contains new information on compliance enhancing interventions cognitive behavioral treatments behavioral management and other psychosocial interventions Includes neurobiological molecular and behavioral theories of addiction and includes a section on epigenetics Contains up to date information throughout including a new definition of status epilepticus a current overview of Lennox Gastaut syndrome and updates on new FDA approved drugs for pediatric neurological disorders Features expanded sections on evidence based treatment options including pharmacotherapy pharmacogenetics and potential vaccines Addresses addiction in regards to specific populations including adolescents geriatric pregnant women and health care professionals Includes contributions from expert international authors making this a truly global reference to addiction medicine La Bodega de la Familia Carol Shapiro,1998 Preventing Crime Brandon C. Welsh,David P. Farrington,2007-08-09 Crime prevention should be rational and should be based on the best possible evidence Decision makers should weigh heavily any available evidence on what works best How can a program that has produced no discernable evidence of effectiveness as shown through numerous evaluations be considered for implementation Unfortunately this happens all the time Evidence based crime prevention attempts to overcome this and other obstacles by ensuring that the best available evidence is considered in any decision to implement a program designed to prevent crime This book is about evidence based crime prevention A project of the Campbell Collaboration Crime and Justice Group Preventing Crime brings together the leading scientific evidence on what works best for a wide range of interventions organized around four important domains in criminology at risk children offenders victims and places It is the first book to assess the effectiveness of criminological interventions using the most rigorous review methodology of the systematic review It is an indispensable guide to the leading scientific evidence on what works best to prevent crime

Female Offenders and Reentry Lisa M. Carter,Catherine D. Marcum,2017-07-20 Often research concerning the female offender is scarce This book adds to the criminological literature on the topic of reentry for women focusing on the barriers women face as they return to society and adjust to life after incarceration Each chapter addresses specific issues challenges and obstacles affiliated with the hindrance of successful reentry processes associated with female offenders as well as data driven empirical studies While corrections has often misunderstood or overlooked the needs of returning offenders the shortcomings of the institutions have a greater impact on women than on their male counterparts particularly regarding the occurrence of social and medical problems especially those related to mental health and substance abuse Female Offenders and Reentry helps criminal justice students and practitioners see the full picture when considering the challenges faced by female offenders reintegrating into society
