Effects Of Mergers:

Anatomy of a Merger Alexandra Merle Post,1994 Provides major force in international financial economics mergers takeovers and corporate control The Determinants and Effects of Mergers Dennis C. Mueller,1980 Non-price Effects of Mergers and Acquisitions Justus Haucap,Joel Stiebale,2023 In this paper we summarize the economic literature on non price effects of mergers and acquisitions M As Specifically we discuss the effects of M As on innovation product variety and sustainability Although the relationship is theoretically ambiguous the vast majority of ex post evaluations of horizontal M As finds large negative effects on innovation inputs and outputs Results are mixed for outcomes related to variety and product quality Literature on merger effects on sustainability is still scarce and not conclusive so far Overall the existing literature indicates that non price effects of horizontal mergers seem to amplify negative consequences for consumers from price increases through reduced competition We derive a number of ideas and options for merger policy The Effects of Mergers on Economic Performance Gregory J. Werden,Andrew S. Joskow,Richard L. Johnson,1989 The Effects of Mergers in Open Auction Markets Keith Waehrer,Martin Kent Perry,2001 Conglomerate Mergers George J. Benston,1980 Monograph on cost benefit analysis of USA mergers explains recent trends in terms of capital resources valuation tax incentives etc Examines motivations for and consequences of mergers in relation to small scale industries and shareholders analyses costs and benefits for consumers workers and communities and comments on problems of official merger prevention company law Bibliography pp 74 to 76 and statistical tables The Effects of Mergers Klaus Peter Gugler,2015 This paper analyzes the effects of mergers around the world over the past 15 years We utilize a large panel of data on mergers to test several hypotheses about mergers The effects of the mergers are examined by comparing the performance of the merging firms with control groups of nonmerging firms The comparisons are made on profitability and sales The results show that mergers on average do result in significant increases in profits but reduce the sales of the merging firms Interestingly these post merger patterns look similar across countries We also did not find dramatic differences between mergers in the manufacturing and the service sectors and between domestic and cross border mergers Conglomerate mergers decrease sales more than horizontal mergers By separating mergers into those that increase profits and those that reduce them and by then examining the patterns of sales changes following the mergers we determine the effects of mergers on efficiency and market power Our results suggest that those mergers that decrease profits and efficiency account for a large proportion However we can also identify mergers that increase profits by either increasing market power or by increasing efficiency The first conclusion seems to be a more likely explanation for large companies whereas the latter is likely to be true for small firms The Effects of Mergers in Differentiated Products Industries Gregory Werden,Luke M. Froeb,1993

RETRACTED, The Regulation of Transnational Mergers in International and European Law Dimitris Liakopoulos,Armando Marsilia,2009-12-07 The major problem associated with the regulation of transnational mergers which affect several national markets is the allocation of jurisdiction Each country concerned may wish to exert jurisdiction and apply its national competition law to regulate the anti competitive effects a merger may have in its territory However this approach may lead to risks of inconsistent decisions regarding the legality of mergers Indeed the national competition laws applied by the regulating authorities may diverge in several aspects which raise the likelihood of inconsistency Therefore it is desirable to opt for regulatory approaches which are more sensitive to the transnational nature of mergers and which allow cooperation between competition authorities A possible solution may be bilateral cooperation agreements through which two countries coordinate the enforcement activities of their national competition authorities However the benefits of these agreements are enjoyed only by the signatory parties The sole reliance upon bilateral agreements does not appear to be the optimal regulatory approach towards transnational mergers

Evidence for the Effects of Mergers on Market Power and Efficiency Bruce A. Blonigen,Justin R. Pierce,2016 Abstract Study of the impact of mergers and acquisitions M As on productivity and market power has been complicated by the difficulty of separating these two effects We use newly developed techniques to separately estimate productivity and markups across a wide range of industries using detailed plant level data Employing a difference in differences framework

we find that M As are associated with increases in average markups but find little evidence for effects on plant level productivity We also examine whether M As increase efficiency through reallocation of production to more efficient plants or through reductions in administrative operations but again find little evidence for these channels on average The results are robust to a range of approaches to address the endogeneity of firms merger decisions Horizontal Merger Guidelines,1997 Governance and the Market for Corporate Control John L.
