Eight Months On Ghazzah Street:

Eight Months on Ghazzah Street Hilary Mantel, 2004 Frances Shore makes maps for her living but when her husband's work takes the couple of Saudi Arabia she's lost within Jeddah's ever developing streets The regime is corrupt and harsh the cynical expatriates are money grabbing and her warily curious Muslim neighbours remain mysterious Confined to her flat Frances hears whispers from the empty apartment above her With only rumours to go on nothing relieved her creeping sense of unease As the days empty of certainty and purpose Frances life becomes a blank waiting to be filled by violence and betrayal

Eight Months on Ghazzah Street Hilary Mantel, 2003-09 An English couple's life in Saudi Arabia told through the eyes of Frances the wife She describes the heat the ugliness and the menace of Islamic law Men stroll in the street with rifles and from the apartment upstairs comes sobbing It is nothing her Arab friends tell her simply a millionaire's mistress but Frances knows they are lying Finally there is murder

When in French Lauren Collins, 2017-11-07 A language barrier is no match for love Lauren Collins discovered this firsthand when in her early thirties she moved to London and fell for a Frenchman named Olivier a surprising turn of events for someone who didn't have a passport until she was in college But what does it mean to love someone in a second language Collins wonders as her relationship with Olivier continues to grow entirely in English Are there things she doesn't understand about Olivier having never spoken to him in his native tongue Does I love you even mean the same thing as je t'aime When the couple newly married relocates to Francophone Geneva Collins fearful of one day becoming a Borat of a mother who doesn't understand her own kids decides to answer her questions for herself by learning French When in French is a laugh out loud funny and surprising memoir about the lengths we go to for love as well as an exploration across culture and history into how we learn languages and what they say about who we are Collins grapples with the complexities of the French language enduring excruciating role playing games with her classmates at a Swiss language school and accidentally telling her mother in law that she's given birth to a coffee machine In learning French Collins must wrestle with the very nature of French identity and society which it turns out is a far cry from life back home in North Carolina Plumbing the mysterious depths of humanity's many forms of language Collins describes with great style and wicked humor the frustrations embarrassments surprises and finally joys of learning and living in French
