Effects Of Nuclear Earth Penetrator And Other Weapons:

Effects of Nuclear Earth-Penetrator and Other Weapons National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Committee on the Effects of Nuclear Earth-Penetrator and Other Weapons, 2005-10-06 Underground facilities are used extensively by many nations to conceal and protect strategic military functions and weapons stockpiles. Because of their depth and hardened status, however, many of these strategic hard and deeply buried targets could only be put at risk by conventional or nuclear earth penetrating weapons. EPW. Recently an engineering feasibility study, the robust nuclear earth penetrator program, was started by DOE and DOD to determine if a more effective EPW could be designed using major components of existing nuclear weapons. This activity has created some controversy about, among other things, the level of collateral damage that would ensue if such a weapon were used. To help clarify this issue, the Congress in P L 107 314 directed the Secretary of Defense to request from the NRC a study of the anticipated health and environmental effects of nuclear earth penetrators and other weapons and the effect of both conventional and nuclear weapons against the storage of biological and chemical weapons. This report provides the results of those analyses. Based on detailed numerical calculations, the report presents a series of findings comparing the effectiveness and expected collateral damage of nuclear EPW and surface nuclear weapons under a variety of conditions. Minimum Deterrence: Examining the Evidence Keith B.

Payne, James Schlesinger, 2016-04-14 The National Institute for Public Policy's new book Minimum Deterrence: Examining the Evidence is the first of its kind. Dr. Keith Payne, former Secretary of Defense, James Schlesinger, and an unparalleled bipartisan group of senior civilian and military experts critically examine eight basic assumptions of Minimum Deterrence against available evidence. In general, Minimum Deterrence does not fare well under the careful scrutiny. Proponents of a Minimum Deterrent US nuclear force posture believe that anywhere from a handful to a few hundred nuclear weapons are adequate to deter reliably and predictably any enemy from attacking the United States now and in the future. Because nuclear weapons are so destructive, their thinking goes, no foreign leader would dare challenge US capabilities. The benefits advocates claim of reducing US nuclear weapons to the minimum level needed are better relations with Russia and China, reinforcement of the arms control and Nonproliferation Treaty, billions of defense dollars in savings, and greater international stability on the way to nuclear zero. As political pressure builds to pursue this vision of minimum US deterrence, Minimum Deterrence: Examining the Evidence stands as the seminal study to address the many claims of great benefit using available evidence. This book was published as a special issue of Comparative Strategy. U.S. Nuclear Weapons Policy George Bunn, Christopher F.
