Transit Advertising Revenue Beverly R. Silverberg, National Research Council (U.S.). Transportation Research Board, Transit Cooperative Research Program, 1998 Offers information from selected North American and other transit agencies about the existing environment for advertising on transit property and describes agency experiences It also explores innovative revenue generating practices

Eight Ways to Finance Transit Wayne Boyle, 1994 Analysis of Bonding Vs. "pay-as-you-go" Financing Matthew Rowell, 1999 The decision to bond or to pay as you go must be made on a case by case basis where all of the relevant concerns are taken into consideration Research has allowed us to develop the following general conclusions The interest cost of bonding is not outweighed by the effects of inflation interest payments impose a real cost on bond issuers Continual bonding may result in there being less funds available for other uses but this effect may be outweighed by the benefits bonding affords The principal benefit of bonding is that it allows projects to be completed sooner

Handbook of Transportation and Public Policy Anthony Perl, Rosalie Singerman Ray, Louise Reardon, 2025-01-09 This cutting edge Handbook explores the many ways in which politics influences transportation policy planning and implementation as well as the effects of transportation on political processes It rigorously analyses the complex interrelation between administration politics and transportation presenting theoretical and empirical insights into the governance approaches required to advance transportation s contribution to social and ecological wellbeing

Megaprojects and Risk Bent Flyvbjerg, Nils Bruzelius, Werner Rothengatter, 2003-02-13 Megaprojects and Risk provides the first detailed examination of the phenomenon of megaprojects It is a fascinating account of how the promoters of multi billion dollar megaprojects systematically and self servingly misinform parliaments the public and the media in order to get projects approved and built It shows in unusual depth how the formula for approval is an unhealthy cocktail of underestimated costs overestimated revenues undervalued environmental impacts and overvalued economic development effects This results in projects that are extremely risky but where the risk is concealed from MPs taxpayers and investors The authors not only explore the problems but also suggest practical solutions drawing on theory experience and hard scientific evidence from the several hundred projects in twenty nations and five continents that illustrate the book Accessibly written it will be the standard reference for students scholars planners economists auditors politicians and interested citizens for many years to come

Privatization and Regulation of Transport Infrastructure Antonio Estache, Ginés de Rus, 2000-01-01 The 1990s saw an increase in the liberalisation of transport policies and a strengthening of the role of private operators and investors in transport infrastructure worldwide The search for sustained improvement in efficiency is probably secondary to the need to find additional financing but it is improvement in services that is at the core of the new role of the government in transport Governments must now become fair economic regulators of many of the privately operated transport services and infrastructures This book examines the major challenges that governments are likely to face in taking on their new role in transport

Public Finance and Public Policy Jonathan Gruber, 2011 When first published Gruber's Public Finance and Public Policy brought a refreshingly contemporary approach It was the first text written from the ground up to reflect current realities of public finance enhancing its survey of traditional topics with an emphasis on empirical work and coverage of transfer programs and social insurance The new edition fully updated with the most recent data and research possible includes new coverage of the Medicare drug benefit changes in the tax code Hurricane Katrina and the ongoing debate over privatization
