Leo, 2024-06-28 This book examines the world of religious conservatism in Christianity and Islam through a comparison of two eighteenth century traditionalist icons Jonathan Edwards and Muhammad Ibn Abd al Wahh b Spanning the globe from America to Arabia this book explores the major themes in the lives and works of these most unlikely of bedfellows the Reverend and the Shaykh In many ways Edwards and Ibn Abd al Wahh b are about as far apart as two figures could possibly be Without minimizing their very real differences however this comparative study finds numerous parallels that beckon even the most conservative of Christians and Muslims to take a second look at their own faith as well as the faith of the other The numerous surprising congruences in the worlds of the Reverend and the Shaykh as well as in their conceptions of God humanity and the faith of the other suggest that we stand much to gain from a reassessment of long held views that could lead to wholly new patterns of engagement With implications in diverse fields such as politics law philosophy theology history warfare and anthropology this book unearths striking parallels in Edwards and Ibn Abd al Wahh b that have heretofore gone unnoticed or largely ignored The Wiley-Blackwell Companion to African Religions Elias Kifon Bongmba, 2012-03-12 The Wiley Blackwell Companion to African Religions brings together a team of international scholars to create a single volume resource on the religious beliefs and practices of the peoples in Africa Offers broad coverage of issues relating to African religions considering experiences in indigenous Christian and Islamic traditions across the continent Contributors are

Unveiling Modernity in Twentieth-Century West African Islamic Reforms Ousman Kobo, 2012-08-27 In this book Ousman Kobo analyzes the origins of Wahhabi inclined reform movements in two West African countries Commonly associated with recent Middle Eastern influences reform movements in Ghana and Burkina Faso actually began during the twilight of European colonial rule in the 1950s and developed from local doctrinal contests over Islamic orthodoxy These early movements in turn gradually evolved in ways sympathetic to Wahhabi ideas Kobo also illustrates the modernism of this style of Islamic reform The decisive factor for most of the movements was the alliance of secularly educated Muslim elites with Islamic scholars to promote a self consciously modern religiosity rooted in the Prophet Muhammad s traditions This book therefore provides a fresh understanding of the indigenous origins of Wahhabism Islam and the English

Enlightenment, 1670-1840 Humberto Garcia,2012-01-30 A corrective addendum to Edward Said s Orientalism this book examines how sympathetic representations of Islam contributed significantly to Protestant Britain s national and imperial identity in the eighteenth century Taking a historical view Humberto Garcia combines a rereading of eighteenth century and Romantic era British literature with original research on Anglo Islamic relations He finds that far from being considered foreign by the era s thinkers Islamic republicanism played a defining role in Radical Enlightenment debates most significantly during the Glorious Revolution French Revolution and other moments of acute constitutional crisis as well as in national and political debates about England and its overseas empire Garcia shows that writers such as Edmund Burke Lady Mary Wortley Montagu Samuel Taylor Coleridge Robert Southey and Percy and Mary Shelley not only were influenced by international events in the Muslim world but also saw in that world and its history a viable path to interrogate contest and redefine British concepts of liberty This deft exploration of the forgotten moment in early modern history when intercultural exchange between the Muslim world and Christian West was common resituates English literary and intellectual history in the wider context of the global eighteenth century The direct challenge it poses to the idea of an exclusionary Judeo Christian Enlightenment serves as an important revision to post 9 11 narratives about a historical clash between Western democratic values and Islam Shi'i Sectarianism in the Middle East Elisheva Machlis,2014-09-17 The eruption of violent sectarianism in Iraq following the US invasion in 2003 brought the question of Sunni Shi i relations in the country to the forefront of the international public agenda It also strengthened the popular belief that contemporary Shi ism is inherently sectarian Yet several decades earlier Ayatollah Khomeini had declared an Islamic revolution and downplayed its Shi i origins and links So what is the true orientation of Shi i Islam in the contemporary era and how did modernisation alter its sectarian affiliation This book contends that early Shi i reformist thought set the foundations for a more universal oriented Shi ism Prominent reformists in the first half of the twentieth century from the holy cities of Karbala and Najaf in Iraq and from the Shi i centres in Southern Lebanon played a significant role in the renewal of Shi ism and laid the groundwork for its reinvention in the modern era Exploring this shift towards a more ecumenical perception of Islam Elisheva Machlis here provides a fresh perspective on inter sectarian relations in contemporary Iraq and illuminates the intellectual roots of the Islamic revolution by examining networks of Shi i scholars such as Mu ammad usayn K shif al Ghi and Mu sin al Am n al mil operating within a more globalised Muslim world Drawing on the experiences of early Shi i reformists such as Abd al usayn Sharaf al D n al M saw in Lebanon and Mu ammad Jaw d Mughniyya in Damascus this book gives new insight on the future of inter Muslim relations at a time of growing inter sectarian contention from the Iran Iraq war to the post 2003 Sunni Shi i conflict in Iraq and al Qa ida s anti Shi i message taking into account questions of theology historiography jurisprudence and politics which all played a vital role in the transition to the contemporary era The author here analyses the broad scholarly connections between Iran Iraq and Lebanon in the twentieth century while debating paramount questions of leadership identity and group membership in the development of modern Shi ism Examining the relationship between intellectual thought and socio political development in the region this book provides a new perspective concerning the future of an increasingly globalised Muslim world and will prove essential reading for students and specialists Islam in West Africa Nehemia

Jane Hathaway presents a wide ranging reassessment of the effects of Ottoman rule on the Arab Lands of Egypt Greater Syria Iraq and Yemen the first of its kind in over forty years Challenging outmoded perceptions of this period as a demoralizing prelude to the rise of Arab nationalism and Arab nation states in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Hathaway depicts an era of immense social cultural economic and political change which helped to shape the foundations of today s modern Middle and Near East Taking full advantage of a wide range of Arabic and Ottoman primary sources she examines the changing fortunes of not only the political elite but also the broader population of merchants shopkeepers peasants tribal populations religious scholars women and ethnic and religious minorities who inhabited this diverse and volatile region With masterly concision and clarity Hathaway guides the reader through all the key current approaches to and debates surrounding Arab society during this period This is far more than just another political history it is a global study which offers an entirely new perspective on the era and region as a whole Shari'a and the Islamic State in 19th-Century Sudan Aharon Layish,2016-08-22 The Sudanese Mahd headed a millenarian revivalist reformist movement in Islam strongly inspired by Salaf and f ideas in late 19th century in an attempt to restore the Caliphate of the Prophet and Righteous Caliphs in Medina As the Successor of the Prophet the Mahd was conceived of as the political head of the Islamic state and its supreme religious authority On the basis of his legal opinions decisions proclamations and traditions attributed to him an attempt is made to reconstruct his legal methodology consisting of the Qur'n sunna and inspiration ilh'm derived from the Prophet and God its origins and its impact on Islamic legal doctrine and to assess his legislation as an instrument to promote his political social and moralistic agenda

Modern Things on Trial

Leor Halevi,2019-07-30 In cities awakening to global exchange under European imperial rule Muslims encountered all sorts of strange and wonderful new things synthetic toothbrushes toilet paper telegraphs railways gramophones brimmed hats tailored pants and lottery tickets The passage of these goods across cultural frontiers spurred passionate debates Realizing that these goods were changing religious practices and values proponents and critics wondered what to outlaw and what to permit In this book Leor Halevi tells the story of the Islamic trials of technological and commercial innovations of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries He focuses on the communications of an entrepreneurial Syrian interpreter of the shari'a named Rashid Rida who became a renowned reformer by responding to the demand for authoritative and authentic religious advice Upon migrating to Egypt Rida founded an Islamic magazine The Lighthouse which cultivated an educated prosperous readership within and beyond the British Empire To an audience eager to know if their scriptures sanctioned particular interactions with particular objects he preached the message that by rediscovering Islam's foundational spirit the global community of Muslims would thrive and realize modernity's religious and secular promises Through analysis of Rida's international correspondence Halevi argues that religious entanglements with new commodities and technologies were the driving forces behind local and global projects to reform the Islamic legal tradition Shedding light on culture commerce and consumption in Cairo and other colonial cities Modern Things on Trial is a groundbreaking account of Islam's material transformation in a globalizing era
