Canoe and Canvas offers a detailed portrait of the summer encampments of the American Canoe Association between 1880 and 1910. The encampments were annual events that attracted canoeing enthusiasts from both sides of the Canada-US border to socialize, race canoes and sleep under canvas. While the encampments were located away from cities, they were still subjected to urban logic and ways of living. The encampments thus offer a unique site for exploring cultures of sport and leisure in late Victorian society but also for considering the intersections between recreation and the politics of everyday life. A social history of sport. Canoe and Canvas is particularly concerned with how gender, class and race shaped the social, cultural and physical landscapes of the ACA encampments. Although there was an ever-expanding arena of opportunity for leisure and sport in the late nineteenth century, as the example of the ACA makes clear, not all were granted equal access. Most of the members of the American Canoe Association and the majority of the campers at the annual encampments were white middle-class men, though white women were extended partial membership in 1882 and in 1883 they were permitted to camp on site. Canoe and Canvas also reveals how Black Indigenous and working-class people, while obscured in the historical record, were indispensable to the smooth functioning of these events through their labour.

While these books are immediately accessible to the general reading public, they are manifestly works of high literary seriousness, substantial, technically masterful and assured, intricately interconnected and of great imaginative, intellectual and ethical weight. Among his many prizes and awards, Alex Miller has twice won the Miles Franklin Literary Award for The Ancestor Game in 1993 and Journey to the Stone Country in 2003, the Commonwealth Writers' prize also for The Ancestor Game in 1993 and the New South Wales Premier's Literary Awards Christina Stead Prize for Conditions of Faith in 2001 and Lovesong in 2011. He received a Centenary Medal in 2001 and the Melbourne Prize for Literature in 2012. In 2011, he was elected a Fellow of the Australian Academy of the Humanities. Having published his eleventh novel Coal Creek in 2013, which won the Victorian Premier's Fiction Award in 2014, Miller is currently writing an autobiographical memoir with the working title Horizons.
